2.	Trade relations between the Mainland and Hong Kong	18.6.2013	(a) Members noted that to offer additional platforms for Hong Kong enterprises, especially small and medium enterprises, to showcase their products and to enhance awareness of Hong Kong brands in the Mainland, the Hong Kong Trade Development Council had set up Design Gallery shops and "Shops-in-shop" located in department stores in Mainland cities. The Administration was requested to provide information on the locations of these Design Gallery shops and "Shops-in-shop" already in operation and those being set up, and also information on the participating Hong Kong enterprises, as well as how Hong Kong enterprises could obtain information on and join in the Design Gallery shop and "shop-in-shop".	The Administration to follow up.

		(b) Members noted with concern recent media reports on "bogus trade of goods" between Shenzhen and Hong Kong by Mainland and Hong Kong enterprises, involving repeated trucking of the same load of goods between Shenzhen and Hong Kong within the same day, thus creating "bogus" value of merchandise trade between the two places to facilitate the application of credit facilities from banks. The Administration was requested to address members' concern about the impact of such activities on Hong Kong's banking and financial system, as well as on the compilation of statistics on merchandise trade and inward direct investment between Shenzhen and Hong Kong.	The Administration to follow up.
