Dear Ken and Ron,

I received the fax last night from Ken which enclosed some plans, sections and a schedule of floor area.

The plans and sections are too small for us to read and understand the design concept of the overall development and the broad design concept of each of the elements forming the overall development.

We need to sit down to go thru the conceptual plan with you before we can give you an indicative construction cost.

When can we meet?

Regards,
M L Ku
