- (c) to actively promote the development of green information technology (‘IT’), study the energy consumption of IT systems, require all government departments to implement green IT procurement, and support the research and development of green IT in the territory;
- (d) to study the establishment of mandatory minimum energy efficiency standards for products, so as to ensure that energy-consuming products such as motor vehicles and electrical appliances are in compliance with the energy efficiency requirements; and

- (h) to follow the paper on 'Implementation of the Bali Roadmap – China's position on the Copenhagen Climate Change Conference' released by the National Development and Reform Commission and appeal to various countries to ensure the full, effective and sustained implementation of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and, in upholding the principle of 'common but differentiated responsibilities', make corresponding arrangements in terms of mitigation, adaption, technology transfer and financial support, etc, so as to enhance the role of developing countries in the domain of climate change;
- (i) to regulate the emission of carbon dioxide from power plants; and
