He emphasized that for constitutional development to move forward, it was necessary to seek common ground, set aside the differences in view and strive for consensus. The work of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region Government was to formulate, in strict accordance with the law, a package of proposals for selecting CE by universal suffrage that was constitutionally and legally in order, fair and reasonable, and at the same time take heed of factors including political reality and actual operation to strive for universal suffrage through "one person, one vote" in 2017 as scheduled.

032141 - 032511	Youngspiration	Presentation of views
032512 - 032937	Chairman Mr CHAN Kam-lam	Mr CHAN Kam-lam considered that the specific method for selecting CE by universal suffrage should not be tailor-made for individuals or individual political parties.
032938 - 033528	Chairman Administration	In response to deputations' concern about the future refinement to the method for selecting CE, USCMA said that after achieving universal suffrage, should there be a need to amend the method for selecting CE after 2017, Article 7 of Annex I to BL and the "Five-step Process" of constitutional development had already provided a clear legal basis for initiating such further amendments to the method for selecting CE. He emphasized that the Proposals could respond to the strong aspiration of the different sectors of the society to implement universal suffrage for the selection of the CE as scheduled, and to allow Hong Kong's constitutional development to move forward.
033529 - 034234	Chairman Mr WONG King Mr HOR Wing-kit Mr Charles Peter MOK Youngspiration	Discussion on the need to conduct a referendum to gauge public views on the Proposals. Mr Charles Peter MOK queried the Administration's claim that there was mainstream support in the community for the Proposals.

Time Marker	Speaker(s)	Subject(s)	Action required
034235 - 035114	Chairman Dr Priscilla LEUNG Mr CHAN Kam-lam	Dr Priscilla LEUNG considered that there were merits in forming the nominating committee ("NC") by following the same framework of the four sectors of the Election Committee in order to strike a balance among the interests of all sectors and ensure the preservation of the capitalist system in Hong Kong. Mr CHAN Kam-lam emphasized that the discussion had to be based on the legal framework constituted by BL and the Decision of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress ("NPCSC") on 31 August 2014 ("2014 Decision of NPCSC").
035115 - 035545	Chairman Mr Augustus LEE Kai-bun Mr LAM Sik-kin Mr WONG King Mr FONG Sung-yau	Discussion on whether the Proposals should be supported and endorsed by the Legislative Council ("LegCo").
035546 - 040358	Chairman Youngspiration Mr Charles Peter MOK Mr CHAN Kam-lam Mr Jeffrey LAM Administration	Mr Charles Peter MOK stressed that the Government should respond to Hong Kong people's demand for genuine universal suffrage. Mr Jeffrey LAM considered that debating over whether the Proposals would allow Hong Kong people to have genuine or fake universal suffrage was meaningless. He agreed that the method for selecting CE by universal suffrage should strictly comply with the Basic Law and the relevant Decisions of NPCSC. He believed that after CE was selected by universal suffrage through "one person, one vote" in 2017, the electoral method could be refined in future. In response to concern of some deputations, USCMA explained the constitutional responsibility of NPCSC under the "Five-step Process" of constitutional development.

Time Marker	Speaker(s)	Subject(s)	Action required
065145 - 065330	Mr Johnny NG	Presentation of views
065331 - 065637	Chairman Ms Starry LEE	Ms Starry LEE pointed out that if the constitutional reform proposal was voted down by LegCo, the method of selecting CE in 2012 would continue to apply according to the 2014 Decision of NPCSC, and forming LegCo by universal suffrage would be deferred.
065638 - 065941	Chairman Ms Cyd HO	Ms Cyd HO considered that the "first-past-the-post" voting system might not ensure that the CE-elect would have sufficient legitimacy in the community as the candidate who obtained the highest number of votes might, in fact, have obtained only a small number of valid votes. She said that she would vote against the Proposals which were formulated under the restrictive framework of the 2014 Decision of NPCSC.
065942 - 070254	Chairman Mr Paul TSE	Discussion on meeting arrangements
070255 - 070600	Chairman Mr Steven HO	In response to some deputations' concerns, Mr Steven HO explained that the 1 200 members of NC would be returned through direct or indirect elections. He considered that constitutional development was a gradual, evolving process.
070601 - 071134	Chairman Administration	In response to deputations' views, USCMA called on all Members to support the Proposals, so as to meet the aspiration of the community for electing the next CE through "one person, one vote" in 2017, thereby taking an important step forward in the constitutional development of Hong Kong.
