Copyright (Amendment) Bill 2011

Dear Ms Yue,

Copyright (Amendment) Bill 2011 (“the Bill”)
Code of Practice (“the Code”)

As foreshadowed at the Bills Committee meeting held on 15 March 2012, I attach, for Members’ reference, the latest version of the Code for online service providers (OSPs).

The comments received during the public consultation on the second draft of the Code have been summarised in LC Paper No. CB(1)1310/11-12(02). In addition to certain editorial and textual changes to the Code, we have made some technical adjustments to the Code as set out in the paragraph below.

For the avoidance of doubt, we have made it clear in Part I that compliance with the Code is voluntary, and reiterated certain provisions of the Bill in the Code (such as section 88B(5)(b) which provides that the failure of a service provider to qualify for the limitation of liability under the safe harbour provisions has no adverse bearing on the consideration of any defence that may be available to the service provider in proceedings for copyright infringement). Furthermore, OSPs will be given the flexibility to design their own notice of alleged infringement and counter notice as long as the notices comply with the statutory requirements respectively under the new section 88C(3) and 88D(5) (which specify the particulars to be provided). Two templates (namely Forms A and B in Annex of the Code) have been provided with a view to facilitating OSPs in executing these requirements.

I should be grateful if you could bring this to the attention of Members of the Bills Committee. I trust this has cleared the way for early resumption of the Second Reading of the Bill.

Yours sincerely,

I. INTRODUCTION

Editorial note: the cross-references to the provisions of the Copyright Ordinance herein will be updated upon the enactment of the Copyright (Amendment) Bill 2011.

- 1.1 THIS CODE OF PRACTICE (“the Code”) is published by the Secretary for Commerce and Economic Development pursuant to section 88I of the Copyright Ordinance (Cap. 528) (“the Ordinance”).
- 1.2 The Code provides practical guidance to service providers in the context of Division IIIA of the Ordinance, which particularly includes the relevant practices and procedures to be adopted in order to limit or stop copyright infringement on their service platforms upon receipt of a notice of alleged infringement.
- 1.3 Where copyright infringement has occurred on the service platform of a service provider, and the service provider, after receipt of a notice of alleged infringement from a complainant¹, elects to comply with all applicable provisions in Part III, IV or V of the Code (as the case may be), it will be treated by virtue of section 88B(3) of the Ordinance as having taken reasonable steps to limit or stop the infringement in question. Subject to compliance with the other three qualifying conditions in section 88B(2) of the Ordinance, the service provider will not be held liable for damages or other pecuniary remedy for the infringement merely because it has provided, or operated facilities for, online services (see section 88B(1) of the Ordinance). The other three qualifying conditions are:-
 - (a) the service provider has not received and is not receiving any financial benefit directly attributable to the infringement;
 - (b) the service provider accommodates and does not interfere with standard technical measures that are used by copyright owners to identify or protect their copyright works; and

¹ The complainant must be the copyright owner of the copyright work concerned, or his authorised representative. If a person falsely states in a notice of alleged infringement that he is the copyright owner of the copyright work concerned, or his authorised representative, he not only commits an offence but may also be held civilly liable to pay damages to any other person who suffers actual loss or damage as a result of such false statement.

- (c) the service provider designates an agent to receive notices of alleged infringement, by supplying through the service provider's service, including on the service provider's website in a location accessible to the public, the agent's name and contact details.
- 1.4 Compliance with the Code on the part of service providers is entirely voluntary. A service provider who has received a notice of alleged infringement may, in any case, qualify for the limitation of liability under section 88B(1) of the Ordinance so long as it can show to the Court's satisfaction in proceedings relating to its liability for copyright infringement on its service platform that it has, inter alia, taken reasonable steps to limit or stop the infringement as soon as practicable. In any case, the failure of a service provider to qualify for such limitation of liability has no adverse bearing on the consideration of any defence that may be available to the service provider in proceedings for copyright infringement (see section 88B(5)(b) of the Ordinance).
- 1.5 For the avoidance of doubt, when electing to implement any procedure and practice to limit or stop any alleged infringement on its service platform (including the removal of any material, or the disabling of access to any material or activity), a service provider should ensure due compliance with all applicable laws, notably the Telecommunications Ordinance (Cap. 106) and the Personal Data (Privacy) Ordinance (Cap. 486).
- 1.6 The service provider should also ensure that its contracts with subscribers enable it to take appropriate actions in accordance with the Code, including the forwarding of a notice of alleged infringement to a subscriber, and the removal of or disabling of access to any material or activity on its service platform.
- 1.7 The service provider should take reasonable steps to notify individuals who supply their personal data in a notice of alleged infringement or counter notice of its Personal Information Collection Statement (PICS).² It should inform those individuals:-

² Service providers may wish to refer to the information leaflets published by the Office of the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data, such as its guide on how to prepare on-line PICS and Privacy Policy Statements at http://www.pcpd.org.hk/english/publications/files/pic_pps_e.pdf.

- (a) that sections 88C(3) and 88D(5) of the Ordinance require the complainant and the subscriber to supply certain specific personal data in a notice of alleged infringement and counter notice respectively;
 - (b) that a notice of alleged infringement or counter notice which does not contain the personal data of the complainant or the subscriber (as the case may be) will be considered as defective and that the service provider is not required to process the same;
 - (c) the purpose for which the personal data is to be used;
 - (d) the intended recipients of the personal data under subsequent notification steps prescribed in the Code, e.g. onward transmission of (i) the notice of alleged infringement to the subscriber, or (ii) the counter notice to the complainant, as the case may be (please also refer to paragraph 4.24(a) below); and
 - (e) the rights of the complainant and subscriber to request access to and the correction of the personal data, and how such request may be made.
- 1.8 The service provider should take all practicable steps to ensure that the personal data collected from the complainants and/or subscribers are protected against unauthorised or accidental access, processing, erasure, or other use.
- 1.9 Separately, a service provider who has not received any notice of alleged infringement may also qualify for the limitation of liability under section 88B(1) of the Ordinance if it has, inter alia, taken reasonable steps to limit or stop the infringement as soon as practicable after it either becomes aware that the infringement has occurred (see section 88B(2)(a)(ii) of the Ordinance), or becomes aware of facts or circumstances that would lead inevitably to the conclusion that the infringement has occurred (see section 88B(2)(a)(iii) of the Ordinance).
- 1.10 Expressions used in the Code have the same meaning as in Division IIIA of the Ordinance.

II. UNDERLYING OBJECTIVES

2.1 The objectives underlying the formulation of the Code are:-

- (a) to enhance copyright protection in the digital environment, in the interest of providing an environment conducive to the healthy development of the creative and information technology industries in Hong Kong;
- (b) to facilitate a digital economy by promoting the development of advanced technology for creating and disseminating digital content;
- (c) to combat online piracy and free up online resources that would otherwise be taken up by infringing activities; and
- (d) to foster industry cooperation and entrench a culture of respect for intellectual property rights in the community.

2.2 The Code seeks to provide a mechanism through which the Administration, copyright owners, copyright users and service providers may join forces, within the framework of the applicable laws, rules and regulations, to combat online copyright infringement, and promote respect for intellectual property rights.
