

FACT SHEET

Convention and exhibition facilities in selected places

1. Introduction

1.1 At its meeting held on 12 June 2007, the Panel on Commerce and Industry proposed to conduct an overseas duty visit to study the convention and exhibition facilities in selected places. The purpose of this fact sheet is to provide the Panel with some basic information on the convention and exhibition facilities in the cities of Los Angeles and Las Vegas of the United States (US), Barcelona of Spain, Hanover of Germany and Dubai of the United Arab Emirates⁽¹⁾.

2. City of Los Angeles of the United States

Background of the city	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Los Angeles is located in the state of California with an area of 1 215 sq km. It is the second most populated city in the US with a population of around 4 million people. • The economy of Los Angeles is driven by international trade, entertainment, aerospace, technology, fashion, apparel and tourism. Los Angeles is also an important manufacturing centre in the US.
Major convention and exhibition centre	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Los Angeles Convention Centre is one of the most efficiently designed and technologically advanced convention and exhibition facilities in the US⁽²⁾. • It generates economic benefits to the city through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) hosting over 350 events and attracting 2.5 million attendees annually; (b) creating 12 000 local jobs each year; and (c) generating over US$1 billion (HK$7.8 billion)⁽³⁾ annually through secondary client and visitor spending⁽⁴⁾.

Notes: (1) This fact sheet originally intended to study the convention and exhibition facilities in Savona of Italy. However, only scant information on such subject is available, as Savona has focused its economic development more on the cruise terminal business than on convention and exhibition facilities.

(2) See Los Angeles Convention Centre (2007).

(3) The calculation was based on the average exchange rate of HK$7.768 per US dollar in 2006.

(4) See Los Angeles Convention Centre (2006).
