- Notes :
- (1) In terms of education planning, apart from the school-age population residing in Hong Kong, the Education Bureau will also take into account the number of students already in public sector schools system and the latest demographic changes (including the actual number of cross-boundary students (CBS)).
 - (2) School-age population aged 6-11 and 12-17 are considered appropriate for primary education (i.e. Primary 1 to Primary 6) and secondary education (i.e. Secondary 1 to Secondary 6) respectively.
 - (3) Figures refer to the projected number of local children (i.e. Hong Kong usual residents) aged 6-17 residing in the districts concerned. The projected figures should not be taken as the projected number of students attending schools in the districts concerned. The latter would be affected by the prevailing distribution of school places, demand for school places and parental choices. Students under the age of 6/ age of 12 or over the age of 11/ age of 17 can also enroll at primary education/ secondary level respectively. The above figures do not include CBS.
 - (4) The projections of school-age population residing in Hong Kong are compiled based on the 2011-based population projections released by the Census and Statistics Department (C&SD) in July 2012. The projections have taken into account a number of factors and assumptions. Any deviations in the assumptions from the eventual situation may render the projected figures different from the actual turnout figures. Amongst those assumptions, of particular relevance is that related to babies born in Hong Kong to Mainland women. It should be noted that the actual numbers of such babies who would settle in Hong Kong and if so, when, are difficult to be predicted accurately.
 - (5) Figures refer to the position as at September of the respective school years.
 - (6) Figures are rounded to the nearest hundred and may not add up to the respective totals due to rounding.

There are 6 DSS secondary schools offering a non-local curriculum in addition to the local curriculum^{Note} in the 2012/13 school year. The schools and the respective number of students studying non-local curriculum are listed below:

	Name of School	Number of students studying non-local curriculum
		Secondary 5	Secondary 6
1	St. Paul's Co-educational College	27	27
2	The Hong Kong Chinese Christian Churches Union Logos Academy	44	15
3	Diocesan Boys' School	48	47
4	St. Paul's Convent School	67	42
5	YMCA of HK Christian College	73	48
6	Creative Secondary School	81	72

Note: DSS schools can provide a diversified curriculum to cater for different needs of students. At present, DSS schools are required to offer principally a curriculum targeted at local students and prepare their students to sit for the relevant local public examinations. Within this broad parameter, DSS schools are given more freedom on the design and content of its curriculum. With the Education Bureau's (EDB) prior approval, DSS secondary schools may offer a non-local curriculum stream at Secondary 5 and Secondary 6 levels as an additional curriculum choice for some students.

In addition, Li Po Chun United World College (LPCUWC) has been offering only non-local curriculum since it joined DSS. In 1999 and 2002 the then Education Department and Education and Manpower Bureau critically reviewed whether LPCUWC should continue to remain in the DSS. In 2011 the relevant situation was reviewed in the "Report of the Working Group on DSS" again. EDB held the view that LPCUWC is unique in its nature with its students coming from different parts of the world and supported by various scholarships. LPCUWC is an education institute that Hong Kong should value in consideration of its culturally diversified school environment and membership in a world league of United World Colleges network. Besides, the sponsoring body of LPCUWC is running various colleges in the world with reciprocal arrangements in the admission of students and scholarship arrangements. Students in Hong Kong also enjoy the benefits. Having taken into account the benefits it brings to students in Hong Kong and the downside of changing the funding mode of LPCUWC, the EDB decided the continuation of the status quo allowing LPCUWC to continue to remain in the DSS.
