Dear Ms SIT,

PWSC(2009-10)68, 69 and 72 Hong Kong section of Guangzhou-Shenzhen-Hong Kong Express Rail Link (XRL)
Follow-up on the Meeting of the Finance Committee on 8 January 2010

Thank you for your letter dated 11 January 2010. Our replies to the two issues raised are as follows:

Service Concession of the Hong Kong section of the XRL

2. The Administration proposes to adopt the concession approach for the Hong Kong section of the XRL whereby the MTR Corporation Limited (MTRCL) will be granted the rights to use the railway assets. During the validity of the service concession agreement, the MTRCL will be responsible for the operation, maintenance and asset renewal of the high speed rail system, and has to make service concession payment to the Government. According to the relevant terms of the merger agreement, the service concession payment will be 90% of the net present value of the revenue from the XRL project in the 50-year operation period.

3. In operating the XRL, the MTRCL shall maintain a proper and efficient service according to the relevant requirements, and formulate specific criteria, definitions and standards for its service performance in order to meet the stipulated service standards, safety standards and to the reasonable satisfaction of the Government. The performance criteria under regulation include:

- Train service delivery
- Train reliability
- Passenger journeys on time
- Train punctuality
- Add Value machine reliability
- Ticket machine reliability
- Ticket Gate reliability
- Escalator reliability
- Passenger lift reliability

The MTRCL shall also maintain reasonable service standards in respect of railway cleanliness, passenger environment, noise and vibration during operation, temperature and ventilation in the stations and train compartments, passenger enquiry response time and handling of passenger complaints and suggestions. The Hong Kong Railway Inspectorate retains the statutory power to inspect and investigate the high speed rail system to ensure passenger safety.

4. A provision for the suspension and revocation of the franchise has already been included in the Mass Transit Railway Ordinance (“the Ordinance”). If in executing the service concession agreement of the high speed rail system in the future, the MTRCL incurs a major default stipulated in Section 16 of the Ordinance (including a substantial failure by the Corporation to discharge an obligation under the operating agreement, and the failure results in or is likely to result in a substantial breakdown of the service, the safety of passengers being endangered or serious injury to or the death of passengers), the Chief Executive-in-Council may suspend or revoke the franchise according to Sections 17 and 18 of the Ordinance. Under Section 19 of the Ordinance, the Government may include additional provisions as and when required enabling the Administration (or the future operator) to use the assets jointly used by the MTRCL and the high speed rail system upon expiry or revocation of the franchise.

Resumption of Underground Strata for the Hong Kong section of the XRL

5. A list of private multi-storey buildings and housing estates on lots, the underground strata of which have to be resumed for the Hong Kong section of the XRL is at Annex.
6. The Administration has reserved a sum of $194 million as a provision for Government to pay compensation due to the possible loss of owners arising from underground strata resumption..

7. This is a rough estimate and the actual payment has to be assessed upon receipt of valid statutory claims. The estimate comprises three parts, namely-

(i) Compensation for the possible reduction in permissible gross floor area upon redevelopment, i.e. the reduction in permissible gross floor area of the lot[#] due to underground strata resumption multiplied by estimated accommodation value

[#] The original permissible gross floor area minus the permissible gross floor area upon resumption of the underground strata.

(ii) Compensation for the possible additional design/construction costs upon redevelopment, i.e. the permissible gross floor area multiplied by 20%* of the estimated design/construction costs per square foot.

* It is roughly assumed that the additional design/construction costs will normally be not more than 20% of the original costs.

(iii) Compensation for losses other than items (i) and (ii) above – a certain sum has been reserved for each lot affected by the resumption of underground strata.

The redevelopment potential of any building is dependant on the land grant conditions, town planning considerations, the Building (Planning) Regulations, distribution of property ownership and market conditions, etc. In arriving at the estimates for compensation in items (i) and (ii) above, the Administration made reference to actual factors relevant to the lot concerned, including permissible use and restrictions under the land grant conditions (e.g. plot ratio and building height), type of permissible building, the position and depth of underground strata to be resumed, the separation between the foundation of the building and the tunnel, and the geology of the site, etc.

8. The interests of the owners of the buildings and housing estates concerned are protected by the relevant legislation. The above provision is only a rough estimation for administrative purposes and shall not be construed as implying that the redevelopment of the lots will be affected. If the owners can prove that their properties have been affected, the amount of compensation will most probably be different from the estimated amount. Therefore, the Administration considers it not appropriate to disclose the amount reserved for individual buildings to avoid misunderstanding, and prevent people with ulterior motives from using the information to mislead the residents.

9. To allay the concerns of the residents, the Administration may provide information about their flats to individual residents, such as information on the building plans published by the Buildings Department, including the site area, gross floor area, plot ratio and the depth of piling, etc.

Yours sincerely,
