To Whom It May Concern,

Hello, let me introduce myself first. I am Polly who is hearing impaired, can lip reading and simple speaking in Cantonese, mainly use Hong Kong Sign Language. I hold a Higher Diploma in Computer Studies and a Bachelor degree in Business & Information technology from City University of Hong Kong.

I work as a Human Resources Assistant for Hong Kong Jockey Club for almost three years. I am responsible for the e-learning programmes. I would like to upgrade myself through continuous study and self-learning. Communicating among my colleagues is my great problem. Thanks so much for my colleagues' understanding. They would like to communicate with me by writing on paper, emails, simple speaking. They offer me more opportunities to learn useful knowledge and experiences, especially the e-Induction project. They let me learn how to manage the project, enrich my knowledge and have gotten more valuable experiences. I feel proud that can help the Club expand and update its online staff training courses.

I would like to say million thanks to the Club that offering equal job opportunities. I have gained the Outstanding Disabled Employees Award from the Government's Labour Department in 2006. The Club has always committed to providing equal job opportunities to both able-bodied and disabled people. There are five deaf people working as stable assistant in Beas River Country Club for many years. We can show that the deaf people has their talents and skills as same as normal people. If the Club offers more appropriate job positions, I believe that talents and skills will be brought from deaf people and disabilities to the Club and help the Club's development and continues to support the vulnerable and promoting a caring and responsible society.

Yours Sincerely,

Lam Heung Ling
