Clerk to the Manpower Panel
Legislative Council

Dear Mrs Tong,

Panel on Manpower

Administration's response to the motion concerning minimum wage passed at the meeting on 4 November 2004

The Administration has asked the Labour Advisory Board (LAB) to study carefully the issues of a statutory minimum wage and maximum working hours. As a well-established tripartite consultative forum on labour matters involving employers, employees and the Government, the LAB is best placed to consider the matter. The LAB met on 3 December 2004 and had a useful initial discussion on the subject. It will continue to discuss the matter. Given the complexity and importance of the issues, it would not be appropriate to set a time limit on the LAB's deliberations.

Yours sincerely,
