LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL BRIEF

THE FIFTH GENERAL CAPITAL INCREASE OF ASIAN DEVELOPMENT BANK

INTRODUCTION

At the meeting of the Executive Council on 30 March 2010, the Council ADVISED and the Chief Executive ORDERED that, subject to the funding approval of the Finance Committee (“FC”) of the Legislative Council (“LegCo”), Hong Kong should subscribe to the Fifth General Capital Increase (“GCI V”) of the Asian Development Bank (“ADB”) with a paid-in portion of US$18.6 million (or HK$146.0 million) to be paid over a ten-year period and a remaining callable portion of US$575.0 million (or HK$4,514.4 million) that will constitute a contingent liability for the Government.

BACKGROUND

2. ADB is a multilateral financial institution for regional development with the principal goal of poverty reduction. To achieve the goal, ADB provides both financial and technical assistance to governments for specific projects and programmes.

3. General capital increase is the periodic replenishment of ADB’s authorized capital stock. According to the ADB Charter, the lending and borrowing authority of ADB are bounded by the size of its subscribed capital stock. An increase in the size of capital stock of ADB is therefore necessary in order to ensure that ADB can continue its lending activities without disruption. Calling on the existing callable shares would not increase the overall size of the capital stock. In addition, the enlargement of subscribed capital stock also ensures ADB’s equity-to-loan ratio staying at the comfortable level that would help the ADB preserve its AAA credit rating for bond issuance. Since its establishment in 1966, ADB has had four general capital increases. All member economies, including Hong Kong, had subscribed in full in all cases¹.

4. On 29 April 2009, the Board of Governors of the ADB approved a draft Resolution of general capital increase of 200% with a paid-in component of 4%. The proposal would triple ADB's subscribed capital stock to 10 638 933 shares from 3 546 311 shares at present. Each member is entitled to subscribe up to a 200% increase in its current shareholding (see Annex A). Nevertheless, they are not obliged, but are expected, to take up any or all of their allocated shares. If a member economy does not subscribe in full to its allocated shares, its voting power would drop proportionately.

5. Based on the current amount of shareholding of 19,270 shares at ADB, Hong Kong will be able to subscribe 38,540 additional shares under GCI V as follows –

- (a) 4% of the additional shares (i.e. 1,542 shares) as paid-in shares; and
- (b) 96% of the additional shares (i.e. 36,998 shares) as callable shares.

6. This implies actual payment of US$18.6 million (or HK$146.0 million) for the paid-in shares and contingent liability of US$575.0 million (or HK$4,514.4 million) for the callable shares². It should be noted that there has never been any call on the callable shares in the history of ADB. Furthermore, under the ADB Charter, the callable capital can only be utilised after ADB has explored all its available resources to settle its obligations at the time of financial distress.

JUSTIFICATIONS

7. It is recommended that, subject to FC's approval, Hong Kong should subscribe fully to GCI V of ADB for the reasons explained in the ensuing paragraphs.

¹ Including the original subscription, Hong Kong currently holds 1 350 paid-in shares and 17 920 callable shares. This implies a contingency liability (callable portion of shares) equivalent to US$278.5 million (about HK$2,186.3 million) for Hong Kong.

² As the callable shares are denominated in SDR, the amount of contingent liability will fluctuate with the Special Drawing Rights ("SDR") SDR exchange rate.

Importance of Hong Kong's membership at the ADB

8. ADB is one of the very few formal international organizations of which Hong Kong is a member. Hong Kong's separate membership in ADB is a practical demonstration of Hong Kong's autonomy in international financial affairs under the "One Country, Two Systems" principle. Hong Kong should therefore participate actively in the activities of ADB. In particular, this GCI V initiative is largely in response to the call by G20 Leaders to increase resources of multilateral development banks to support growth in developing countries amid the global financial crisis. Hong Kong should not be left out in such an important initiative.

Hong Kong's continued commitment to the ADB

9. GCI V is the first general capital increase of ADB after 1997. Prior to 1997, ADB had four general capital increases and Hong Kong has subscribed in full in all cases. The subscription to GCI V will be a clear demonstration of Hong Kong's continued commitment to ADB after the handover. As a matter of fact, Hong Kong has also contributed to all nine replenishments to the Asian Development Fund ("ADF") of ADB including three replenishments after 1997³.

Expectation of Hong Kong's commitment

10. Hong Kong joined ADB in 1969 and has benefited substantially from ADB's lending programmes. In the period from 1972 to 1980, Hong Kong obtained five loans totaling US$101.5 million from ADB to finance various infrastructure projects⁴. All loans were repaid in full by 1987.

11. Given that Hong Kong's per capita GDP⁵ is amongst the highest in the region, there is general expectation for Hong Kong to subscribe to the general capital increase of ADB. In addition, all member economies of ADB have subscribed in full in all past four general capital increases. It is therefore expected that all members, including our peers in the region, would do the same in this round. If Hong Kong chooses to opt out, we would become a clear outlier and attract international attention.

³ ADF is a concessional lending window of the ADB to support poverty reduction and improve the quality of life. Since the handover, Hong Kong has contributed to three replenishments of ADF: (i) US$16.28 million in 2001 (ADF VIII); (ii) US$19.19 million in 2005 (ADF IX); and (iii) US$26.25 million in 2009 (ADF X).

⁴ The loans from ADB were used to finance construction of public housing projects (Shatin Urban Development (Housing) Project (Wo Che Estate and Sha Kok Estate) and the second Shatin Urban Development Project (part of the development of Shatin New Town and the construction of Mei Lam Estate)), sewage (Shatin Sewage Treatment Plant Stage 1), polyclinic (Shatin Hospital Polyclinic Project) and other infrastructure project (Lok On Pai Sea Water Desalting Plant).

⁵ In 2009, Hong Kong's per capita GDP is US$29,902.

IMPLICATIONS OF THE PROPOSAL

12. The proposal has economic and financial implications as set out at Annex B. It is recommended that Hong Kong opts for the standard 10-year payment schedule as shown in Annex C.

13. The proposal is in conformity with the Basic Law, including the provisions concerning human rights. It has no civil service, productivity, environmental or sustainability implications.

PUBLIC CONSULTATION

14. We will consult the LegCo Panel on Financial Affairs before seeking FC's funding approval.

PUBLICITY

15. We will issue a press release following approval (if given) by FC of the funding request. We will also arrange a spokesman to handle media enquiries.

ENQUIRIES

16. Enquiries on this brief may be directed to Miss Natalie Li, Principal Assistant Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury (Financial Services) at 2529 0121, or Ms Linda Tse, Senior Manager (External), Hong Kong Monetary Authority at 2878 1382.

Economic implications

With its per capita GDP far exceeding ADB's threshold for development assistance, Hong Kong is no longer eligible for ADB assistance¹. Nevertheless, the subscription would demonstrate Hong Kong's support for helping the developing economies in the region, thereby enhancing its international image.

Financial implications

2. Subject to FC's funding approval, Hong Kong will subscribe a total of 38,540 shares under the GCI V. The overall financial implication is estimated to be about US$593.6 million (or HK$4,660.4 million). This includes 4% paid-in portion of US$18.6 million (or HK$146.0 million) with the remaining portion of US$575.0 million (or HK$4,514.4 million) subject to call only as and when required by ADB². Since the callable shares are valued at SDR³, the amount of contingent liability of Hong Kong in respect of the callable shares will vary with the exchange rate of SDR against US dollar.

3. Hong Kong will make its payment based on a pre-agreed payment schedule of ten annual instalments between 2010-11 and 2019-20. The arrangement is to first settle 40% of the paid-in portion (US$7.44 million or HK$58.4 million) in five equal annual instalments, and then settle the remaining 60% (US$11.16 million or HK$87.6 million) in the next five years when the ADB encashes the promissory notes issued to it. ADB also offers three accelerated payment options that shorten the payment period to one, three or five years which gives credit (i.e. discount) for making early payments⁴. But these options are considered unattractive as the discount rates are much lower than the projected investment return for the fiscal reserves.

4. The projected payments to ADB by Hong Kong in respect of the paid-in shares are summarised as follows -

¹ Graduation from ADB assistance will be triggered when a country reaches a Gross National Income per capita benchmark ($6,275 in 2006 US dollar). Hong Kong "graduated" from ADB assistance in 1998.

² The paid-in portion of 1,542 shares is valued at US$12,063.5 per share which is the maximum amount to be paid by members. The callable portion of 36,998 shares is valued at SDR10,000 each and computed to US dollar using the USD/SDR as at end January 2010 (i.e. US$ 1.554/SDR).

³ SDR is a currency basket comprising US dollar, Euro, Japanese yen and British pound.

⁴ Discount rates for the three accelerated payment options are 1.434%, 1.149% and 0.862% respectively.

Fiscal Year	Cashflow requirement (in millions)
2010/11	US$1.488 (about HK$11.68)
2011/12	US$1.488 (about HK$11.68)
2012/13	US$1.488 (about HK$11.68)
2013/14	US$1.488 (about HK$11.68)
2014/15	US$1.488 (about HK$11.68)
2015/16	US$2.232 (about HK$17.52)

2019/20	US$2.232 (about HK$17.52)
Total	US$18.6 (about HK$146.0)

5. Hong Kong's subscription to ADB shares would not have any direct monetary returns as ADB is a non-profit multilateral financial institution for regional development. Net incomes generated from its lending operations are used to fund ADB's future operations.

6. There will be very moderate additional administrative costs involved in Hong Kong's subscription to GCI V, and they will be absorbed by the Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau and Hong Kong Monetary Authority.
