

Bills Committee on Securities and Futures and Companies Legislation (Structured Products Amendment) Bill 2010

Proposed Committee Stage Amendments

Purpose

This paper presents the amendments we intend to make to the Securities and Futures and Companies Legislation (Structured Products Amendment) Bill 2010 for Members' consideration.

Proposed Amendments

2. The proposed Committee Stage Amendments ("CSA") are marked up at the Annex.

1. Clause 2 (Commencement) and New Clause 30 (Fees)

3. These proposals were discussed at the meetings of the Bills Committee held on 6 January, 20 January and 31 January 2011. At present, prospectus for shares and debentures, including structured products in such legal forms, require the Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC")'s authorization under the Companies Ordinance ("CO"). The applicant has to pay relevant fees to the SFC, about $30,000 generally, as prescribed in the Securities and Futures (Fees) Rules ("Fees Rules") (Cap. 571AF). The latter is a subsidiary legislation setting out all the fees charged by SFC¹. For structured products not in the legal form of shares or debentures, their offer documents require SFC's authorization under the Securities and Futures Ordinance ("SFO"). The applicant also has to pay relevant fees (also $30,000) to the SFC as prescribed in the Fees Rules.

4. Apart from transferring the regulation of public offers of structured products in the form of shares or debentures from the CO to the SFO, the Bill also proposes empowering the SFC to authorize structured products per se

¹ Section 395 of the SFO provides that the Chief Executive in Council may, after consultation with the SFC, make rules to, inter alia, require and provide for the payment to the SFC of, and prescribe, fees for an application to the SFC under or pursuant to any of the relevant provisions.

(under Clause 5 of the Bill which adds the new section 104A). This is similar to the existing arrangement for collective investment schemes (“CIS”) wherein the SFC is empowered under the SFO to approve CIS.

5. For this new power to authorize structured products under section 104A, the SFC has proposed a corresponding product authorization fee – $2,000 payable upon application for authorization, $1,000 payable upon the grant of authorization. Having regard to the feedback from SFC’s soft consultation with the key market players, we consider that the proposed fee is reasonable and modest. The existing fee for authorization of offer document, being $20,000 (for application) and $10,000 (for authorization) will remain unchanged. Further, it is proposed that an incidental fee of $3,000 be chargeable for the modification of a previous authorization (which would only be applicable as and when it is necessary for the modification of a previous authorization). Such modification fee level is also in line with the current modification fee charged for documents authorized under section 105 of the SFO.

6. The original plan was to amend the Fees Rules to provide for the new fees by way of negative vetting after enactment of the Bill. In this connection, Clause 2 of the Bill currently provides that the enacted Ordinance comes into operation on a day to be appointed by the Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury by notice published in the Gazette.

7. To enable early implementation of the proposals in the Bill, we propose providing for the new product fees and amending the Fees Rules for the purpose by moving a CSA to the Bill. We also propose moving a CSA to delete the commencement clause for the Bill so that the amendments in the Bill will commence on gazettal of the Ordinance. Legal advice has confirmed that this is legally in order and within the ambit of the Bill. The SFC has soft consulted the major market participants on the proposed fee levels and the latter had no objection.

II. Clause 4 (4) and (9) (Exemption for non-securities or non-structured product property businesses)

8. Section 103(2)(i) of the SFO exempts public offer documents issued by non-securities property businesses in the ordinary course of that business from SFC’s authorization. With the introduction of the concept of and definition for “structured product” in the SFO, it is necessary to add (under clause 4(4) of the Bill) the reference of “structured products” to section 103(2)(i) to preserve its intention of exempting public offer documents issued by non-securities or non-structured product property businesses in the ordinary course of that business. Clause 4(9) of the Bill adds a new section 103(11A) to limit the exemption in section 103(2)(i) so that these businesses are not able to make use of this exemption to issue structured products to investors outside their ordinary course of business.

9. At previous meetings of the Bills Committee, Members expressed that the scope of exemption under the existing section 103(2)(i) seemed very wide and that the actual effect of the new section 103(11A) was not clear. As requested by Members, we have reviewed sections 103(2)(i) and 103(11A). Using the case of a property developer as an example, we believe that a property developer, who provides an arrangement possibly constituting a structured product which is incidental to and is part and parcel of a property transaction, would be covered by the exemption in section 103(2)(i) since the property transaction and the arrangement would be in the ordinary course of the business of selling and purchasing property other than securities or structured products. On the other hand, if the developer issues, as a standalone transaction, a structured product, e.g. equity-linked note, to investors, our view is that this would not be in the ordinary course of “that business” (namely, property development) and the developer would not be covered by section 103(2)(i). As such, the proposed section 103(11A) is unnecessary and we propose a CSA to delete it from the Bill.

III. Clause 15(6) (Exemption for non-negotiable and non-transferable debentures)

10. This is in response to the deputations’ comments as set out in Part G on page 12 of LC Paper No. CB(1)1093/10-11(02). Non-negotiable and non-transferable debentures are not publicly offered. At present, they are excluded from the definition of “securities” in the SFO. In connection with the introduction of the concept of and definition for “structured product” in SFO, the SFC considers that it is necessary to specify that the existing exemption for non-negotiable and non-transferable debentures does not apply if they are structured products. In this regard, Clause 15(6) of the Bill amends the existing exclusion for non-negotiable and non-transferable debentures as underlined below:

"(vi) any debenture that specifically provides that it is not negotiable or transferable (excluding a debenture that is a structured product);"

11. When the Bills Committee met the deputations from trade associations and professional bodies, a deputation suggested that the above be refined as follows-

"(vi) any debenture that specifically provides that it is not negotiable or transferable (excluding a debenture that is a structured product in respect of which the issue of any advertisement, invitation or document that is or contains an invitation to the public to do any act referred to in section 103(1)(a) of this Ordinance is authorized, or required to be authorized, under section 105(1) of this Ordinance);"

so that it did not cast an unnecessarily wide net over structured products that do not require authorization under the SFO.

12. Our policy intent is to provide that non-negotiable/non-transferable debenture-type structured products only become securities, hence subject to the regulatory requirements for securities, if they are publicly offered. We agree with the above proposed amendment and propose moving a CSA for this purpose. In the Chinese text, we also propose to consequentially amend the new paragraph (g) of the definition of "securities" (i.e. clause 15(5) of the Bill) so as to align the Chinese wording used in paragraphs (vi) and (g) of the definition.

IV. Clause 15(7) (Currency and interest rate-linked instrument)

13. We propose moving a CSA to amend the Chinese text of the definition of "currency and interest rate-linked instrument" in order to more explicitly spell out the concept of "combination".

V. Clause 15(8) (Exemption for employees incentive schemes)

14. This is in response to the deputations' comments as set out in Part B on page 3 and Part H on page 16 of LC Paper No. CB(1)1093/10-11(02). Clause 15(8) of the Bill proposes adding a new section 1A to Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the SFO to provide for the definition of structured products. The new section 1A specifies that a structured product does not include, inter alia, -

- a product that is offered by a corporation only to a person who is –
- (i) a bona fide employee or former employee of the corporation or of another corporation in the same group of companies; or
 - (ii) a spouse, widow, widower, minor child (natural or adopted) or minor step-child of a person referred to in subparagraph (i).

15. When the Bills Committee met deputations, a deputation considered the above exclusion potentially too wide as it could include any structured product offered by a corporation to its employees regardless of whether it is referenced to the securities of the corporation itself or a related corporation.

16. We have reviewed the above clause and propose moving a CSA to amend it to the effect that the exclusion will only apply to employee incentive schemes issued by the corporation and referenced to securities of the corporation itself or a related corporation.

VI. Clause 4(3) (Exemptions under Section 103(2)(e))

17. In addition to the above, the deputations sought clarification as to how the proposed section 103(2)(e)(iii) was intended to operate in the context of the exclusion of employee incentive schemes under the new section 1A in Part 1 of Schedule 1. We mentioned in Part B on page 3 of LC Paper No. CB(1)1093/10-11(02) that we would tighten up the wording in the new section 1A and refine the wording in the proposed section 103(2)(e)(iii).

18. The existing section 103(2)(e), which is derived from the Protection of Investors Ordinance, provides an exemption to the issue, or the possession for the purposes of issue, of any advertisement, invitation or document made by or on behalf of a corporation in respect of securities of the corporation, or of a related corporation of the corporation, to -

- (i) holders of securities of the corporation or related corporation;
- (ii) creditors of the corporation or related corporation;
- (iii) employees employed by the corporation or related corporation; or
- (iv) agents acting in a professional capacity on behalf of the corporation or related corporation.

19. During the SFC's public consultation on Possible Reforms to the Prospectus Regime in the Companies Ordinance and the Offers of Investments Regime in the SFO conducted in October – December 2009, there were suggestions that the exemption in the proposed section 103(2)(e) should be extended to cover employee incentive schemes that fall under the proposed definition of "structured product". We agreed that such employee incentive schemes should be facilitated and added the reference to "structured product" to the proposed section 103(2)(e) in the Bill.

20. In the light of the deputations' comments, we have reviewed the effect of the proposed amendment to section 103(2)(e), and concluded that since employee incentive schemes would be excluded from the definition of "structured product" under the new section 1A in Part 1 of Schedule 1, it would not be necessary to provide an exemption for employee incentive schemes in the form of structured products in the proposed section 103(2)(e) again.

21. We have also reviewed the existing exemption in section 103(2)(e) in respect of holders of securities and creditors of a corporation. The provision allows a corporation to issue documents, which are not SFC authorized, offering securities to existing shareholders and creditors of the corporation. We propose that, following the introduction of the definition of "structured product" into the SFO, the expansion of the definition of "securities" and the transfer of the public offer regime for structured products in the form of shares or debentures from the CO to the SFO, this exemption should not apply to structured products (be they in the form of securities or not) even if they are issued by corporations to shareholders or creditors. Neither should this exemption cover offers to holders of structured products (be they in the form of securities or not) issued by the corporation.

22. As for the existing exemption for documents issued to agents acting in a professional capacity on behalf of the corporation or related corporation, similarly, we do not think such an exemption should be extended to structured products because the ambit of this limb of section 103(2)(e) appears to be very wide and there has been no request for extension of the exemption. Accordingly, taking a prudent approach, we propose that documents offering structured products issued to agents acting in a professional capacity will not be exempted from SFC authorization.

23. We propose moving CSAs to reflect the policy intent as stated in paragraphs 20 – 22 above.

- (c) futures contracts;
- (d) interest rate-linked instruments;
- (e) securities; or
- (f) structured products.”.

14. Section 407 amended (Savings, transitional, consequential and related provisions, etc.)

Section 407 is amended by adding –

“(3) Part 3 of Schedule 10 provides for the savings and transitional arrangements that apply on, or relate to, the commencement of the Securities and Futures and Companies Legislation (Structured Products Amendment) Ordinance 2010 (of 2010).”.

15. Schedule 1 amended (Interpretation and general provisions)

(1) Schedule 1 is amended by repealing “[ss. 2, 19, 66, 164, 171, 174, 175, 202 & 406 & Sch. 9]” and substituting “[ss. 2, 19, 66, 102, 164, 171, 174, 175, 202 & 406 & Schs. 9 & 10]”.

(2) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, in the definition of “debenture”, by repealing “securities” and substituting “debt securities”.

(3) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, in the definition of “financial product”, by adding –

“(e) any structured product;”.

(4) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, in the definition of “securities”, in paragraph (f), by repealing “notice,” and substituting “notice;”.

(5) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, in the definition of “securities”, by adding –

“(g) a structured product that does not come within any of paragraphs (a) to (f) but in respect of which the issue of any advertisement, invitation or document that is or contains an invitation to the public to do any act referred to in section 103(1)(a) of this Ordinance is authorized, or required to be authorized, under section 105(1) of this Ordinance.”.

(6) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, in the definition of “securities”, in paragraph (vi), by adding “(excluding a debenture that is a structured product in respect of which the issue of any advertisement, invitation or document that is or contains an invitation to the public to do any act referred to in section 103(1)(a) of this Ordinance is authorized, or required to be authorized, under section 105(1) of this Ordinance)” after “transferable”.

(7) Schedule 1 is amended, in section 1 of Part 1, by adding – ““currency and interest rate-linked instrument” (貨幣及利率掛鈎票

據) means –

(a) an instrument that is a structured product only because some or all of the return or amount due (or both the return and the amount due) or the method of settlement is determined by reference to a combination of –

(i) changes in the value or level (or a range within the value or level) of any one or more currency exchange rates or currency exchange rate indices or the occurrence or non-occurrence of any specified event or events relating to any one or more currency exchange rates or currency exchange rate indices; and

(ii) changes in the value or level (or a range within the value or level) of any one or more interest rates or interest rate indices or the occurrence or non-occurrence of any specified event or events relating to any one or more interest rates or interest rate indices; or

- (b) any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as being regarded as currency and interest rate-linked instruments in accordance with the notice, but does not include any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as not being regarded as currency and interest rate-linked instruments in accordance with the notice;

“currency-linked instrument” (貨幣掛鈎票據) means –

- (a) an instrument that is a structured product only because some or all of the return or amount due (or both the return and the amount due) or the method of settlement is determined by reference to one or more of –
- (i) changes in the value or level (or a range within the value or level) of any one or more currency exchange rates or currency exchange rate indices; or
 - (ii) the occurrence or non-occurrence of any specified event or events relating to any one or more currency exchange rates or currency exchange rate indices;

or

- (b) any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as being regarded as currency-linked instruments in accordance with the notice,

but does not include any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as not being regarded as currency-linked instruments in accordance with the notice;

“interest rate-linked instrument” (利率掛鈎票據) means –

- (a) an instrument that is a structured product only because some or all of the return or amount due (or both the return and the amount due) or the method of settlement is determined by reference to one or more of –
- (i) changes in the value or level (or a range within the value or level) of any one or more interest rates or interest rate indices; or
 - (ii) the occurrence or non-occurrence of any specified event or events relating to any one or more interest rates or interest rate indices; or
- (b) any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as being regarded as interest rate-linked instruments in accordance with the notice,

but does not include any interests, rights or property prescribed, or of a class or description prescribed, by notice under section 392 of this Ordinance as not being regarded as interest rate-linked instruments in accordance with the notice;

“structured product” (結構性產品) has the meaning given by section 1A of this Part;”.

(8) Schedule 1 is amended, in Part 1, by adding –

“1A. Meaning of “structured product”

(1) In this Ordinance, subject to subsection (2),

“structured product” (結構性產品) means –
