continuous contract of employment otherwise than in accordance with section 9 during his period of taking paternity leave.

- (3) An employer who terminates the continuous contract of employment of an employee during his period of taking paternity leave is taken for the purposes of subsection (2) to terminate the contract otherwise than in accordance with section 9—
 - (a) unless the contrary is proved; or
 - (b) subject to subsection (4), unless the employer proves that—
 - (i) the employer purported to terminate the contract in accordance with that section; and
 - (ii) at the time of such termination, the employer reasonably believed that the employer had a ground to do so.
- (4) Subsection (3)(b) does not apply in the case of civil proceedings.
- (5) An employer who contravenes subsection (2) is liable to pay to the employee—
 - (a) the sum which would have been payable if the contract of employment had been terminated by the employer under section 7;
 - (b) a further sum equivalent to 7 times the employee's average daily wages during—
 - (i) the period of 12 months immediately before the date of termination of the contract of employment; or
 - (ii) (if the employee has been employed by the employer for a period shorter than 12 months immediately before the date of termination of the contract of employment) the shorter period; and

- (c) (where the employee is or would have been entitled to paternity leave pay) paternity leave pay for 3 days.
- (6) The average daily wages are to be calculated without regard to—

 - (i) any paternity leave, rest day, sickness day, holiday or annual leave taken by the employee;
 - (ii) any leave taken by the employee with the agreement of the employer;
 - (iii) the employee's not being provided with work by the employer on a normal working day; or

 - (b) any wages paid to the employee for the excluded period.
- (7) To avoid doubt, if the amount of the wages paid to an employee in respect of a day covered by the definition of wages in subsection (1) is only a fraction of the amount earned by the employee on a normal working day, the employee's average daily wages are to be calculated without regard to the wages and the day.
- (8) Despite subsection (5)(b), if for any reason it is impracticable to calculate an employee's average daily wages in the manner provided in that subsection, the amount may be calculated by reference to—
 - (a) the wages earned by a person who was employed at the same work by the same employer during the period of 12 months immediately before the date of termination of the contract of employment; or

(b) if there is no such person, the wages earned by a person who was employed in the same trade or occupation and at the same work in the same district during the period of 12 months immediately before the date of termination of the contract of employment.
