Question : In regard to investment promotion undertaken by Mainland Offices, what are the respective actual expenditure, revised and original estimates for years from 2006 to 2008?

Asked by : Hon. SIN Chung-kai

Reply :

A major role of the Mainland Offices is to promote Hong Kong's many advantages as a trade, investment and business hub in the region, and to attract Mainland enterprises to invest in Hong Kong. The Investment Promotion Divisions of the Mainland Offices will identify potential Mainland companies in the areas that they cover; proactively approach and visit the companies identified to encourage them to invest in Hong Kong; provide free, one-stop information and consultation services; and help identify and match Mainland potential investors with business partners in Hong Kong. As commercial relations and investment promotion activities all aim to project and market Hong Kong's strengths, they complement each other. General promotion work conducted by the Investment Promotion Divisions also supports the Mainland Offices' work on liaison and economic and trade affairs.

2. The Mainland Offices' investment promotion work is an integral part of their roles and functions on economic and trade affairs. The expenditure involved cannot be singled out and is absorbed within the provisions under Programme (3). The actual expenditure, revised and original estimates of the Mainland Offices on liaison, economic and trade, and investment promotion affairs under Programme (3) from 2006 to 2008 are as follow:

Year	Original Estimates ($m)	Revised Estimates ($m)	Actual Expenditure ($m)
2006-07	88.1	76.0	77.0
2007-08	101.6	99.6	N.A.

Question : Has Invest Hong Kong provided any allocation to Mainland Offices to facilitate investment promotion? If yes, how much allocation has been given by Invest Hong Kong during the past three years?

Asked by : Hon. SIN Chung-kai

Reply :

On top of the general provision earmarked for the Mainland Offices to undertake liaison, economic and trade, and investment promotion work under Programme (3), Invest Hong Kong also provides additional allocation to the Mainland Offices to support their investment promotion work in the Mainland. The allocation involved for the purpose is $0.5 million for 2005-06, $1.1 million for 2006-07 and $2.4 million for 2007-08. Invest Hong Kong also works closely with the investment promotion teams in the four Mainland Offices and provides guidance and support to their work as appropriate.

Question : It is noted that one of the aims of the Mainland Offices is to "represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland".

1. What the Government has actually done last year to attain the above aim?
2. Which Mainland departments have been approached by the Government last year in a bid to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests? Which areas are involved?
3. Does the above work include the protection of legal rights of Hong Kong businessmen in the Mainland? If yes, what are the details?
4. What specific work will be taken by the Government to attain the above aim in the coming year?

Asked by : Hon. SIN Chung-kai

Reply :

One of the aims of the Mainland Offices in the economic and trade area is to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland. The Mainland Offices adopt a multi-pronged approach in taking this forward. They do so by organising trade missions, seminars and exhibitions for Hong Kong investors, as well as collecting and disseminating information on business information in the Mainland (including those relating to new laws and policies) to facilitate Hong Kong investors to understand the local business environment and establish their network in the Mainland. They also proactively approach Hong Kong investors and follow up issues of common concern through appropriate channels. For example, in 2007, the Mainland Offices organised a series of seminars and workshops on areas of interest among the Hong Kong investors, including those on the Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement, retail and commerce, financial services and new legislation and policies of the Mainland (such as the “Labour Contract Law” and processing trade policy). They also facilitated trade missions led by the Chief Executive to Jiangxi and Henan in January and April 2007, and trade missions to Hunan and Jiangxi led by the Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development in August and December 2007 etc.

2. The Mainland Offices also render assistance to Hong Kong residents who have met difficulties in the Mainland. In 2007, the Mainland Offices handled 51 cases relating to business and trade disputes, 66 cases relating to real estates complaints, and 153 cases relating to complaints against administrative, law enforcement and judicial agencies in the Mainland.

3. The relevant Mainland authorities which the Mainland Offices approach vary according to the nature of the work or individual case. For example, the Mainland Offices may approach the local Hong Kong and Macao Affairs Office on general liaison matters, the Commerce Department on commercial issues, and the Letters and Calls Department on complaint cases.

4. Looking forward, we will continue with the above efforts to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland in the coming year.

Question : How would the Government use the 2008-09 provision to promote Hong Kong's professional services in the Mainland, particularly those selected provinces, regions and municipalities directly under the Central Government, taking into consideration the potential for developing business opportunities between Hong Kong and the Mainland locations concerned and interests of the various sectors of the HKSAR? What is the expenditure in the respect?

Asked by : Hon. LEUNG Kwan-yuen, Andrew

Reply :

One of the aims of the Mainland Offices in the economic and trade area is to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland. The Mainland Offices adopt a multi-pronged approach in taking this forward. They do so by proactively approaching Hong Kong investors/practitioners in the places concerned and following up issues of common concern through appropriate channels; assisting Hong Kong investors/practitioners in obtaining information on business operation in the Mainland, particularly those relating to new laws and policies; and by assisting in arranging trade delegations to the Mainland etc.

2. As an integral part of the above work, opportunities will be taken in 2008-09 to incorporate the promotion of Hong Kong's professional services into the various activities to be launched by the Mainland Offices, including seminars, exhibitions, workshops and speeches as appropriate. The Mainland Offices will also explore opportunities to conduct activities targeted at the promotion of professional services matching the interests of the concerned professional sectors and the needs and circumstances of the selected provinces, regions and municipalities. Planned activities include seminars and workshops on Hong Kong's modern services (including those covered under the Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement), and trade missions to selected Mainland provinces/municipalities etc. The Mainland Offices will maintain close contact with the relevant professional sectors in Hong Kong during the process.

3. In 2008-09, a sum of $99.2 million has been earmarked under Programme (3) for the Mainland Offices to undertake liaison, economic and trade, and investment promotion work. The Mainland Offices' work in promoting Hong Kong's professional services in the Mainland is an integral part of the roles and functions of their work. The expenditure involved cannot be singled out and will be absorbed within the above provision of $99.2 million.

Question : What are the specific work on publicity and educational activities undertaken by the relevant authorities in 2007-08 and the expenditure involved? What is the estimated provision for such activities in 2008-09?

Asked by : Hon. LAU Wai-hing, Emily

Reply :

In 2007-08, the Equal Opportunities Commission (EOC) spent $5.2 million on publicity and training programmes. Major activities included :

- (i) media campaigns, including a television docu-drama series 2007 entitled "A Mission for Equal Opportunities", a radio programme known as "Equal Opportunities Diversity Project" and an announcement in the public interest on preventing pregnancy discrimination;
- (ii) plays and puppet shows on equal opportunities, the three anti-discrimination ordinances and diversity issues;
- (iii) a Career Challenge Mentorship Programme for secondary school students;
- (iv) dissemination of educational materials and publications, including a quarterly bilingual newsletter on EOC's work and case studies under the anti-discrimination ordinances, 10th Anniversary Commemorative Publication entitled "Advancing Equal Opportunities", online training module on Preventing Sexual Harassment on Campus and provision of information on equal opportunities through EOC's Online Resource Centre;

- (v) provision of financial support to 54 community projects under the Community Participation Funding Programme for organising activities to promote equal opportunities; and
- (vi) organisation of over 280 training courses and talks for both public and private organizations.

The estimated provision for EOC's publicity and training programmes in 2008-09 is about $5.4 million.

2. In 2007-08, the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data (PCPD) incurred $0.6 million on publicity and training programmes. Major activities included :

- (i) the Privacy Awareness Week 2007, a regional data privacy promotional event jointly launched with the privacy authorities of Australia and New Zealand;
- (ii) organisation of 12 seminars on "Introduction to the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance" for the general public and 66 seminars upon the request of organizations;
- (iii) organising workshops and experience sharing sessions for the Data Protection Officers' Club, a communication platform for data protection officers from both the public and private sectors;
- (iv) participation in the Education & Careers Expo 2008 with the objective of reminding job seekers of the need to protect their personal data; and
- (v) dissemination of publications, including PCPD's Annual Report, newsletters, guidance notes, information leaflets, consultation paper, etc.

PCPD plans to spend about $1.95 million on publicity and educational activities in 2008-09.

Question : Regarding requests for assistance handled in 2007, how did Mainland Offices handle cases of commercial dispute received? Please provide information, by offices, on the number of cases referred to the central authorities and local authorities, and also number of cases where assistance was not given.

Asked by : Hon. SIN Chung-kai

Reply :

The Mainland Offices have spared no effort to serve Hong Kong residents seeking assistance on Mainland-related matters by reflecting their views and requests to the relevant Mainland authorities. In 2007, they handled a total of 375 requests for assistance from the general public (other than those relating to immigration and personal safety matters). In general, the Mainland Offices would refer the cases of request for assistance to the relevant Mainland authorities. Some of the cases, such as those under judicial proceedings or involving private contractual disputes, or assistance sought by non-Hong Kong residents, might fall outside the scope of the established referral mechanism. Such requests would not be referred to the Mainland authorities and the Mainland Offices would explain to the assistance seekers of the reason(s).

2. Of the 375 cases of request for assistance handled by the Mainland Offices in 2007, 51 are related to business and trade disputes. A breakdown of these cases by the destination of first referral is given in the table below:

	Beijing Office	Guangdong ETO	Shanghai ETO	Chengdu ETO
Cases referred to Mainland central authorities	1	3	0	0
Cases referred to Mainland local authorities	7	9	0	8

Question : How effective are the Mainland Offices in assisting the HKSAR Government in putting forward initiatives on promotion of closer ties and co-operation with the Mainland in 2007-08? What is the expenditure involved? What is the specific assistance to be provided in 2008-09 in respect to these initiatives?

Asked by : Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

The existing network of Mainland Offices took shape with the establishment of the Shanghai and Chengdu Economic and Trade Offices, and the adjustment of the Beijing Office's area of coverage in September 2006. In 2007-08, the Mainland Offices had stepped up their efforts in forging closer liaison and working relations with their counterparts in the Mainland. Efforts made in this area include visits to host governments and trade organisations; cooperation with the above bodies in organising promotional, publicity and exchange activities; hosting activities to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the HKSAR, assisting in visits of HKSARG senior officials and trade missions to the Mainland; and facilitating HKSARG's participation in various major events held in the Mainland. The opportunities were taken to establish closer ties and relations with the host and participating Mainland authorities and organisations.

2. In 2007-08, a sum of $99.6 million has been earmarked under Programme (3) for the Mainland Offices to undertake liaison, economic and trade, and investment promotion work. The promotion of closer ties and co-operation with the Mainland is an integral part of Mainland Offices' roles and functions. The expenditure involved cannot be singled out and is absorbed within the above provision of $99.6 million.

3. In 2008-09, the Mainland Offices will continue with the above work to foster closer liaison and cooperation between Hong Kong and the Mainland.

- a. Regarding the three weekly radio programmes sponsored by the Beijing Office, please provide information on their names, content and number of audience, as well as the revised estimates in 2007-08 and the estimated expenditure in 2008-09.
 - b. What calculation method is employed to work out the audienceship of these three programmes?

Asked by : Hon. YEUNG Sum

Reply :

To enable Mainland residents to better understand Hong Kong and its latest developments, the Beijing Office sponsored three weekly radio programmes broadcast in different geographical areas for the purpose of reaching out to different target audiences. The programmes are “Beijing-Hong Kong Through Train”, “Tuning-in for Hong Kong” and “Exploring Hong Kong”.

2. “Beijing-Hong Kong Through Train”, co-produced with Voice of Huaxia channel of China National Radio since March 2001, covers southern China, including the Pearl River Delta region, Hong Kong and Macao. It is a half-hour programme broadcast mainly in Cantonese every Saturday. The programme covers various aspects about Hong Kong such as government policies, public services, the state of economy, culture and tourism. A rough estimate of the audienceship is 1.9 million each time when the programme is aired.

3. “Tuning-in for Hong Kong”, broadcast in Putonghua, is aired in nine provincial/municipal/autonomous regional radio stations in northern China, including Tianjin, Hebei, Henan, Inner Mongolia, Heilongjiang, Jilin, Liaoning, Shandong and Shanxi. The 10-minute programme, broadcast every Sunday, is co-produced with Voice of Huaxia channel of China National Radio starting September 2006. The content of the programme is wide ranging with the target audience being the public at large and the business sector. A rough estimate of the audienceship is over 9 million.

4. “Exploring Hong Kong” is a live programme broadcast in Putonghua throughout the Mainland every Friday. Co-produced with Voice of China channel of China National Radio since October 2006, the 10-minute programme is aimed at reaching out to the news conscious audience, as the programme is more news-oriented. A rough estimate of the audienceship is over 11 million.

5. The 2007-08 revised estimates for the three radio programmes is HK$4.23 million. The 2008-09 estimates is HK$4.5 million.

6. The audienceship data are provided by China National Radio, based on audienceship surveys conducted by them.

The Chief Executive announced in the 2007-08 Policy Address that the HKSAR will take early action in supporting the preparation of the National 12th Five-Year Plan under the principle of "One Country, Two Systems". The aim is to enable us to make more timely and effective contributions to the development of our country, and for Hong Kong to leverage on the latest developments in the Mainland to set the stage for our long-term development.

2. As part of the early preparatory work, efforts will be made in 2008-09 to enhance liaison and communication between the concerned bureaux/departments of the HKSARG and their Mainland counterparts through mutual visits and meetings etc. The HKSARG may also need to conduct research and studies on selected topics. The resources required for us to assist in taking forward this new initiative in 2008-09 will be absorbed within the operating expenditure envelope under Head 144.

Head 35 — Government Secretariat: Beijing Office will be subsumed under Head 144 — Government Secretariat: Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau with effect from 2008-09. As part of the arrangement, the following 17 civil service posts originally under Head 35 will also be transferred to Programme (3) of Head 144 :

- 3 Directorate Officers (i.e. Director, Deputy Director and Assistant Director of the Beijing Office);
- 1 Senior Administrative Officer;
- 1 Principal Trade Officer;
- 2 Trade Officers;
- 1 Chief Information Officer;

Question: It is noted that the HKSAR Government has set up four offices in the Mainland. With the exception of Beijing Office and Guangdong ETO, the newly established Chengdu and Shanghai ETOs have operated for one year. Please provide information on the progress of work of the two new ETOs in respect of publicity for Hong Kong, promotion of trade between Hong Kong and Mainland, and assistance rendered to Hong Kong residents. Regarding the 2008-09 provision, which area of work has been allocated a larger portion of resources? In particular, how are they going to promote Hong Kong's professional services sectors in the Mainland?

Asked by: Hon. WONG Ting-kwong

Reply :

The Shanghai ETO and Chengdu ETO were both established in September 2006. In 2007, these two new Mainland offices had proactively pursued their objectives to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland and attract investments to Hong Kong.

2. At the initial stage of their operation, the two offices had endeavoured to establish working relationship with the local authorities and trade organisations through visits and various activities to celebrate the establishment of the offices etc. During the year, the two offices also organised a series of activities to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the HKSAR and to showcase Hong Kong's various strengths and achievements. Opportunities were taken to integrate these activities with their work on economic and trade relations, and investment promotion to achieve synergy. Activities organised include roving exhibitions in 16 cities, cultural performances, film festivals, participation in local trade fairs, seminars on service industries, financial services etc.

3. The two new offices also spared no efforts in facilitating Hong Kong investors to tap into the business opportunities in the Mainland. They closely monitored major developments in the Mainland and assisted Hong Kong investors in collecting information on business operation in the Mainland, such as that relating to the processing trade policy. They also facilitated/organized a number of business delegations and trade seminars. For example, the Shanghai ETO organised three trade missions to Jiangsu and Zhejiang between March and July 2007, and facilitated a 30-strong creative industries delegation led by the Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development to take part in the “2007 Shanghai International Creative Industry Week” held in Shanghai in November 2007. The Chengdu ETO organised a series of seminars on Hong Kong’s service industries and Chinese medicine and facilitated a trade mission to Hunan on processing trade led by the Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development in August 2007, and a trade mission to Nanchong of Sichuan on processing trade in October 2007.

4. On investment promotion, the Investment Promotion Divisions of the Mainland Offices proactively reached out to interested Mainland enterprises to invest in Hong Kong, and helped them go through the necessary procedures. In 2007, the two offices pursued 70 projects and completed 13. During the year, they also handled a total of 62 requests for assistance from the general public (other than those relating to immigration and personal safety matters).

5. For 2008-09, the Shanghai ETO and Chengdu ETO will be allocated $23.7 million and $16.5 million respectively for their operation. They will continue to step up their efforts in all the above areas in the coming year. As an integral part of the above work, opportunities will be taken to incorporate the promotion of Hong Kong’s professional services into the various activities to be organized. Planned activities include exhibitions, seminars and workshops on Hong Kong’s service industries, and trade missions to Mainland provinces/municipalities etc. The Shanghai ETO and Chengdu ETO will maintain close contact with the relevant professional sectors in Hong Kong during the process.

Question : What are the work plans for promoting the Basic Law in 2008-09? Are there any new promotion strategies to be adopted in 2008-09? What is the expenditure involved?

Asked by : Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

With a view to further enhancing public understanding of the Basic Law, we have allocated $16 million in 2008-09 for promoting the Basic Law. We plan to organise various activities under the overarching theme of how Hong Kong, with the successful implementation of the “One Country, Two Systems”, has and may continue to contribute to the reform and opening up of the Country.

2. In 2008-09, we are going to adopt a three-pronged approach as our strategy in promoting the Basic Law:

- firstly, we will use the electronic media as our key publicity channel to cover a wider range of the general public. We will introduce the more macro and concrete aspects of the Basic Law, including the constitutional set up of the “One Country, Two Systems” and the relationship between the Central People’s Government and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. Planned activities include TV documentary, radio game show and Announcement of Public Interests;

- secondly, we will enhance the public awareness and understanding of the Basic Law in a lively and interactive manner through promotional activities at the district level, such as roving exhibitions and variety shows; and
- thirdly, we will strengthen the co-operation with community organisations in organising promotional activities, in order to reach out the various sectors and groups through the different community networks.

Question : Please elaborate on ways to promote public awareness and discussion on the method for selecting the Chief Executive and for forming the Legislative Council in 2012. In addition, please explain how to forge a consensus within the community. Are there any specific proposals and what is the expenditure involved?

Asked by : Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

The Chief Executive has appointed the Task Group on Constitutional Development under the Commission on Strategic Development to discuss the two electoral methods for 2012 within the framework set out in the Decision of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress. The Task Group, which comprises members from different sectors of the community, serves as an important forum to facilitate public discussion. All papers discussed by the Task Group are made public to facilitate discussion within the community. We hope that the Task Group will complete discussions around the middle of this year. Based on the Task Group's conclusions, we will consolidate options which may be considered for amending the two electoral methods for 2012 in the fourth quarter of this year, and conduct another round of public consultation as early as possible, with a view to forging consensus within the community.

2. One directorate officer at D2 level and one Administrative Officer are responsible for providing input and support to the Task Group. For budget planning purpose, we have set aside about $5 million in 2008-09 for consulting the public on the two electoral methods for 2012.

Asked by : Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

In 2008-09, the Government will continue to promote public awareness and respect for the rights of children. In particular, we will disseminate public education material on the provisions of the United Nation's Convention on the Rights of the Child. We will encourage community participation in promotion of public education on children's rights through the Children's Rights Education Funding Scheme. Moreover, we will sponsor dedicated projects, such as the Children's Council, which aim at fostering children's interest in public affairs. We will also continue to organise the Children's Rights Forum to provide a direct channel for exchange of views with children and to encourage them to express their views on matters concerning their welfare and development.

2. In 2008-09, the expenditure for promoting children's rights is estimated to be $ 1 million.

Asked by : Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

In 2008-09, we will continue to promote equal opportunities for people of different sexual orientation through the Gender Identity and Sexual Orientation Unit (the Unit) to foster a culture of mutual understanding and tolerance within the community by :

- (i) sponsoring worthwhile community projects through the Equal Opportunities (Sexual Orientation) Funding Scheme;
- (ii) maintaining a hotline for enquiries and complaints on issues relating to sexual orientation and gender identity; and
- (iii) organising other publicity and education programmes such as poster campaigns, broadcasting announcement in the public interest, and publication of promotional leaflets.

The estimated expenditure for these educational and publicity activities (including the staff cost of the Unit) is about $1.5 million.

Question : In the reply given to this Committee during the examination of the Estimates of Expenditure 2007-08, the Bureau promised to "continue to step up (our) cooperation with community organizations and provide sponsorship to Basic Law promotion activities organized by these organizations".

- (a) Please inform us of the community organizations which have secured sponsorship to organize Basic Law promotion activities in 2007-08. What were the amount of subsidy they received? What were the procedures and conditions of the sponsorship application?
- (b) Please give a breakdown of the specific work on Basic Law promotion and the expenditure involved in recent five years.

Asked by : Hon. LAU Wai-hing, Emily

Reply :

In 2007-08, we have allocated over $3 million to sponsor community organisations in organising Basic Law promotional activities on a project-based basis. Sponsored bodies included the Joint Committee for the Promotion of the Basic Law of Hong Kong, the National Education Centre and the One Country Two Systems Research Institute Limited. All of them are active and major organisations in promoting the Basic Law among the youth sector, educational sector, professional sector and the general public.

2. To provide a steer on the overall programme and strategy for promoting the Basic Law both locally and overseas, the Government established in January 1998 the Basic Law Promotion Steering Committee (BLPSC), which is chaired by the Chief Secretary for Administration. All sponsorship items would be reported to the BLPSC. We would assess the proposals based on individual merits of the promotional plans, cost-effectiveness, creativity, etc. We would also take into account the organisations' past experience and reputation in organising similar activities. All sponsored bodies are required to prudently observe relevant internal guidelines and submit periodic financial reports for vetting purposes.

3. During the past five years, the Government as a whole has allocated over $37 million (from 2003-04 to 2007-08) for the promotion of the Basic Law. Besides sponsoring community organisations in promoting the Basic Law, we have sought to enhance the public understanding over the fundamental principles in the Basic Law, e.g. "One Country, Two Systems", "Hong Kong people ruling Hong Kong" and a "high degree of autonomy" through a variety of channels in the past. For example, we have:

- produced various Announcement of Public Interests (APIs) introducing the concepts as contained in the Basic Law articles;
- made use of TV documentaries to introduce the historical background of the establishment of the HKSAR, the constitutional relationship between the Central People's Government and the HKSAR, as well as the successful implementation of the "One Country, Two System";
- organised quiz shows on TV and radio to promote understanding of the Basic Law in an interactive way;
- composed Basic Law theme songs and set up a Basic Law website to promote the Basic Law in a lively manner; and

- organised roving exhibitions at the district level and seminars by inviting renowned personalities as speakers with a view to presenting the content of and the in-depth concepts as enshrined in the Basic Law in an educational and informative manner. Promotional materials including leaflets were distributed.

Asked by: Hon. LAU Wai-hing, Emily

Reply:

To prepare for the 2008 Legislative Council (“LegCo”) Election, the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau (“CMAB”) is working closely with the Electoral Affairs Commission (“EAC”) on the necessary preparatory work, including the drafting of legislation relating to the election and review of various electoral arrangements. We are also co-ordinating Government-wide publicity efforts for the 2008 Voter Registration Campaign and the 2008 LegCo Election.

2. These tasks form an integral part of the Bureau’s election-related policy work in 2008-09 and are carried out by the existing staffing establishment of the Bureau.

3. The EAC has the statutory responsibility for the conduct and supervision of elections. The Registration and Electoral Office (“REO”) provides the EAC with the necessary support in conducting the 2008 LegCo Election. The costs for conducting the election will be met by the REO.

4. In 2004-05, the then Constitutional Affairs Bureau carried out preparatory work for the 2004 LegCo Election under similar arrangements.

Asked by : Hon. LAU Wai-hing, Emily

Reply :

The financial provision of Programme (2) for 2008-09 is 55.4% higher than the revised estimate for 2007-08 mainly due to the increased provisions for -

- (a) promotion of the Basic Law;
- (b) strengthening support services for Constitutional Affairs and related development; and
- (c) enhancing support for Mainland Affairs and other initiatives including the initial phase of preparing for the HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010 and complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan.

2. The details of work are as follows -

Question : The Financial Secretary suggested the setting up of four support service centres in different districts, on a trial basis, to provide interpretation services for ethnic minorities using health care services, job centres and social welfare facilities. Where are these centres located? What is the mode of operation? Are they jointly run by the Government and non-government organizations? The Financial Secretary has earmarked $16 million as the operating expenses of these centres for the coming year. In this regard, will such operating expenses become recurrent expenditure in future?

Asked by : Hon. CHAN Yuen-han

Reply :

The four support service centres will be established in strategic locations in the territory, especially in areas with high concentration of ethnic minority population. Our initial assessment is to provide two in the New Territories, one in Kowloon and one on Hong Kong Island.

2. The support service centres will be operated by non-governmental organisations (NGOs) with financial support from Government. We are now working out the implementation arrangements including the mode of operation which will suit the needs of the ethnic minorities requiring the services.

3. The Government has earmarked $16 million as the operating expenses of the centres for the coming year and $8 million as the subsidies for the start-up cost. The detailed funding arrangement and mechanism would be considered in the course of further planning for the establishment of the support service centres.

What is the estimated number of recipients? What is the mode of operation? Are they jointly run by the Government and non-government organizations?

Asked by : Hon. CHAN Yuen-han

Reply :

The support service centres will organize Chinese and English language courses and other activities. They are targetted at meeting the needs of the ethnic minorities population, especially those who are disadvantaged because of their education level, language barriers, lack of social network and other causes. Whilst there are approximately 342,000 ethnic minorities living in Hong Kong, their education level, language ability and circumstances do vary. The demand for the language courses and other community integration programmes will be assessed in the light of information gathered during the establishment of the support service centres and in the light of operational experience.

2. The support service centres will be operated by non-governmental organisations (NGOs) with financial support from Government. We are now working out the implementation arrangements including the mode of operation which will suit the needs of the ethnic minorities requiring the services.

Asked by : Hon. LEE Cheuk-yan

Reply :

We undertake a wide range of activities and measures to promote racial harmony in the community and equal opportunities for people of different races. These include operating a hot-line to answer enquiries and to handle complaints, subsidising non-governmental organisations to provide support services for ethnic minorities and organising talks and publicity to promote public understanding and respect for racial equality. In 2007-08, the total expenditure on these activities was $8.72 million.

2. In 2008-09, we will continue to undertake similar activities. The total expenditure involved is estimated to be $10.7 million. Reply :

The Government's activities in promoting public awareness of the rights of the individual are broadly targetted at all persons in Hong Kong, irrespective of their ethnic origin or the languages they speak. In the circumstance, we do not have separate breakdown for expenditure on promotion measures for non-Chinese speaking people specifically.

2. As far as our promotion work is concerned, publicity and public education materials are normally published and disseminated in both Chinese and English. Where special support measures are implemented for the benefit of specific ethnic groups, the relevant materials are translated into the languages they use. For example, we distribute a service guidebook for ethnic minorities, which is published in eight languages, namely English, Indonesian, Tagalog, Thai, Sinhalese, Hindi, Nepali and Urdu. The guide to using the enquiries and complaints hotline operated by the Race Relations Unit is distributed in Chinese, English, Thai, Indonesian, Nepali and Urdu. We also sponsor weekly radio programmes for ethnic minorities, which are aired in Urdu, Nepali, and Bahasa Indonesia.

Question: What was the number of researches on issues relevant to discrimination and equal opportunities conducted by the Government in 2007-08? What were their topics and expenditure involved? What is the number of researches on these issues to be undertaken by the Government in 2008-09? What are their topics and the respective estimated expenditure?

Asked by: Hon. LEE Cheuk-yan

Reply :

In 2007-08, the Equal Opportunities Commission (EOC) conducted two research studies on issues relating to discrimination and equal opportunities. These studies are expected to complete in mid-2008. The EOC plans to launch a new research study in 2008-09.

2. The topics and expenditure involved are as follows -

Year	Research Topic	Estimated expenditure ($)
2007-08	Study on Public Perception of Portrayal of Female Gender in the Hong Kong Media (commenced in 2006-07)	880,000
	Equal Opportunities Awareness Survey 2007	193,000
2008-09	Baseline Survey on Public Perception of Racial Tolerance in Hong Kong	800,000

Question : Regarding the co-ordination of liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong in 2007-08, please provide information on the details of work. What are the work programmes and estimated expenditure in 2008-09?

Asked by : Hon. LEUNG Kwok-hung

Reply :

The Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau coordinates the government's liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong under the framework of the "One China" policy and "Qian's Seven Principles". In 2007-08, we continued to strengthen our liaison and relations with the Taiwanese business sector, trade associations, fraternity associations and other Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong. In addition, we supported exchanges between Hong Kong and Taiwan with a view to enhancing understanding of the latest development of Hong Kong and the implementation of "One Country, Two Systems" through, among other means, briefing relevant incoming Taiwan visitors.

2. In the past few years, we have proactively liaised with a wide spectrum of sectors in Taiwan. We have received members of the Taiwan legislature, including those from Pan-Blue and Pan-Green camps. We have received officials at the county and city levels of Taiwan, including delegations led by the Mayor of Taichung city, the Taipei city council and other public institutions. We have also organised visit programmes for Taiwan media representatives, professional bodies, businessmen, students and academia. These initiatives have been helpful in enhancing understanding among different sectors in Taiwan on the implementation of “One Country, Two Systems” concept in Hong Kong.

3. In 2008-09, we will continue to co-ordinate liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong. Our major work will include –

- (a) liaising with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong on matters concerning the relations between Hong Kong and Taiwan;
- (b) advising and assisting other bureaux and departments on cultural, trade and economic exchanges with Taiwan; and
- (c) promoting exchanges between Hong Kong and Taiwan and facilitating relevant Taiwan visitors to understand the latest developments of Hong Kong and the implementation of “One Country, Two Systems”.

4. Under the supervision of senior management of this Bureau, one Directorate officer at D2 rank and an Administrative Officer are responsible, among other things, for the above mentioned liaison and coordination work in the Bureau.

Question : As mentioned under Matters Requiring Special Attention in 2008–09, the Bureau will promote wide discussion and strive to forge consensus within the community to work out the most appropriate methods for selecting the CE and for forming the Legislative Council in 2012. In this regard, what are the detailed work schedule and expenditure?

Asked by : Hon. LEUNG Kwok-hung

Reply :

The Task Group on Constitutional Development under the Commission on Strategic Development commenced discussion in February 2008 on the method for electing the Chief Executive and for forming the Legislative Council (LegCo) in 2012. The Task Group, which comprises members from different sectors of the community, serves as an important forum to facilitate public discussion. All papers discussed by the Task Group are made public to facilitate discussion within the community. Moreover, we will attend LegCo Panel meetings to listen to Members' views on the issue. This will help promote public discussion.

2. We hope that the Task Group will complete discussions around the middle of this year. Based on the Task Group's conclusions, we will consolidate options which may be considered for amending the two electoral methods for 2012 in the fourth quarter of this year, and conduct another round of public consultation as early as possible, with a view to forging consensus within the community.

3. One directorate officer at D2 level and one Administrative Officer are responsible for providing input and support to the Task Group. For budget planning purpose, we have also set aside about $5 million in 2008-09 for consulting the public on the two electoral methods for 2012.

Question : The financial provision for 2008-09 is 55.4% higher than that for 2007-08. What are the reasons for the increase? What are the main areas for the increase of provision?

Asked by : Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply :

The financial provision of Programme (2) for 2008-09 is 55.4% higher than the revised estimate for 2007-08 mainly due to the increased provisions for -

- (a) promotion of the Basic Law;
- (b) strengthening support services for Constitutional Affairs and related development; and
- (c) enhancing support for Mainland Affairs and other initiatives including the initial phase of preparing for the HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010 and complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan.

2. The main areas for the increase of provision are as follows -

- (a) Promotion of the Basic Law Producing TV-documentary, drama episodes, roving shows and carnivals
- (b) Constitutional Affairs and related development Providing input and support to the Task Group on Constitutional Development under the Commission on Strategic Development, conducting public consultation on the two electoral methods for 2012 and strengthening administrative support for smooth operation of the Bureau
- (c) Mainland Affairs Providing administrative and logistical support for and other

the HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010, enhancing liaison and communication with the relevant Mainland Authorities and conducting research/studies for complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan, strengthening support for Pan Pearl River Delta Co-operation, etc.

Question: How much resources will be earmarked for the 2008 Legislative Council Election? Please provide a breakdown. How much fund is allocated for conducting voter registration activities and for encouraging voters to cast their votes?

Asked by: Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply:

To prepare for the 2008 Legislative Council (“LegCo”) Election, the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau (“CMAB”) is working closely with the Electoral Affairs Commission (“EAC”) on the necessary preparatory work, including the drafting of legislation relating to the election and review of various electoral arrangements. We are also co-ordinating Government-wide publicity efforts for the 2008 Voter Registration Campaign and the 2008 LegCo Election.

2. These tasks form an integral part of the Bureau’s election-related policy work and are carried out by the existing staffing establishment of the Bureau.

3. The EAC has the statutory responsibility for the conduct and supervision of elections. The Registration and Electoral Office (“REO”) provides the EAC with the necessary support in conducting the 2008 LegCo Election. The costs for conducting the election will be met by the REO.

Head : 144 GS: Constitutional and

Subhead (No. & title) :

Programme : (3) Mainland Offices

Controlling Officer : Permanent Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Director of Bureau : Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Question: Despite the growing Mainland-Hong Kong trade and commercial ties, the increase in the financial provision for Mainland Offices under Programme (3) is only 1.2%, which is disproportionately smaller than the 100% and 50% increases for those of the Director of Bureau's Office and Programme (2) respectively. What are the reasons?

Asked by: Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply :

The financial provision for 2008-09 under Programme (1) is $5.6 million higher than the revised estimate of $5.3 million for 2007-08, representing an increase of 105.7%. It is mainly due to the increased provisions for salary and general departmental expenses arising from the creation of one position each of Under Secretary and Political Assistant as well as a post of Senior Personal Secretary.

2. For Programme (2), the provision for 2008-09 is $78 million, which is 55.4% higher than the revised estimate for 2007-08 of $50.2 million. It is mainly due to the increased provisions for enhancing promotion of the Basic Law, preparing the HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010, complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan, conducting public consultation on the two electoral methods for 2012 and creation of new posts to strengthen support for these initiatives.

3. With regard to Programme (3), the Mainland Offices had been given additional resources in 2007-08 to organise a series of events to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the HKSAR. In 2008-09, the allocation for the Mainland Offices is $120 million, representing an increase of 1.2% as compared with the 2007-08 revised estimate of $118.6 million. If we exclude the one-off funding for the 10th anniversary celebration events ($8.465 million) from the 2007-08 revised estimate, the increase in 2008-09 will in fact be 9%. Furthermore, it should be noted that the increased provision under Programme (2) in respect of the HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010 and complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan will also enhance our work in the Mainland Affairs.

Question : 2008 is the Olympic Year of China. Why the Administration has not made use of the opportunity to allocate additional provisions under Programme (3) so as to step up the promotion of Hong Kong's trade and commerce, and other areas in the Mainland?

Asked by : Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply :

The Mainland Offices adopt a multi-pronged approach in strengthening economic and trade liaison with the Mainland; enhancing their investment promotion function; and promoting Hong Kong as a reliable trading partner and a premier location for doing business. Opportunities will be taken to participate in the various 2008 Beijing Olympics related activities to be hosted by the Mainland counterparts with a view to complementing the event, and publicising the strengths and attractions of Hong Kong.

2. In 2008-09, the allocation for the Mainland Offices under Programme (3) will be further increased by 1.2% as compared with the 2007-08 revised estimate. This has taken into account the operational requirements of the Mainland Offices, having regard to factors such as opportunities arising from the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

Question: The Financial Secretary mentioned in paragraph 141 of the 2008-09 Budget that the Administration will provide $8m to set up and operate 4 support service centres for the ethnic minorities. Another $16m will also be earmarked for the operation of these centres for the coming year. In this regard, please advise this Committee on the following:

- (a) location of these 4 support service centres;
- (b) detailed arrangement for the setting up and operation of these centres;
- (c) the department responsible for the planning and implementation of the above financial arrangements;
- (d) whether non-government organisations or bodies will have access to the fund, venue or facilities of the centres to organise relevant activities or provide relevant services. If yes, please give details of the arrangement. If no, please provide reason.

Asked by: Hon. NG Margaret

Reply :

The four support service centres will be established in strategic locations in the territory, especially in areas with high concentration of ethnic minority population. Our initial plan is to provide two in the New Territories, one in Kowloon and one on Hong Kong Island.

2. The centres will be operated by non-governmental organisations (NGOs) with financial support from Government. We are now drawing up the relevant arrangements and will co-ordinate implementation of the project.

Question : The Administration plans to promote Hong Kong's professional services sectors in the Mainland, particularly those selected provinces/regions/municipalities. In this regard, please advise on the details of the programme and provide a breakdown of the expenses involved.

Asked by : Hon. TIEN Pei-chun, James

Reply :

One of the aims of the Mainland Offices in the economic and trade area is to represent and promote Hong Kong's trade and commercial interests in the Mainland. The Mainland Offices adopt a multi-pronged approach in taking this forward. They do so by proactively approaching Hong Kong investors/practitioners in the places concerned and following up issues of common concern through appropriate channels; assisting Hong Kong investors/practitioners in obtaining information on business operation in the Mainland, particularly those relating to new laws and policies; and by assisting in arranging trade delegations to the Mainland etc.

2. As an integral part of the above work, opportunities will be taken in 2008-09 to incorporate the promotion of Hong Kong's professional services into the various activities to be launched by the Mainland Offices, including seminars, exhibitions, workshops and speeches as appropriate. The Mainland Offices will also explore opportunities to conduct activities targeted at the promotion of professional services matching the interests of the concerned professional sectors and the needs and circumstances of the selected provinces, regions and municipalities. Planned activities include seminars and workshops on Hong Kong's modern services (including those covered under the Mainland and Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement), and trade missions to selected Mainland provinces/municipalities etc. The Mainland Offices will maintain close contact with the relevant professional sectors in Hong Kong during the process.

3. In 2008-09, a sum of $99.2 million has been earmarked under Programme (3) for the Mainland Offices to undertake liaison, economic and trade, and investment promotion work. The Mainland Offices' work in promoting Hong Kong's professional services in the Mainland is an integral part of the roles and functions of their work. The expenditure involved cannot be singled out and will be absorbed within the above provision of $99.2 million.

Question:

Has the Administration mapped out any plan in 2008 to facilitate further integration of Guangdong, Hong Kong and Macao, including the study on developing a Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao co-operation zone put forward by Guangdong recently? Has any arrangement been made to coordinate the work of various policy bureaux in this respect? What is the expenditure involved?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The Government of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) has all along attached importance to the co-operation relationship with Guangdong Province and Macao. The Governments of HKSAR and the Guangdong Province have jointly set up the Hong Kong/Guangdong Co-operation Joint Conference in 1998 to actively press ahead co-operation in all aspects.

2. The Governments of HKSAR and the Macao Special Administrative Region have also reached a consensus to further enhance co-operation and to establish liaison officer mechanism, in order to facilitate direct communication and exchanges between the corresponding departments of both sides, and to actively take forward the co-operation items.

3. The Chief Executive of HKSAR and the Party Secretary of Guangdong Province met in January and March 2008, to discuss further enhancement of Hong Kong/Guangdong co-operation. The Party Secretary indicated that Guangdong would wish to strengthen all aspects of Hong Kong/Guangdong co-operation with an innovative approach. The Guangdong Province has commenced studies on this issue. The relevant departments of the Government of HKSAR actively support the studies with a view to raising the level of Hong Kong/Guangdong co-operation and further achieving a "win-win" situation.

4. We have established the Mainland Affairs Liaison Office to take forward, amongst other issues, Hong Kong/Guangdong co-operation. Our Economic and Trade Office in Guangdong also covers this work.

5. In 2008-09, the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau has allocated around $1.4 million as departmental expenses for covering such expenditure in the co-operation activities with Guangdong and Macao.

What will be the specific plans and arrangements on coordinating liaison with Taiwan organisations in the HKSAR in 2008-09 and the expenditure involved?

Asked by : Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau coordinates the government's liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong under the framework of the "One China" policy and "Qian's Seven Principles". In 2007-08, we continued to strengthen our liaison and relations with the Taiwanese business sector, trade associations, fraternity associations and other Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong. In addition, we supported exchanges between Hong Kong and Taiwan with a view to enhancing understanding of the latest developments of Hong Kong and the implementation of "One Country, Two Systems" through, among other means, briefing relevant incoming Taiwan visitors.

2. These activities have helped to promote ties and exchanges between Hong Kong and Taiwan. For instance –

We have also organised visit programmes for Taiwan media representatives, professional bodies, businessmen, students and academia. These initiatives have been helpful in enhancing understanding among different sectors in Taiwan on the successful implementation of “One Country, Two Systems” in Hong Kong.

- (b) we have maintained liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong. This helps to promote mutual understanding and exchange; and
- (c) we have liaised with relevant Taiwan organizations in Hong Kong to handle specific matters smoothly, such as exchanges of information on food safety.

3. In 2008-09, we will continue to co-ordinate liaison with Taiwan organisations in Hong Kong. Our major work will include –

While the Equal Opportunities Commission (EOC) may in certain cases engage private legal practitioners for giving advice and for representing the complainants in court proceedings, the bulk of the work involved in providing legal assistance and for taking cases to court is absorbed by the staff in the Legal Service Division of the EOC. Question: How many large-scale events were hosted by the Equal Opportunities Commission in 2007-08? Please provide information on the expenses as well as the number of attendees with respect to each of the said events. How many of them involved the provision of sponsorship to participants from Mainland or overseas organisations? What were the expenses involved?

Asked by: Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The following large-scale events were hosted by the Equal Opportunities Commission in 2007-08 -

Event	Number of participants	Expenditure ($)
1. Seminar on "Our Ten Years under the Disability Discrimination Ordinance (DDO)"	250	$320,000
2. Finale of Equal Opportunities Diversity Project	Over 300	$13,000
3. Equal Opportunities Club: Three issue-related seminars	Over 200	$34,000
4. Career Challenge Mentorship Programme	500	$102,000
5. Public education on Equal Opportunities for school students	60,000	$950,000

2. Among these, only the Seminar on “Our Ten Years under the DDO” involved sponsorship for Mainland/overseas participants. Expenditure of $57,300 was incurred to cover the accommodation, transport and subsistence allowance in respect of the Mainland/overseas guests.

Question: Please provide details of the number and ranks of the staff and expenditure involved in handling the 402 enquiries/complaints on race relations received in 2007. Please also state the nature and progress of the cases. Has any provision been set aside in the estimate for 2008-09 for implementation of the Race Discrimination Ordinance after the passage of the Ordinance? If yes, please advise on the amount of the provision and a breakdown of the expenses involved. Please also specify the provision earmarked for carrying out public education and providing information to ethnic minorities, as well as the estimated additional staffing requirements and their ranks.

Asked by: Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The manning of the enquiry and complaints hotline is part of duties of the Race Relations Unit (RRU) which is responsible for organising activities and support services to promote racial harmony. We do not maintain a separate breakdown of the cost involved in handling the enquiries and complaints.

2. Of the 402 cases handled by the RRU in 2007, 387 were enquiries on the activities organised by the Unit and for information on public services. The remaining 15 were complaints alleging racial discrimination. Except for two complaint cases which are being processed, all the other 400 cases have been addressed and settled.

3. Under the Race Discrimination Bill, the Equal Opportunities Commission (EOC) will have responsibility for implementing the new legislation when enacted and for promoting equal opportunities and racial harmony. The Government has set aside funding of $6 million for preparatory work in anticipation of the passage of Bill. After enactment of the new ordinance, additional recurrent resources will be provided to EOC for it to perform its statutory functions. The amount of recurrent funding to the EOC, which is to be transferred from within CMAB's envelop, will be separately assessed.

Question : What is the estimated provision to be allocated by the Administration in 2008-09 to carry out educational measures to promote awareness of racial harmony and equality? Has any resources been earmarked for translating the relevant information in the languages of the ethnic minorities?

Asked by : Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

In 2008-09, the estimated provision for implementation of educational measures to promote awareness of racial harmony and equality is about $2.8 million.

2. In addition, there is financial provision in respect of other support services for ethnic minorities, for example, community support and development teams, language training classes, cross-cultural youth programmes, mobile information service at the airport and special radio programmes for ethnic minorities.

3. As far as our promotion work is concerned, publicity and public education materials are normally published and disseminated in both Chinese and English. Where special support measures are implemented for the benefit of specific ethnic groups, the relevant materials are translated into the languages of the target groups. For example, we distribute a service guidebook for ethnic minorities, which is published in eight languages, namely English, Indonesian, Tagalog, Thai, Sinhalese, Hindi, Nepali and Urdu. The guide to using the enquiries and complaints hotline operated by the Race Relations Unit is distributed in Chinese, English, Thai, Indonesian, Nepali and Urdu. We also sponsor weekly radio programmes for ethnic minorities, which are aired in Urdu, Nepali, and Bahasa Indonesia.

Question: With regard to the legislative programme and consultation of the Race Discrimination Bill by the Administration, what are the staffing and expenditure involved in 2005-06, 2006-07 and 2007-08? Apart from the Legislative Council, how many organizations have been consulted and how many times have they been consulted? How many consultations have been conducted with small and medium enterprises? Which ethnic groups have been consulted?

Asked by: Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The work involved in the legislative programme and consultation on the Race Discrimination Bill was undertaken as part of the duties of the staff in the Home Affairs Bureau and, after reorganisation of the Government Secretariat on 1 July 2007, the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau. We do not have separate statistics on the staffing and expenditure involved.

2. Prior to the introduction of the Race Discrimination Bill into the Legislative Council, the Government conducted an extensive public consultation from September 2004 to February 2005. From that consultation exercise, we received 240 written submissions from different sectors of the community. Government officials also attended 67 meetings, seminars, forums and briefings with different groups and organisations during the consultation period. The consultations covered different ethnic minority groups.

Question : Please provide the respective expenditure incurred by the Government and in subvention of non-government organizations or the private sector for promoting the rights of the individual in 2007-08. What is the amount of financial and manpower resources earmarked for public education in 2008-09?

Asked by : Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The Government undertakes a wide range of activities and measures for the promotion of the rights of the individual. These include publicity, public education, subsidising non-governmental organisations to provide support services and operating hotlines to respond to enquiries and to handle complaints. In 2007-08, the expenditure on these activities and measures, excluding personal emoluments, was about $13.4 million. Of this amount, $8.7 million was spent on sponsoring non-governmental and private organisations in promoting racial harmony and equality, children's rights and equal opportunities for people of different sexual orientation.

2. In 2008-09, the total expenditure on public education and promoting the rights of the individual, excluding personal emoluments, is estimated to be $13.7 million.

Asked by : Hon. Ho Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The requested information, in chronological order, is as follows -

2. The Second Report of the HKSAR under the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights was submitted as part of China's First Report to the United Nations (UN) in June 2003. The UN hearing, held on 27-29 April 2005 at the UN Office in Geneva, was attended by one Administrative Officer Staff Grade A1 (AOSGA1)(Acting), one Administrative Officer Staff Grade C (AOSGC), one Senior Administrative Officer (SAO) and one Principal Information Officer (PIO), one Law Officer (LO) and one Government Counsel (GC). The expenditure for their attendance was $176,476. There were also representatives from the then Health, Welfare and Food Bureau (HWFB), Social Welfare Department, Labour Department, and Housing Department, whose attendance were funded separately by their respective bureaux.

3. The First Report of the HKSAR under the Convention on the Rights of the Child was submitted as part of China's Second Report to the UN in June 2003. The UN hearing, held on 19-20 September 2005 at the UN Office in Geneva, was attended by one Administrative Officer Staff Grade B1, one SAO, one PIO, one Deputy Law Officer and one Senior Government Counsel. The expenditure for their attendance was $94,827. There were also representatives from the then Education and Manpower Bureau and HWFB, whose attendance were funded separately by their respective bureaux.

4. The Second Report of the HKSAR in the light of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights was submitted to the UN in January 2005. The UN hearing, held on 20-21 March 2006 at the UN headquarters in New York, was attended by one AOSGA1, one AOSGC, one SAO, one PIO, one LO and one GC. The expenditure for their attendance was $221,113. There were also representatives from the then Constitutional Affairs Bureau and Security Bureau, whose attendance were funded separately by their respective bureaux.

5. The Second Report of the HKSAR under the Convention Against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment was submitted as part of China's Fourth and Fifth Combined Reports to the UN in June 2006. We are given to understand that the UN hearing will likely be held in November 2008 at the UN Office in Geneva. We have earmarked $332,000 in 2008-09 to cover the expenses for attendance.

6. The Second Report of the HKSAR under the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination will be submitted as part of China's Tenth to Thirteenth Combined Reports shortly within 2008. The date and venue of hearing has yet to be scheduled by the UN.

Question : In the Budget, it is mentioned that more than $20 million will be earmarked to further promote the Basic Law throughout the community. In this regard, which department will be responsible for carrying out the promotion work? Which department is responsible for approving the use of the provision or what mechanism will be used? How long will the promotion work last?

Asked by : Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

Since the Reunification, we have been promoting the Basic Law through civic education, school education and training for civil servants. The Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau (CMAB) is the policy bureau responsible for coordinating the promotional efforts, with Home Affairs Bureau, Education Bureau and Civil Service Bureau etc. organising related promotional activities in their respective sectors within their own budget. Apart from the organisation of sectoral promotional activities by relevant bureaux, we have also allocated resources for sponsoring community organisations in organising Basic Law promotional activities on a project by project basis.

2. To provide a steer on the overall programme and strategy for promoting the Basic Law both locally and overseas, the Government established in January 1998 the Basic Law Promotion Steering Committee (BLPSC), which is chaired by the Chief Secretary for Administration. All government promotional activities and sponsorship items would be reported to the BLPSC. We would assess the sponsorship proposals based on individual merits of the promotional plans, cost-effectiveness and creativity etc. We would also take into account the organisations' past experience and reputation in organising similar activities. All sponsored bodies are required to prudently observe relevant internal guidelines and submit periodic financial reports for vetting purposes.

Question : The Immigration Divisions of the Beijing Office/Guangdong Economic and Trade Office handled 20,941 enquiries in 2007, 15% more than 2006. What is the nature of the enquiries? Please give a breakdown by categories of the cases. What were the difficulties in handling the cases? Will more resources be deployed to those offices as cross-border activities are increasing?

Asked by : Hon. CHAN Bernard

Reply :

The nature and number of enquiries handled by the Immigration Divisions of the Beijing Office and the Guangdong ETO in 2007 can be broadly classified as follows:

Nature of enquiries		Number of enquiries
1.	Matters relating to entry into Hong Kong (for visit, employment, investment, education, training, transit, residence, etc.) and related policies.	18,248
2.	Matters relating to the issue of Hong Kong identity cards and travel documents and related policies.	2,079
3.	Others (including checking progress of individual applications, enquiries about the address and website of the Hong Kong Immigration Department, information on cross boundary ambulance and funeral transport services, information for contacting Mainland legal professional bodies, enquiries on legal matters about detention and arrest in the Mainland)	614
Total:		20,941

2. Since the majority of enquiries concerned general immigration policies and matters, the Immigration Divisions of the Beijing Office and Guangdong ETO had not encountered particular difficulties in handling these enquiries in the past year. Notwithstanding the estimated increase in the number of enquiries, the two offices will endeavour to cope with the workload through streamlining of procedures and flexible deployment of existing resources. The relevant Mainland Offices will continue to promote the work of their Immigration Divisions in the Mainland, so as to enhance public understanding of their services.

Question: What is the establishment of the Beijing Office and the Guangdong, Shanghai and Chengdu ETOs for 2008-09? Are there any changes compared to that for 2007-08?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The establishment of the Beijing Office for 2008-09 will comprise 3 directorate officers (i.e. Director, Deputy Director and Assistant Director) and 14 non-directorate officers (i.e. 1 Senior Administrative Officer, 1 Principal Trade Officer, 2 Trade Officers, 1 Principal Immigration Officer, 1 Chief Immigration Officer, 3 Immigration Officers, 1 Chief Information Officer, 1 Information Officer, 1 Senior Executive Officer, 1 Executive Officer I and 1 Senior Personal Secretary). The office will be supported by 25 locally-engaged staff to assist in various duties.

2. The establishment of the Guangdong ETO for 2008-09 will comprise 1 directorate officer and 11 non-directorate officers (i.e. 1 Senior Administrative Officer, 2 Principal Trade Officer, 3 Trade Officers, 1 Principal Immigration Officer, 1 Chief Immigration Officer, 2 Immigration Officers and 1 Principal Information Officer). The office will be supported by 19 locally-engaged staff to assist in various duties.

3. The establishment of the Shanghai ETO in 2008-09 will comprise 1 directorate officer and 6 non-directorate officers (i.e. 1 Senior Administrative Officer, 1 Principal Trade Officer, 2 Trade Officers, 1 Senior Information Officer and 1 two-year time-limited Executive Officer I which will lapse in July 2008). The office will be supported by 9 locally-engaged staff to assist in various duties.

4. The establishment of the Chengdu ETO in 2008-09 will comprise 1 directorate officer and 5 non-directorate officers (i.e. 1 Senior Administrative Officer, 2 Trade Officers, 1 Senior Information Officer and 1 two-year time-limited Executive Officer I which will lapse in July 2008). The office will be supported by 8 locally-engaged staff to assist in various duties.

5. Other than the two time-limited Executive Officer I posts in Shanghai and Chengdu ETOs mentioned above, which will lapse in July 2008, the establishment of the Mainland Offices for 2008-09 will remain the same as that for 2007-08.

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

Head 35 — Government Secretariat: Beijing Office will be subsumed under Head 144 — Government Secretariat: Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau with effect from 2008-09. The following 17 civil service posts originally under Head 35 will be transferred to Programme (3) of Head 144 :

- 3 Directorate Officers (i.e. Director, Deputy Director and Assistant Director of the Beijing Office);
- 1 Senior Administrative Officer;
- 1 Principal Trade Officer;
- 2 Trade Officers;
- 1 Chief Information Officer;
- 1 Information Officer;
- 1 Principal Immigration Officer;
- 1 Chief Immigration Officer;
- 3 Immigration Officers;
- 1 Senior Executive Officer;
- 1 Executive Officer I; and
- 1 Senior Personal Secretary.

2. Two two-year time-limited Executive Officer I posts created in July 2006 under the Economic and Trade Offices in Shanghai and Chengdu will lapse in end July 2008. Taken together, there will be a net increase of 15 civil service posts under Programme (3) of Head 144 in 2008-09.

3. Question: There is a substantial increase in all the performance indicators for BJO and the ETOs in Guangdong, Shanghai and Chengdu in 2008-09. Why the provisions under this programme are not increased accordingly? What are the respective financial provisions for these 4 offices in 2008-09?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

In order to achieve more efficient administration and better resource management of the four HKSAR offices in the Mainland, Head 35: Beijing Office will be subsumed under Head 144: Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau with effect from 2008-09. As a result, the key performance indicators for Mainland Offices in 2008 are standardised to cover the work of all the four HKSAR Offices in the Mainland, including that of the Beijing Office. The performance indicators for 2007 only include those of the Guangdong, Shanghai and Chengdu ETOs, as the work of the Beijing Office then were reported in a different format under Head 35.

2. In 2008-09, the allocation for the Mainland Offices under Programme (3) is $120 million, representing an increase of 1.2% as compared with the 2007-08 revised estimates. We have earmarked $45.8 million for the Beijing Office, $34.0 million for the Guangdong ETO, $23.7 million for the Shanghai ETO, and $16.5 million for the Chengdu ETO. The Mainland Offices will adopt a multi-pronged approach and flexibly deploy their resources to take forward their work in the coming year.

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

With effect from 2008-09, Head 35 — Government Secretariat: Beijing Office will be subsumed under Head 144 — Government Secretariat: Constitutional and Mainland Affairs. The estimated number of projects to be pursued by the Mainland Offices will be increased by 89 projects compared with the 146 actual projects completed by the Guangdong, Shanghai and Chengdu ETOs in 2007 to reflect the caseload of the Beijing Office, and the enhanced efforts of the Mainland Offices.

2. In 2008-09, the Mainland Offices will continue to strengthen investment promotion efforts in the Mainland in collaboration with Invest Hong Kong (InvestHK). They will continue to actively carry out investment promotion activities to attract Mainland enterprises to establish or expand operations in Hong Kong. Such promotion activities will include companies visits, seminars, workshops, advertising and publicity campaigns, and supporting a three-year nationwide marketing campaign launched in 2007 by InvestHK targeting privately-owned Mainland companies.

Question: Under Matters Requiring Special Attention in 2008-09, please provide details of on-going administrative and educational measures to promote awareness of racial harmony and equality. How much provisions will be allocated for these measures?

Asked by: Hon. YOUNG Howard

Reply :

The on-going administrative and educational measures to promote public awareness of racial harmony and equality will include operation of the enquiry and complaints hotline, funding of promotional projects under the Equal Opportunities (Race) Funding Scheme, school talks and briefings for non-governmental organisations, distribution of information material and teaching kits, as well as the organisation of exhibition to foster public understanding and appreciation of ethnic minority cultures.

2. The total expenditure involved for these public awareness promotion measures in 2008-09 is estimated to be $2.8 million.

3. In addition, we will continue to undertake measures to provide support services for ethnic minorities, for example, community support and development teams, language training classes, cross-cultural youth programmes, mobile information service at the airport and special radio programmes for ethnic minorities. We have also earmarked $16 million as the operating expenses and $8 million for subsidising the start up cost for four support service centres for ethnic minorities in 2008-09 which will provide, on a trial basis, interpretation service, language courses and other community integration programmes for ethnic minorities.

Programme : (2) Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Controlling Officer : Permanent Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Director of Bureau : Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Question: Did the Government (including Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau, Central Policy Unit, etc.) conduct any research studies or opinion surveys on constitutional development, District Council elections, Legislative Council elections and the related matters of Hong Kong in 2003-07, and whether any such researches or surveys will be conducted in 2008-09? If yes, please provide the details in the following format:

Authority in charge (government / consultant / academic institution)	Research topic and description	Consultant fee incurred / Number of public officers involved and their duties	Progress of study (planning / underway / completed)	Whether research results will be made public? If yes, the channels of publication and if not, the reasons.

Asked by: Hon. KWOK Ka-ki

Reply :

As far as Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau (CMAB) is concerned, prior to the release of its Fifth Report, the Constitutional Development Task Force commissioned an opinion poll in September 2005 on the package of proposals on the method for electing the Chief Executive in 2007 and for forming the Legislative Council in 2008 to ascertain the level of public support for, and acceptance of, the major elements of the package. The results of the poll were published in the Report.

2. As to whether an opinion poll will be conducted in connection with the review of the Chief Executive and Legislative Council electoral methods in 2012, CMAB has not taken any decision at this stage.

3. The Central Policy Unit regularly commissions academic and commercial research institutes to conduct opinion polls on different public policy issues. The findings are for Government's internal reference.

Question: Please provide a breakdown by causes of the number of cases of Hong Kong residents requesting assistance received by the Beijing Office and Guangdong ETOs. How did the ETOs handle these cases and what were the resources involved? Please provide a breakdown by causes of the percentage of the cases resolved successfully?

Asked by: Hon. LAU Chin-shek

Reply :

Immigration Divisions are set up under the Beijing Office (BJO) and Guangdong Economic and Trade Office (GDETO) and are tasked, among other duties, to provide practicable assistance to Hong Kong residents in distress. There are five Immigration Officer posts in BJO (supported by five local staff) and four in GDETO (supported by one local staff). For 2007-2008, the revised estimate for the Immigration Divisions of BJO and GDETO is $12.1 million and $6.6 million respectively.

2. Assistance rendered by the Immigration Divisions of BJO and GDETO usually covers the following scenarios:

- (a) Loss of travel documents or monies: Verifying the identity of the concerned Hong Kong residents who have lost their travel documents and facilitating their early return to Hong Kong. The Divisions will also contact the family of the concerned Hong Kong residents where necessary. There were 84 such cases for BJO and 5 cases for GDETO in 2007.
- (b) Accidents, injuries and decease cases: Providing practicable assistance to the concerned assistance seekers and their families, including:
 - (i) notifying, as soon as possible, relatives of the parties concerned;

- (ii) contacting family/travel agencies to arrange for the early return of the injured persons to Hong Kong for treatment;
- (iii) facilitating the entry of the injured persons at control points back to Hong Kong;
- (iv) if medical treatment is required in the Mainland, and where practicable, providing information on medical services available for reference; and
- (v) assisting family members of the deceased in completing the application procedures for death certificates and for transporting the bodies back to Hong Kong.

There were 122 such cases for BJO and 107 cases for GDETO in 2007.

- (c) Arrest or Detention: The Divisions will gather details of the case from the assistance seekers (usually family members of the concerned Hong Kong resident) and explain to them the relevant Mainland laws, regulations and procedures for criminal cases under different stages of investigation, prosecution, trial or imprisonment, etc. They will also advise the assistance seekers that they may appoint Mainland lawyers as their legal representatives. Where required, the Divisions can provide the assistance seekers with the relevant contact details of law societies in the concerned provinces/region under its coverage, so that the assistance seekers may consider seeking appropriate legal representation. At the request of the assistance seekers, the Divisions will pass on and reflect their views and requests to the relevant Mainland authorities and provide them with relevant information for reference (e.g. the rights and obligations of a person under detention) according to the development of the case. There were 28 such cases for BJO and 37 cases for GDETO in 2007.

3. Some of the cases involved follow-up actions over a period of time. As the nature of the cases varies, it is not practicable to compile a success rate. The Immigration Divisions of both BJO and GDETO will diligently attend to each case and provide timely and practicable assistance and follow up as appropriate.

Question : Please specify the plans on organizing publicity activities for the promotion of the Basic Law in 2008-09. What is the estimated expenditure for these activities?

Asked by : Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

With a view to further enhancing public understanding of the Basic Law, the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau has earmarked $16 million in 2008-09 for promoting the Basic Law. We plan to organise various activities under the overarching theme of how Hong Kong, with the successful implementation of the “One Country, Two Systems”, has and may continue to contribute to the reform and opening up of the Country.

2. In 2008-09, we are going to adopt a three-pronged approach as our strategy in promoting the Basic Law:

- firstly, we will use the electronic media as our key publicity channel to the general public. We will introduce the more macro and concrete aspects of the Basic Law to the general public, including the principle of the “One Country, Two Systems” and the relationship between the Central People’s Government and the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. Planned activities include TV documentary, radio game show and Announcement of Public Interests;

- secondly, we will enhance the public awareness and understanding of the Basic Law in a lively and interactive manner through promotional activities at the district level, such as roving exhibitions and variety shows; and
- thirdly, we will strengthen co-operation with community organisations in organising promotional activities, in order to reach out to the community of the different sectors.

Question : What is the amount set aside for the World Exposition Shanghai China 2010 and the 12th Five-Year Plan in 2008-09 respectively? Please specify the items in these two projects?

Asked by : Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The Chief Executive announced in the 2007-08 Policy Address that the HKSAR will take early action in supporting the preparation of the National 12th Five-Year Plan under the principle of "One Country, Two Systems". The aim is to enable us to make more timely and effective contributions to the development of our country, and for Hong Kong to leverage on the latest developments of the Mainland to set the stage for our long-term development. As part of the early preparatory work, efforts will be made in 2008-09 to enhance liaison and communication between the concerned bureaux/departments of the HKSARG and their Mainland counterparts through mutual visits and meetings etc. The HKSARG may also need to conduct research and studies on selected topics. The resources required for us to assist in taking forward this new initiative in 2008-09 will be absorbed within the operating expenditure envelope under Head 144.

2. World Expo 2010 Shanghai will provide an excellent opportunity for us to publicise Hong Kong as a city of quality living and creativity. The HKSAR Government intends to take part in the event and construct a stand-alone Hong Kong Pavilion in Shanghai. Apart from this, the HKSAR Government also intends to participate in a full range of related activities, including the Urban Best Practices Area exhibition, World Expo seminars, Internet World Expo, Hong Kong Week, parades and cultural performances. At the initial stage, we will create one time-limited post each of Chief Executive Officer and Architect to support the project. We have also earmarked $69 million (at September 2007 prices) for designing and constructing the Hong Kong Pavilion. Apart from these costs, additional expenditure will also be incurred for various exhibitions and related activities such as the software component and running cost of the Hong Kong Pavilion, performances and ancillary events. The exact financial implications are being assessed and the necessary funding approval by LegCo will be sought in due course.

Question: Please inform this Committee the estimated expenditure and actual plans on promotional activities against racial discrimination in 2008-09.

Asked by: Hon. NG Margaret

Reply :

We will undertake a wide range of activities and measures to promote racial harmony and the elimination of racial discrimination. These include operating a hot-line to answer enquiries and to handle complaints, subsidising non-governmental organisations to provide support services for ethnic minorities and organising talks and publicity to promote public understanding and respect for racial equality. In 2008-09, the total expenditure on these activities is estimated to be $10.7 million.

In addition, we will set up, on a trial basis, four support service centres in different districts to provide interpretation services for ethnic minorities using health care services, job centres and social welfare facilities. These centres will also organise Chinese and English language courses and other activities to help ethnic minorities integrate into the community. We will earmark $16 million as the operating expenses for these centres in 2008-09 and allocate an additional $8 million to subsidise their start up cost.

Director of Bureau : Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Question: The budgetary expenditure of the Director of Bureau's Office in 2008-09 more than doubled (+105.7%) the expenditure in 2007-08. This is mainly due to the support services provided to the newly created posts of Under Secretary and Political Assistant. When will the new arrangement be implemented? What are the detail duties of these new posts in the Bureau? Will their duties overlap with the Government Information Services? What will be the resources required?

Asked by: Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply :

The positions of Under Secretary and Political Assistant will be created with effect from 1 April 2008.

2. The Under Secretary is responsible principally for assisting Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs ("the Secretary") in undertaking the full range of political work (including the handling of LegCo business) and deputising for the Secretary during the latter's temporary absence. He will normally attend regular meetings of the relevant LegCo panel, as assigned by the Secretary.

3. The Political Assistant is mainly responsible for providing political support and input to Secretary, and to conduct the necessary political liaison on the instruction of the latter.

4. The duties for the Under Secretary and Political Assistant are different from the functions of Government Information Services, which is responsible for publicising and promoting the policies, actions and services of the Government to the public in Hong Kong and the wider community abroad.

5. The provision for salary and general departmental expenses arising from the creation of the positions of Under Secretary and Political Assistant in 2008-09 is about $5.5 million.

Programme : (5) Subvention: Equal Opportunities Commission and Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data

Controlling Officer : Permanent Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Director of Bureau : Secretary for Constitutional and Mainland Affairs

Question:

In the Estimate for 2008-09, there is a substantial increase in the provisions under Director of Bureau's Office (Programme 1) and Constitutional and Mainland Affairs (Programme 2) while the provision under Programme 5 remains unchanged. What is the reason? Has the Administration learnt a lesson from the sex photo scandal earlier this year and started to do more on the education of personal data and privacy protection and amendment of the legislations concerned?

Asked by: Hon. CHAN FANG On-sang, Anson

Reply :

The increased provision for 2008-09 under Programme 1 is mainly due to the salary and general departmental expenses arising from the creation of one position each of Under Secretary and Political Assistant as well as a post of Senior Personal Secretary.

2. For Programme 2, the increased provision is mainly for enhancing promotion of the Basic Law, preparing HKSAR's participation in the Expo Shanghai 2010, complementing the Nation's 12th Five-Year Plan, conducting public consultation on the two electoral methods for 2012 and the creation of new posts to strengthen support for these initiatives.

3. In 2008-09, the estimate for Programme 5 is $112.6 million. This is in fact 2.6% higher than the revised estimate for 2007-08. Of this figure, we have proposed to allocate $39.1 million to the Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data (PCPD), representing an increase of $2.8 million (7.7%) over that of 2007-08, for stepping up enforcement of the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance (PDPO) and organising programmes to enhance public awareness of personal data protection. The increased financial provision includes $1 million for PCPD to step up publicity and education programmes in 2008-09.

4. We are also conducting a comprehensive review of the PDPO jointly with PCPD to examine, among other things, whether the existing provisions of the Ordinance still afford adequate protection to personal data having regard to developments, including advancement in technology, in the last decade.

Asked by: Hon. HO Chun-yan, Albert

Reply :

The four support service centres will be established in strategic locations in the territory, especially in areas with high concentration of ethnic minority population. Our initial plan is to provide two in the New Territories, one in Kowloon and one on Hong Kong Island.

2. The support service centres will be operated by non-governmental organisations (NGOs) with financial support from Government. We are now drawing up the relevant arrangements including the mode of operation which will suit the needs of the ethnic minorities requiring the services.

3. We have earmarked $16 million as the operating expenses for 2008-09 on a trial basis. The funding will be administered by the Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau.

Question: Will the Registration and Electoral Office monitor the exit polls conducted by different institutions and ensure that these institutions will not claim themselves to be other organizations. If yes, what will be the expenditure involved?

Asked by: Hon. TONG Ka-wah, Ronny

Reply :

The Registration and Electoral Office (“REO”) monitors the conduct of exit polls in accordance with the relevant Guidelines on Election-related Activities (“Guidelines”). Under the existing Guidelines:

- (a) a list of the persons or organisations allowed to conduct exit polls will be made available to the public prior to the polling day for reference by the public and the candidates. The list will also be displayed at the concerned polling stations; and
- (b) interviewers are required to wear a badge bearing the name of the organisation allowed to conduct the exit poll. Any interviewers not wearing the said badges will not be allowed to conduct the exit poll.

2. In light of experience gained in the 2007 District Council Election and the Legislative Council Hong Kong Island Geographical Constituency By-election, the Electoral Affairs Commission (“EAC”) has recommended that:

- (a) the exit poll interviewers should be reminded that they must wear their identification badges issued by the REO;
- (b) the REO should make use of appropriate publicity channels to remind electors that the exit polls are neither conducted by the EAC nor the Government; and

(c) the Guidelines should be reviewed to consider the possibility of providing greater transparency on the details and particulars of the organisations which had obtained approval to conduct exit polls. The name and telephone number of the organisations should be placed on REO's website for public information.

3. The EAC will shortly consult the public on its proposed amendments to the Guidelines. The REO will absorb the cost of enforcing the guidelines within its existing provision.

Question: In 2008-09, the Registration and Electoral Office will delete 35 non-directorate posts after the completion of the Legislative Council Election. In this connection, will the Government please inform this Committee of:

- a. the arrangement for those non-directorate post-holders after the deletion of the posts;
- b. the savings that can be achieved after the deletion of those 35 posts;
- c. the details of the duties of those 35 posts.

Asked by: Hon. KWONG Chi-kin

Reply :

- a. There will be a net deletion of 35 non-directorate posts after the completion of the 2008 Legislative Council Election. The staff concerned will be posted to other government departments by the respective Heads of Grade.
- b. These 35 non-directorate posts are time-limited posts created with provision given for a specified period and are scheduled to be deleted in 2008-09. There will be no provision for these posts in subsequent financial years after their deletion in 2008-09.
- c. The major duties of these 35 posts are to assist in the preparation and conduct of the 2008 Legislative Council Election, including:
 - (i) to prepare proposed amendments to the subsidiary legislation on electoral procedures;

Question: During 2008-09, the Administration will continue to encourage public participation in territory-wide elections. Please inform this Committee of the following:

- (1) What is the expenditure involved in the work in 2007-08 and 2008-09 respectively?
- (2) What are the specific measures to encourage public participation in territory-wide elections? Has the Administration assessed the effectiveness of these measures?

Asked by: Hon. LAU Wai-hing, Emily

Reply :

- (1) In order to encourage eligible persons to register as voters and to call upon voters to cast their votes, the Registration and Electoral Office ("REO") spent $14 million for the publicity of the 2007 District Council ("DC") election in 2007-08. The estimated expenditure for the publicity of the 2008 Legislative Council ("LegCo") election in 2008-09 is $45 million.
- (2) Before each major election, an inter-departmental task group comprising members from Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau, Information Services Department, Radio Television Hong Kong, Home Affairs Department, Independent Commission Against Corruption and REO will be set up to formulate publicity strategy and coordinate publicity activities. Publicity measures include television and radio announcements of public interest, posters and outdoor giant banners, lamppost buntings, public transport advertisements, roving exhibitions, bus parades, television and radio programmes, websites and pamphlets.

We do gauge the effectiveness of the various publicity measures when an election publicity campaign is launched. Through the publicity campaign, 144 837 new voters were registered and 288 351 registered voters updated their registration information in 2007-08. Besides, the increase in the number of DC election candidates from 837 in 2003 to 907 in 2007, together with the upsurge in the number of voters from 1.06 million in 2003 to 1.14 million in 2007 proved that public participation in elections has been enhanced.

Question: In 2008-09, the Registration and Electoral Office will have a net reduction of 35 posts after the completion of the Legislative Council Election. What are the duties of the posts and the expenditure involved?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The major duties of these 35 posts are to assist in the preparation and conduct of the 2008 Legislative Council Election, including:-

- (i) to prepare proposed amendments the subsidiary legislation on electoral procedures;
- (ii) to conduct the 2008 voter registration exercise;
- (iii) to arrange publicity activities for the election;

Question: Please specify the plans for the promotion and conduct of the voter registration exercise in 2008-09 and the expenditure involved. How many new voters are expected to register?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

This year's voter registration campaign will last for 6 weeks from early April till 16 May. An inter-departmental working group has been set up to draw up details for the voter registration campaign.

2. During the voter registration campaign period, we will launch a series of publicity measures, including a launching ceremony, television and radio announcements of public interests, placing of banners, lamppost buntings and posters, placing of advertisements on newspapers in MTR stations, on buses, trams and taxis, as well as a dedicated website set up for voter registration.

3. Voter registration counters will also be set up in higher education institutions, Registration of Persons' Offices and at locations with heavy pedestrian flow. To facilitate and encourage eligible voters to get registered, we will conduct visits to new residential developments with intake in recent years and send appeal letters to eligible functional constituency electors and the umbrella organizations.

4. A provision of $33 million has been earmarked for the 2008 voter registration exercise to cover expenses including the above publicity measures and processing of registration forms received for the compilation and publication of the provisional and final registers.

5. As stated in the draft Estimates, we aim to register 150,000 new electors.

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

A total of $294.5 million has been included in the 2008-09 draft estimate for the preparation and conduct of the 2008 Legislative Council ("LegCo") election. The provisions will mainly be used for the engagement of civil servants and non-civil service contract staff, launching of publicity programmes, making of logistics arrangements and payment of financial assistance to eligible candidates. A breakdown is as follows-

For preparation and conduct of the 2008 LegCo election	$ Million
(1) Staff Cost	60.3
(2) Publicity	45
(3) Other Expenses (including the costs for conducting public consultation, electoral arrangements such as hire of venue, honorarium for polling and counting staff, Financial Assistance Scheme, transportation, postage, free mailing and printing, etc.)	189.2

Question: For the years 2006-07 and 2007-08, how many telephone enquiries concerning electoral arrangements were answered and how many staff were deployed to receive such phone calls on the polling day? Is there a plan to increase staffing provisions in view of the expected increase in enquiries and complaints for the 2008 Legislative Council Election?

Asked by: Hon. TAM Yiu-chung

Reply :

The number of telephone calls concerning electoral arrangements received on the polling day and the number of operators to answer such telephone calls for major elections/by-elections conducted in 2006-07 and 2007-08 are as follows -

Election /By-Election	Polling Day	No. of calls	No. of operators
2006 Election Committee Subsector Elections	10 December 2006	2 020	40
2007 Chief Executive Election	25 March 2007	47	8
2007 District Council Election	18 November 2007	36 861	100
2007 Legislative Council By-election (Hong Kong Island Geographical Constituency)	2 December 2007	15 726	32

2. The number of registered electors is expected to increase in 2008. The Registration and Electoral Office will consider deploying additional resources within its provision to answer telephone enquiries and to receive complaints on the polling day of the 2008 Legislative Council Election.

Question: The Fourth Legislative Council Election will be conducted in September 2008. Would the Administration please advise this Committee on the Registration and Electoral Office's budget in encouraging voter turnout as well as the details of the publicity plan? What are the estimated voter turnout rate and the projected number of voters?

Asked by: Hon. NG Margaret

Question: In view of the substantial number of alleged complaints against breaches received during the District Council Election and the Legislative Council By-election (Hong Kong Island Geographical Constituency) in 2007, what is the Registration and Electoral Office's budget in handling such complaints in the Legislative Council Election scheduled for September 2008? What are the staffing requirements and the details of the work plan involved?

Asked by: Hon. NG Margaret

Reply :

As in major elections held previously, a Complaints Committee ("CC") will be set up under the Electoral Affairs Commission ("EAC") to deal with cases that are within its jurisdiction and not covered by statutory provisions involving criminal liability. The CC will comprise the EAC Chairman and the two EAC Members and a District Court Judge. An amount of $300,000 has been reserved in the 2008-09 estimates to meet the additional expenditure to be incurred by the Judiciary for the arrangement. The CC will be supported by the EAC Secretariat staffed by the Registration and Electoral Office ("REO").

2. In addition, the Returning Officers will be responsible for handling complaint cases of a minor nature (e.g. suspected breach of provisions relating to election advertisements and electioneering activities) under the authority delegated to them by the EAC. The Police and the Independent Commission Against Corruption ("ICAC") will attend to cases that involve criminal liability and breaches of the Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Conduct) Ordinance, Prevention of Bribery Ordinance and ICAC Ordinance respectively.

3. The handling of complaints is part of the duties of the staff involved in the electoral arrangements. The REO does not have a separate breakdown of budget for this specific purpose.

Asked by: Hon. NG Margaret

Reply :

In light of experience gained in the 2007 District Council Election and the 2007 Legislative Council ("LegCo") Hong Kong Island Geographical Constituency By-election, the Electoral Affairs Commission ("EAC") has recommended, among other things, certain measures relating to the conducting of exit polls.

2. To take forward the recommendations, appropriate proposed amendments have been incorporated in the Guidelines on Election-related Activities in respect of the LegCo Elections. The EAC will be consulting the public on the proposed amendments. The Registration and Electoral Office will absorb the costs of enforcing the Guidelines within its existing provision.

If so, please provide the details. Is any additional funding being provided in the 2008-09 estimates for improving the arrangements for Legislative Council Elections?

Asked by: Hon. LAU Chin-shek

Reply :

In the Electoral Affairs Commission (“EAC”) Reports on the 2007 District Council Election and the 2007 Legislative Council Hong Kong Island Geographical Constituency By-election, the EAC proposed some improvement measures on the electoral arrangements including the conduct of exit poll, training and deployment of polling staff and environmental protection. The suggested improvements cover areas relating to preparation work and operational arrangement on the polling day. In addition, the EAC also made recommendations relating to the Guidelines on Election-related Activities in respect of the LegCo Elections (“Guidelines”).

2. The Government will work closely with the EAC to follow up on the recommendations contained in the reports, taking into consideration the views of the community. The EAC is consulting the public on the proposed amendments to the Guidelines. Any expenses incurred would be met by deployment of existing resources of the Registration and Electoral Office.

The provision for conducting electoral activities under Subhead 000 in the 2007-08 revised estimates and the 2008-09 estimates are $192.2 million and $301.1 million respectively. The relevant breakdowns are as follows-

(A) 2007-08 Revised Estimates

- | | |
|--|-----------------|
| (i) for preparation and conduct of the 2007 District Council ("DC") election | $152.4 million |
| (ii) for preparation of the 2008 Legislative Council ("LegCo") election | $11.2 million |
| (iii) for the 2007 Chief Executive ("CE") election held on 25 March 2007 | $ 0.9 million |

Question :

The Administration estimates that it will require more than $62.7 million for Hong Kong to participate in the World Exposition 2010 Shanghai China. The project is expected to commence in the third quarter of 2008-09, but the estimated expenditure in 2008-09 is only $1 million, which might affect its commencement and progress.

- (1) Is it true that the Administration has allocated only $1 million as the prize for the winner of the Hong Kong pavilion conceptual design competition?
- (2) If "yes" for (1), the sum might be too small to attract top professionals in construction, planning and design sectors to take part in the competition. Will the Administration consider duly increasing the amount of the prize? If "no" for (1), will the Administration consider duly increasing the amount of the estimated expenditure so as to expedite the commencement and progress of the project?
- (3) Please list out the items, human resources and expenditure allocation that will be involved in the project.

Asked by : Hon. LAU Sau-shing, Patrick

Reply :

- (1) We plan to adopt a design-and-build approach for implementation of the Hong Kong Pavilion project. The estimated expenditure of the project in 2008-09 is to meet the cost of design work including obtaining approvals from Mainland authorities during the initial contract period. It is not for the prize for the winner of the Hong Kong Pavilion concept design competition.

- (2) The aim of the concept design competition is to enable us to tap the best creative ideas of local professionals. The awards for the competition were determined having regard to factors such as the arrangements for similar competitions in the past and the views of the relevant professional body. The winning design is intended to serve as a design reference for the Design-and-Build Contractor of the Hong Kong Pavilion. As design work and approval by Mainland authorities are the key activities during the initial contract period in 2008-09, we anticipate that the project expenditure in 2008-09 will not be too high. Should the design and related planning work progress well for an early start of the construction works, we will increase the project expenditure in 2008-09 accordingly.
- (3) The preparatory work for HKSAR's participation in World Exposition 2010 Shanghai China is still in progress. Relevant details are being consolidated. We anticipate that more detailed information will be available by the time the funding proposals are submitted to the Public Works Subcommittee and Finance Committee.
