16 January 2008

Clerk to Subcommittee on Review of the Comprehensive Social Security Assistance Scheme
(Attn: Miss Betty MA)
Legislative Council Building
8 Jackson Road
Central
Hong Kong

Dear Miss Ma,

Medical needs of elderly
Comprehensive Social Security Assistance recipients

In discussing the captioned subject at the meeting of the LegCo Subcommittee on review of the Comprehensive Social Security Assistance (CSSA) Scheme held on 25 June 2007, the Chairman requested the Administration to provide daily patient attendance of Chinese medicine clinics (CMCs), in particular the number of CSSA and non-CSSA elderly patients. The requested figures and other related information of Chinese medicine services are provided below:

- (a) Of the existing nine public CMCs, three came into operation in late 2003 and the remaining six were only commissioned in 2006 and early 2007. For the six new clinics, as they have yet to accumulate operation experience and establish their patient network in the local community, we do not yet have meaningful patient attendance statistics. On the basis of the first three CMCs which have been in operation for four years, the average daily patient attendance is in the range of about 80 to 140, of which about 21% of the attendance involved elderly patients and of these, around 32% are CSSA recipients.

- (b) Five additional new public CMCs will be set up by phases before the end of March 2009. By then, the total number of clinics will be increased to 14. The new clinics will be located in districts with a relatively high proportion of elderly population, including Eastern District, Shatin, Sham Shui Po, Wong Tai Sin and North District. Apart from public CMCs, there are many Chinese medicine clinics run by non-governmental organizations (NGOs) in various districts offering free or low-cost Chinese medicine services. These clinics have all along been catering for the needs of a large number of elderly patients for Chinese medicine services. For ease of reference, a list of public CMCs and those being operated by large or long-established NGOs is prepared at Annex.
- (c) The Government will be launching a health care voucher scheme in 2008-09 financial year to provide, five medical vouchers, each of $50 value, to the elderly aged 70 or above per year. This will provide an extra source of financial assistance for elderly patients who need Chinese medicine services.

(Miss Alice Lau)

for Secretary for Food and Health
