Re: Objection to Extend the domestic violence ordinance chapter 189 to cover persons of the same sex and living together

I strongly object any violence. I support that proper amendments be made to the Domestic Violence Ordinance Chapter 189.

I strongly object the extension of the Ordinance to cover persons of the same sex and living together as a family. The extension is absolutely inconsistent with the Ordinance.

The Ordinance:

- (1) intends to give protection against potential violence amongst family members and
- (2) is desirable because of the inherent significant personal differences between family members living together.

The extension is absolutely inconsistent with the Ordinance.

I am very disappointed at the persons proposing such extension which only serves as red light to the proper amendments to curb violence under the Ordinance.
