People with disability living in private homes

According to the last paragraph on page 7 of the 2005 Rehabilitation Programme Plan Review Working Group Paper No. 9/2005, “the enrolment is about 600 people” referred to the overall enrolment that included all age groups. They were not all school-aged children with disabilities. According to the observation of the staff of the Social Welfare Department (SWD), majority of the residents of the private homes for the disabled were adults.

Information of private homes for people with disability

Through the liaison of SWD’s district staff, 21 private homes for people with disability are known to SWD. Their names and addresses are listed in Annex. Since these homes are private operations, they do not inform SWD of the personal profiles of their residents.
