

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL BRIEF

Midwives Registration Ordinance (Chapter 162)

MIDWIVES (REGISTRATION AND DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE) (AMENDMENT) REGULATION 2001

INTRODUCTION

On 4 June 2001, the Midwives Council of Hong Kong (the Council), in exercise of the power under section 23(3) of the Midwives Registration Ordinance (Cap. 162) and with the approval of the Secretary for Health and Welfare, made the Midwives (Registration and Disciplinary Procedure) (Amendment) Regulation 2001 at Annex.

BACKGROUND AND ARGUMENT

2. Training of midwives in Hong Kong is provided for in the Midwives (Registration and Disciplinary Procedure) Regulation. No course of training in midwifery shall be recognised by the Council unless it is carried out in an establishment declared by the Council as a training school for midwives. The Regulation also specifies the duration and syllabus of courses of training in midwifery.

3. Regulation 10(3) provides that a student midwife who is a registered nurse is required to undergo training for a continuous period of one year whereas other student midwives are required to undergo training of two years in order to qualify to practise in midwifery. The duration of the training courses are fixed, they cannot last longer than one year or two years, as the case may be. To meet the increasing demand for quality midwifery service, there are plans to provide enhanced midwifery training programs lasting up to 18 months to train registered nurses in midwifery. Amendment to regulation 10(3)(a) is required to allow the conduct of 18-month courses in addition to the existing one-year courses.

4. Moreover, the Council would like to take this opportunity to make similar amendment to regulation 10(3)(b) to allow the conduct of training courses lasting longer than 2 years for student midwives who are not registered nurses. This will allow the organisation of enhanced training courses in midwifery in future.

5. On the content of training courses, regulation 10(2)(e) provides that, where the student midwife concerned is required to take a 2-year training course, a course of training in midwifery shall include elementary anatomy, physiology, elementary principles of general nursing and hygiene. The Midwives Council has recently reviewed this provision. On the grounds that the Council draws up training syllabuses which are updated from time to time taking into account relevant needs and that a training school must first obtain the approval of the Council in accordance with regulation 10(2)(a) before amending the syllabus, the Council considers that it is not necessary to specify the detailed course requirements in the regulation and, accordingly, proposes to repeal regulation 10(2)(e).

THE REGULATION

6. The Midwives (Registration and Disciplinary Procedure) (Amendment) Regulation 2001 revises the training period for student midwives and removes the detailed course requirements in respect of 2-year training course in midwifery. The amendments will take effect upon gazettal.

7. Section 1(a) of the amendment Regulation repeals regulation 10(2)(e) so as to remove the requirement to include courses in elementary anatomy, physiology, elementary principles of general nursing and hygiene in a 2-year training course.

8. Section 1(b) of the amendment Regulation amends regulation 10(3)(a) and regulation 10(3)(b) regarding the duration of training courses in midwifery. Under the revised arrangements, a student midwife who is a registered nurse shall undergo training in midwifery for a continuous period of no less than one year whereas other student midwives shall undergo training in midwifery for a continuous period of no less than 2 years.
