Admin

5. The Administration was requested to -

- (b) provide information on the public consultation work in respect of the nutrition labelling scheme; and
- (c) review the drafting of the phrase "not exceed 30 000 units" under the small volume exemption scheme to ensure its clarity of meaning, i.e. "30 000 units sold in market".

(Post-meeting note: The Administration's response providing information on the impact of implementing the mandatory nutrition labelling scheme on food choice and the public consultation work was circulated to members vide LC Paper No. CB(2)1739/07-08 issued on 28 April 2008.)

000000 - 000550	Mr James TIEN	Election of Chairman
000551 - 003048	Chairman Admin	Opening remarks  Briefing and powerpoint presentation by the Administration on the Amendment Regulation [Legislative Council Brief (File Ref: HF CR 1/1886/05)] (presentation materials issued vide LC Paper no. CB(2)1680/07-08 on 21 April 2008)
003049 - 003138	Mr Andrew LEUNG Chairman	Suggestion of inviting the food trade to give views on the Amendment Regulation
003139 - 003948	Mr Fred LI Admin	Mr Fred LI raised the following queries –  (a) whether prepackaged drinks would be subjected to the regulation of the Amendment Regulation;  (b) what was the rationale for setting the limit of small volume exemption scheme for food products at an annual sales volume of 30 000 units; and  (c) whether regulation could be avoided for food products making nutrition claims without using the words of "低糖" or "low sugars" etc.  The Administration's responses as follows -  (a) prepackaged drinks would be subjected to the regulation;  (b) the proposed annual sales volume had struck a balance between the trade's request and consumer choices; and  (c) the food products would be subjected to regulation if words carrying similar meaning were used.
003949 - 004325	Mrs Selina CHOW Admin	Mrs Selina CHOW queried about the standard adopted by the Administration in working out its "one plus seven" nutrition labelling scheme, given that there was no single internationally accepted standard on nutrition labelling requirements.

Time marker	Speaker	Subject	Action required
		The Administration's explanation that the Administration had made reference to the Guidelines on Nutrition Labelling issued by the Codex Alimentarius Commission (Codex). However, different countries could adopt different requirements having regard to their own public health needs.
004326 - 004938	Mr James TIEN Admin Chairman	Mr James TIEN's enquiries of the rationale not to give exemption status to a food product with a nutrition claim made in a foreign language and about the restrictions under the small volume exemption scheme in the United States (the US). The Administration's responses as follows - <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) some members of the public might understand the nutrition claims made in that foreign language; and</li> <li>(b) the annual sales volume of the US's small volume exemption scheme was 100 000 units under which the exemption status of a food product would also be removed if a nutrition claim was made.</li> </ul>
004939 - 010030	Ms Audrey EU Admin	Ms Audrey EU's queries about the meaning of "food of the same version" for the purpose of the small volume exemption scheme, the possibility of abuse by making a slight change to the packaging and its implementation. The Administration's responses as follows - <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(a) products of the same flavour, same packing size or same bar code would normally be considered as food of the same version for the purpose of the scheme;</li> <li>(b) the possibility of abusing the scheme was considered rather low having regard to the relatively small financial benefits to be gained under the scheme;</li> <li>(c) as a consensus reached with the food trade, when the sales volume of the food concerned had reached 70% of the maximum permitted sales volume under the scheme (i.e. 21 000), the Food and Environmental Hygiene Department (FEHD) would issue a notice to all importers with the exemption granted, notifying them of the sales volume;</li> </ul>

Time marker	Speaker	Subject	Action required
		(d) once the total sales volume of the prepackaged food to which the exemption had been granted had exceeded the limit of 30 000 units per year, all food items currently being put on the market would have to be labelled in accordance with the legal requirements; and (e) a revocation of exemption would take effect on the expiry of 30 days from the date on which the decision to revoke the exemption was made.
010031 - 011143	Mr Andrew LEUNG Admin Chairman	Mr Andrew LEUNG's expression of concerns about – (a) the impact on food choices after the enactment of the Amendment Regulation; (b) confusion to the public having regard to the flexibility in labelling format e.g. per 100 g/ml or per serving format; and (c) possible withdrawal of health food with nutrition claims from Hong Kong market. His further query as to why the proposed nutrition labelling scheme did not follow the Mainland's nutrition labelling requirements on core nutrients (i.e. one plus four core nutrients). The Administration's responses as follows – (a) close liaison with the relevant Mainland authorities including the Ministry of Health and the State General Administration of Quality Supervision, Inspection and Quarantine had been made on the proposed nutrition labelling system; (b) a prepackaged food product with a nutrition claim, e.g. a drink with “high” vitamin C, was not necessarily a health food if it contains high sugars at the same time but did not provide such information to consumers; and (c) allowing flexibility in energy unit (i.e. either kilocalorie or kilojoule) and the nutrition labels in either per 100 g/ml or per serving format, which was a proposal from the food trade, would minimize the need for re-labelling of the food products, without reducing consumers' right to make informed choices.

011144 - 012050	Ms Emily LAU Admin Chairman	Ms Emily LAU's expression of her wish that the Administration could strike a right balance between enabling consumers to make informed food choice and facilitating business. The Administration was requested to provide information on the impact of implementing the mandatory nutrition labelling scheme on food choice (including the estimated percentage of food products imported from the Mainland that had to be re-labelled for meeting the nutrition labelling requirements), food price and the business of small food enterprises.	Admin to provide information (see para. 5(a) of minutes)
012051 - 013030	Mr Tommy CHEUNG Admin Chairman	Mr Tommy CHEUNG's expression of concern about the impact on food choice and cost arising from the need for the food trade to conduct food tests and to re-label the products. His further advice that, though the prepackaged food products with nutrition claims that had an annual sales volume not exceeding 30 000 units only represented 2.5% of all prepackaged food products, they represented about 25% of the types of prepackaged food products on sale in market.
013031 - 013936	Mr Vincent FANG Admin Chairman	Mr Vincent FANG's clarification that the Liberal Party was supportive of introducing a mandatory nutrition labelling scheme but was concerned about the impact of the proposal of removing the exemption status of a food product if a nutrition claim was made, and that the trade was also not supportive of such a proposal. The Administration was requested to provide information on the public consultation work in respect of the nutrition labelling scheme.	Admin to provide Information (see para. 5(b) of minutes)
013937 - 014710	Mr WONG Yung-kan Admin	Mr WONG Yung-kan's enquires as to whether food products under the same brand but with different countries of origin would be counted as different versions of food under the exemption scheme and whether the exemption status would apply equally to food products imported from South East Asian countries and the Mainland. The Administration's responses as follows – (a) if the products were of different flavours, packing sizes or bar codes, they would not be considered as food of the same version for the purpose of the small volume exemption scheme; and

		(b) the exemption scheme applied equally to all prepackaged food, irrespective of their countries of origins, or manufactured locally.
014711 - 015040	Mr Fred LI Admin	Mr Fred LI's questions about how the annual sales volume would be counted if a box of prepackaged biscuit contained a number of individually packed biscuits and how parallel imported food products would be controlled. The Administration's responses as follows – (a) the annual sales volume referred to the boxes of prepackaged biscuit sold to consumers rather than individually packed biscuits contained in each box; and (b) food traders would have to report to FEHD the sales volume of the food items on a monthly basis and the Centre of Food Safety (CFS) staff would carry out regular inspections of food labels at retail outlets and about 55 000 food labels would be inspected each year.
015041 - 015400	Mr Tommy CHEUNG Admin	Mr Tommy CHEUNG's question about the current Codex guidelines on nutrition labelling, and his concerns about the grace period allowed for the trade to comply with the mandatory nutrition labelling requirements and whether food products manufactured on the Mainland which had met the "1+14" nutrition labelling requirements of the US needed to be re-labelled for sale in Hong Kong. The Administration's responses as follows – (a) the Codex Guidelines on Nutrition Labelling required that a nutrition label should include energy, protein, carbohydrates and fat, and any other nutrients that were relevant for maintaining a good nutritional status in the population concerned; (b) the legislative proposal for "1+7" scheme was in line with the recommendation put forward by the World Health Organization to the Codex Committee on Food Labelling meeting in April 2007;

		(c) the food products that were manufactured on the Mainland for export to the US could meet the proposed nutrition labelling requirements of Hong Kong and there was no need for re-labelling; and (d) when the proposal for nutrition labelling scheme was initially put forward, it was proposed that the scheme ("1+9") would be implemented in two phases. However, there were calls for implementing the scheme in one-go when the revised scheme ("1+7") was put forward. Mr CHEUNG's remark that it was misleading for the Administration to give an impression that the proposed mandatory nutrition labelling was consistent with the Codex Guidelines.
015401 - 020200	Mrs Selina CHOW Admin	Mrs Selina CHOW's expression of worry that many food products would be withdrawn from the market as in the case after the enactment of the Food and Drugs (Composition and Labelling) (Amendment) Regulation 2004. Mrs CHOW's suggestion that, to serve the purpose of assisting consumers in making informed food choices, the Administration could consider requiring the food trade to provide nutrition information of food products with nutrition claims on the website. The Administration's responses as follows – (a) the trade had provided a list of food products that had been withdrawn from the market after the enactment of the Food and Drugs (Composition and Labelling) (Amendment) Regulation 2004, and the reasons for their withdrawal were mainly because the food concerned might contain food additives not permitted under the law or, in some cases, the overseas manufacturers refused to provide the information to the food importers; and (b) making nutrition information available on the website could not assist consumers in making informed food choices as they would not be able to obtain instantly information on nutrient contents of the food concerned at the time of purchase.

020201 -020600	Ms Audrey EU Mr Vincent FANG Admin	Ms Audrey EU's concern that the meaning of the phrase "not exceed 30 000 units" under the small volume exemption scheme might be unclear as to whether it referred to units sold or imported. Mr Vincent FANG's enquiry as to whether the food trade was required to put a label on the food approved under the small volume exemption scheme. The Administration's responses as follows – (a) under the exemption scheme, any food importer or manufacturer of a prepackaged food might apply to the Authority for exemption under the Amendment Regulation provided that the annual sales volume of food of the same version in Hong Kong would not exceed 30 000 units; and (b) the food trade was required to put a label on the food products so that consumers were able to know that the products were exempted from the nutrition labelling scheme.	Admin undertook to review the drafting (see para. 5(c) of minutes)
020601 - 021159	Chairman Mr Fred LI Mr Andrew LEUNG Mr Vincent FANG Ms Miriam LAU Mr WONG Yung-kan Clerk Admin	Agreement of the Subcommittee to extend the scrutiny period of the Amendment Regulation. Arrangements for the next meeting to receive views from deputations and further discussion with the Administration.	Clerk to follow up (see para. 7 of minutes)
