

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL BRIEF

Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance
(Chapter 32)

Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) (Amendment) Bill 2015

INTRODUCTION

A At the meeting of the Executive Council on 29 September 2015, the Council ADVISED and the Chief Executive ORDERED that the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) (Amendment) Bill 2015 (the Bill) at Annex A should be introduced into the Legislative Council (LegCo).

JUSTIFICATIONS

2. To improve and modernize Hong Kong's corporate winding-up regime, we need to amend the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance (Chapter 32) (CWUMPO) and its subsidiary legislation.

3. To reinforce Hong Kong's position as a major international business and financial centre, we have conducted a comprehensive review of the relevant provisions in CWUMPO and prepared the Bill to improve and modernize the corporate winding-up regime, taking into account relevant overseas developments.

4. The policy objectives of the Bill are to increase protection of creditors, streamline the winding-up process and further enhance the integrity of the winding-up process. The major legislative proposals are set out in paragraphs 5 to 10 below.

Increasing protection of creditors

5. The nature of doing business often requires companies to operate on credit which enables them to trade, develop and expand. For a company that is financially distressed or insolvent, the corporate winding-up regime serves to ensure that the value of the remaining assets of the insolvent company will be preserved as far as possible and that the assets will be distributed amongst the creditors of the company, including its employees, suppliers and contractors, in a fair and orderly manner. An efficient and effective winding-up regime will give protection and confidence to investors and creditors and promote the business environment in Hong Kong.

6. The key proposals in the Bill which will increase protection of creditors in the course of a winding-up are –

- (a) providing for the power of the court to set aside transactions at an undervalue entered into by a company within five years before the commencement of its winding-up. A “transaction at an undervalue” is defined as a transaction entered into by a company prior to its winding-up that involves an outright gift given by the company to a party, or entered into by the company with a party on terms that provides for the company to receive no consideration or for a consideration which is significantly less than the value of the subject of the transaction;
- (b) introducing standalone provisions in CWUMPO on the court’s power to set aside transactions which are unfair preferences entered into by a company prior to its winding-up that unfairly put a particular creditor in a better position than other creditors. This proposal will enhance clarity and rectify the anomalies in CWUMPO (which currently incorporates and applies the relevant provisions in the Bankruptcy Ordinance (Chapter 6) (BO) by reference) arising from applying the relevant BO provisions in the corporate winding-up context;
- (c) providing for the liabilities of directors and members concerned to contribute to the assets of the company in connection with a redemption or buy-back of the company’s own shares out of capital in cases where the company is wound up within one year of the relevant payment out of capital;
- (d) introducing additional safeguards to reduce the risk of abuse in a director-initiated creditors’ voluntary winding-up commenced under section 228A<sup>1</sup> of CWUMPO. For example, there will be restrictions on the powers of the relevant provisional liquidator, who will be liable to a fine in case of

<sup>1</sup> Under the section 228A procedure, after the directors of a company have formed an opinion that the company cannot by reason of its liabilities continue its business, they may commence a winding-up of the company voluntarily, in the absence of a resolution of the members of the company.

non-compliance without reasonable excuse; and

- (e) enhancing the requirements relating to the first creditors' meeting upon the commencement of a creditors' voluntary winding-up to ensure that the creditors would have sufficient time and information to prepare for the meeting and make informed decisions; and restricting the powers of the members-appointed liquidator and the directors before the holding of the first creditors' meeting and the appointment of a liquidator respectively in order to safeguard against potential abuse. If a liquidator or director without reasonable excuse fails to comply with a relevant requirement, the liquidator or director will be liable to a fine.

7. Annex B gives a more detailed account of the individual proposals under paragraph 6(d) to (e) above and also sets out other proposals which improve certain existing provisions and definitions in CWUMPO.

Streamlining the winding-up process

8. In a court winding-up or a creditors' voluntary winding-up of an insolvent company, the creditors may appoint a committee of inspection (COI) to represent the creditors and contributories of the company for supervising and giving directions to the liquidator during the course of the winding-up. To streamline the winding-up process in order to save time and costs for administering such cases, the Bill introduces a number of provisions which aim to improve the proceedings of COIs, promote court-free procedures and simplify other related procedures. The key proposals in the Bill for this purpose are -

- (a) allowing the bills of costs or charges of the liquidators' agents in a court winding-up to be approved by the COI, in which case the matter would not need to be put to the court for examination and determination as currently required;
- (b) enabling the liquidator in a court winding-up to exercise the power to appoint a solicitor to assist in performing the liquidator's duties by giving seven days' advance notice to the COI (or to the creditors in case there is no COI) instead of the current requirement for obtaining the sanction of the court or the COI;
- (c) allowing communications by a liquidator with members of the COI and other persons (such as creditors and contributories) by electronic means with their prior consent, while a recipient of a document from the liquidator may still request the document to be sent in hard copy form. A liquidator, who fails to provide the document in hard copy form to the recipient upon request, will be liable to a fine; and

- (d) streamlining and rationalising the proceedings of COIs, such as -
  - (i) allowing remote attendance at meetings of COIs by the use of technology;
  - (ii) enabling COIs to perform their functions and make decisions through written resolutions sent by post or electronic means; and
  - (iii) prescribing the maximum and minimum numbers of members of COIs.

9. Annex C gives a more detailed account of the proposal under paragraph 8(d)(iii) and also sets out other proposals which streamline the proceedings of COIs and enhance the clarity of the relevant provisions.

Further enhancing the integrity of the winding-up process

10. The liquidator has an important role in the winding up of a company and is generally responsible for taking over, realizing and selling the assets of the company being wound up, and settling the claims of creditors of the company according to their respective entitlements. In some winding-up cases, a provisional liquidator is appointed to protect and preserve the assets of a company pending further steps in the winding-up process before formal appointment of a liquidator. The Bill introduces a number of measures to improve certain regulatory measures for liquidators and provisional liquidators in order to further enhance the integrity of the winding-up process. The key proposals in the Bill for this purpose are -

- (a) setting out more clearly the powers, duties, the basis for determining remuneration, and tenure of office of a provisional liquidator<sup>2</sup> appointed under different sections of CWUMPO in a court winding-up in order to remove uncertainties in the relevant existing provisions;
- (b) providing that a liquidator would not be absolved from liabilities arising from the liquidator's misfeasance or breach

<sup>2</sup> In a court winding-up, a provisional liquidator may be appointed under section 193 before the making of the winding-up order to protect and preserve the assets of a company pending the court's hearing of the petition for winding-up. On the making of the winding-up order by the court, a person will be appointed as a provisional liquidator under section 194 to administer the winding-up pending the appointment of the liquidator.

of duty / trust<sup>3</sup> notwithstanding that he has obtained a court order releasing him as liquidator after the completion of the winding-up, such that a creditor or other interested party may apply to the court for leave to take legal action under the relevant provision of CWUMPO against the liquidator after the liquidator's release;

- (c) deterring touting for appointment as provisional liquidator or liquidator by expanding the existing statutory prohibition on offering an inducement to a member / creditor of a company with a view to securing or preventing an appointment or nomination as a provisional liquidator or liquidator of that company to cover any such inducement offered to any person;
- (d) suitably expanding the list of persons disqualified for appointment as a provisional liquidator or liquidator to also cover persons with potential conflicts of interest, etc.;
- (e) introducing a new requirement for disclosure by a prospective provisional liquidator and prospective liquidator of specified relationships between him or his immediate family members, etc. and the company being wound up before his formal nomination or appointment in order to increase transparency in the appointment process. A person will be liable to a fine if he acts as a provisional liquidator or liquidator in contravention of this requirement;
- (f) stipulating procedures for resignation and removal of a liquidator in a voluntary winding-up, and
- (g) improving the private and public examination procedures of CWUMPO which are part of the process of investigation conducted by the liquidator during a winding-up to ascertain information about the company's affairs and property etc.

A more detailed account of the individual proposals under (d) to (g) above is given in Annex D.

Other technical proposals

11. The Bill also proposes other technical amendments which are

<sup>3</sup> Section 276 of CWUMPO provides, inter alia, that if it appears that any past or present liquidator of the company has misapplied or retained or become liable or accountable for any money or property of the company, or has been guilty of any misfeasance or breach of duty or breach of trust in relation to the company, the court may make an order to compel such past or present liquidator to repay or restore the money or property. However, at present the application of section 276 is limited by section 205 of CWUMPO, which provides that an order of the court releasing the liquidator shall discharge him from all liability in respect of any act done or default made by him in the administration of the affairs of the company.

set out in Annex E. These technical amendments include, for example, aligning the time limits for giving notices in the Gazette for certain actions in the commencement of a voluntary winding-up, and repealing superfluous provisions in CWUMPO, etc.

OTHER OPTIONS

12. Introducing legislative amendments to CWUMPO is the only option to give effect to the proposals to improve the corporate winding-up regime.

We briefed the Standing Committee on Company Law Reform (SCCLR) and the LegCo Panel on Financial Affairs on the consultation conclusions in June 2014 and July 2014 respectively. ## PUBLICITY

17. A press release will be issued on the gazettal of the Bill. A spokesman will be made available for answering media enquiries.

BACKGROUND

18. Under CWUMPO, there are three types of winding-up of companies –

- (a) “court winding-up” – CWUMPO sets out a number of grounds on which a company may be wound up by the court upon petition by a relevant party<sup>7</sup>. The grounds which are more frequently invoked are (i) the company is unable to pay its debts; or (ii) the court is of the opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up;
- (b) “members’ voluntary winding-up” – A company may also wind up voluntarily. If the members of a company resolve that the company be wound up voluntarily, and where a certificate of solvency<sup>8</sup> has been issued and delivered to the Registrar of Companies, then the winding-up would proceed as a “members’ voluntary winding-up”. In respect of the company’s financial position, the company should be solvent; and
- (c) “creditors’ voluntary winding-up” – Further to sub-paragraph (b) above, if the certificate of solvency has not been issued and delivered, then the winding-up would proceed as a “creditors’ voluntary winding-up”. In respect of the company’s financial position, the company should be insolvent.

<sup>7</sup> A creditor, a contributory (e.g. a member of the company) and the company itself are amongst those who may present a petition to the court for the winding-up of a company.

<sup>8</sup> A certificate of solvency is issued by the directors of a company certifying that the company will be able to pay its debts in full within a period not exceeding 12 months from the commencement of the winding-up of the company.

19. The last major amendments made to the corporate winding-up regime occurred in 1984. Since then, a number of other amendments have been made to various provisions on corporate insolvency at different times focusing on specific issues. However, over the years, some comparable common law jurisdictions (e.g. the United Kingdom and Australia) have completed more extensive legislative exercises to reform their statutory provisions on winding-up. We have made reference to the relevant overseas experiences in our review. Our review of the corporate winding-up regime covers the following five aspects of the winding-up process–

- (a) commencement of winding-up;
- (b) appointment, powers, vacation of office and release of provisional liquidators and liquidators;
- (c) conduct of winding-up;
- (d) voidable transactions such as transactions at an undervalue (paragraph 6(a)) and unfair preferences (paragraph 6(b)); and
- (e) investigation during winding-up, offences antecedent to or in the course of winding-up, and powers of the court.

20. In parallel, we are developing detailed proposals to introduce a new statutory corporate rescue procedure and insolvent trading provisions for Hong Kong. The Government announced a package of proposals for this legislative initiative in May 2014. Built on the general support of the LegCo Panel on Financial Affairs and relevant stakeholders, we are preparing drafting instructions for the amendment bill and will engage with stakeholders on the details in the coming months. Having regard to the scale of the exercise and the complexity of the issues involved, our target is to introduce the relevant amendment bill into LegCo in 2017/18.

28. Clause 58 amends section 228 to delete section 228(1)(c) as the circumstances in which a company may be wound up under section 228(1)(c) are covered by section 228(1)(b).
29. To safeguard the interests of creditors and shareholders, clause 59 amends section 228A mainly to provide additional safeguards in a voluntary winding up initiated by directors under that section. Amongst other things, the amendments impose a new requirement that directors are to summon a meeting of the company and appoint a provisional liquidator before delivering to the Registrar of Companies a winding-up statement certifying that these steps have been taken (section 228A(1A) and (1B)).
30. Clause 60 adds a new section 228B to provide that the provisional liquidator appointed under section 228A is required to obtain the sanction of the court to exercise the powers of a liquidator in a creditors' voluntary winding up, except for the following—
  - (a) take into custody all the property and things in action to which the company is or appears to be entitled;
  - (b) dispose of perishable goods and other goods that are likely to diminish in value if not immediately disposed of; and
  - (c) do anything necessary to protect the company's assets.
31. Clause 61 amends section 229 to extend the time limit for a company to give notice of a resolution for voluntary winding up.
32. Section 237A, as amended by clause 66, applies if the liquidator in a members' voluntary winding up is of the opinion that the company will be unable to pay its debts in full within the period stated in the certificate of solvency (section 237A(1)). The - amended section 237A extends the duties of the liquidator in a case that falls within section 237A(1). For instance—

- (a) the liquidator must summon a meeting of the creditors of the company within a time limit (section 237A(1A));
  - (b) the liquidator must send notices of the meeting to the creditors at least 7 days before the date of the meeting and advertise the notice in the Gazette and in local newspapers (section 237A(1A));
  - (c) the liquidator must provide the creditors with any information on the company's affairs that the creditors may reasonably require (section 237A(1D)); and
  - (d) the liquidator must prepare a full statement of the position of the company's affairs in conformity with section 237A(1G) (section 237A(1F)).
33. Clause 67 adds a new section 237B to provide for conversion of a members' voluntary winding up into a creditors' voluntary winding up.
  34. Clause 72 amends section 240 to provide that sections 241, 242 and 243A do not apply to a winding up that has become a creditors' voluntary winding up under the new section 237B(1).
  35. Clause 73 amends section 241 mainly to enhance the protection for creditors in a creditors' winding up, particularly in relation to the first creditors' meeting in such winding up. Under the amended section 241—
    - (a) the meeting of the creditors of the company is deferred to a date not later than 14 days after the day on which there is to be held the meeting of the company at which a resolution for voluntary winding up is to be proposed;
    - (b) the company must give notice of the meeting of creditors at least 7 days before the date of the meeting; and

- (c) the directors must give a full statement of the position of the company's affairs in conformity with section 241(3A).
36. Clause 75 adds a new section 243A to restrict the powers and duties of a liquidator nominated by the company under section 242.
37. Clause 76 adds a new section 244A to provide for a procedure to remove a liquidator in a creditors' voluntary winding up (except a liquidator appointed by the court).
38. Clause 77 amends section 245 to provide further that if a vacancy arises in the office of a liquidator appointed by the court, such vacancy is to be filled by the court.
39. Clause 81 adds a new section 250A to restrict the directors' powers before the nomination or appointment of a liquidator in a voluntary winding up.
40. Clause 82 amends section 251 to provide that the powers and duties of a liquidator in that section are subject to the new section 243A.
41. Clause 83 amends section 253 mainly to align the time limit for the giving of various notices under that section.
42. Clause 84 amends section 255A to clarify when an audit of liquidator's accounts may be dispensed with in different types of voluntary winding up.
43. Clause 85 adds a new Division 4A to Part V, containing new sections 262A to 262G.
44. The new section 262A provides that if certain conditions are not met, a person must not be appointed, or nominated for appointment, or act as a provisional liquidator or liquidator of the company.

45. The new section 262B provides that certain persons (including a body corporate, an undischarged bankrupt, a person subject to a disqualification order, a person with mental incapacity and a person with conflict of interest) are disqualified from being appointed or nominated for appointment, and from acting, as a provisional liquidator or liquidator.
46. The new sections 262C and 262D provide that before a person may be appointed or nominated for appointment as a provisional liquidator or liquidator, the person must make a disclosure statement. The statement must—
- (a) confirm that either the person is not disqualified to act as a provisional liquidator or liquidator under the new section 262B, or if the person is disqualified, the leave of the court has been obtained; and
  - (b) disclose whether there is any relationship with the company that falls within those set out in the new section 262D(2). If such relationship exists, the person has to give details and the reasons for believing that the relationship would not result in a conflict of interest or duty.
47. The new section 262E provides that a convenor of a meeting at which the appointment or nomination for appointment of a provisional liquidator or liquidator is to be considered, must ensure that certain procedural requirements concerning the disclosure statements are complied with.
48. The new section 262F imposes an obligation on provisional liquidators and liquidators who are required to make disclosure statements to update the disclosure statements upon discovery of any relationship that should be disclosed or of any changes or errors.

49. The new section 262G replaces and extends the scope of section 196(5) regarding validity of acts of a liquidator.
50. The effect of winding up on antecedent and other transactions is dealt with by certain provisions in Part V. Currently, sections 266, 266A and 266B, by applying certain provisions in the Bankruptcy Ordinance (Cap. 6) with modifications, provide for the avoidance of unfair preferences given by a company in certain circumstances. Section 267 provides for the effect of floating charges created on the undertaking or property of a company prior to its winding up. There is no provision in relation to transactions at an undervalue. Clauses 88 to 92—
- (a) add new provisions to empower the court to avoid transactions at an undervalue entered into by a company in certain circumstances (new sections 265D and 265E);
  - (b) replace sections 266 and 266A with self-contained provisions in relation to unfair preferences;
  - (c) replace section 266B and add new sections 266C and 266D to provide for the following matters concerning both transactions at an undervalue and unfair preferences—
    - (i) the meaning of relevant time under new section 265D and the amended section 266 (amended section 266B);
    - (ii) matters related to the orders to be made by the court (new section 266C); and
    - (iii) matters related to the applicability of the relevant provisions (new section 266D);
  - (d) replace section 267 and add a new section 267A to enhance the effectiveness and flexibility of the provisions in relation to floating charges; and

- (e) make interpretation provisions (new sections 265A, 265B and 265C) for the purposes mentioned in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d).
51. Clause 94 amends section 274 to replace the concept of “proper books of account” with “accounting records”, so that the scope of records required to be kept under that section is aligned with that required under section 373 of the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 622).
52. Clause 95 amends section 276 to—
- (a) achieve consistency in the references to “breach of duty” and “breach of trust” within that section;
  - (b) align the persons subject to the misfeasance proceedings under that section with those persons who may be publicly examined under the new section 286A; and
  - (c) provide that an application under section 276 to assess damages against a person who has acted as a liquidator and who has been released under section 205 can only be made with the leave of the court.
53. Clause 97 repeals section 278 as disqualification for appointment as liquidators is provided in the new section 262B.
54. Clause 98 amends section 278A and clause 106 adds a new section 297B to extend the original scope of section 278A. The offence under those sections now covers the appointment or nomination of a person as—
- (a) a provisional liquidator of a company; and
  - (b) the receiver or manager of the property of a company.

Also, the giving of valuable consideration to any person, other than to a member or creditor of a company as provided in the existing section 278A, will be caught.

55. The new section 285A added by clause 99 is originally the existing section 115. Section 115 is moved as part of the effort to rationalize the structure of the Ordinance.
56. Clause 101 adds new sections 286A to 286E to replace the existing sections 221, 222 and 222A, so as to improve the private and public examination procedures—
- (a) The new section 286A replaces section 222 for the public examination procedure. Among other things, the precondition that there is a further report under section 191(2) to allege that a fraud has been committed is removed. The categories of persons who may be subject to public examination are also expanded.
  - (b) The new sections 286B and 286C replace section 221 for the private examination procedure. Among other things, the power of the court to order a person to submit an affidavit to provide information is added. The persons who may apply for the court to exercise its powers relating to the private examination procedure are specified.
  - (c) The new section 286D provides that self-incrimination is not an excuse for not complying with a requirement imposed under the new section 286A, 286B or 286C. Nevertheless, if the information given in compliance with such a requirement might tend to incriminate the person, the information is not admissible in evidence against the person in criminal proceedings, except for certain offences relating to giving false information or perjury.
  - (d) The new section 286E replaces section 222A to relocate the provisions on the jurisdiction of a registrar of the High Court to exercise the powers and perform the duties of the court regarding the private and public - examination procedures and to include public examination under section 168IA.

57. Clause 105 adds a new Division 6 to Part V. That Division provides for the circumstances in which a liquidator may communicate with another person by electronic means or via a website in every mode of winding up.
58. Clause 116 updates the Twelfth Schedule with reference to the offences created or amended by the Bill.

63. Clause 122 adds new rules 3A, 3B and 3C to prescribe the content of, and the information to be given in, a statutory demand. Clause 173(1) adds a new Form 1A to the Appendix as the prescribed form for the statutory demand required under section 178 or 327 of the Ordinance.
64. Clauses 123, 138, 142, 143, 145, 146 and 172 make consequential amendments to rules 5, 52, 57, 57A, 59, 62 and 206 arising from the replacement of sections 221 and 222 by the new sections 286A

- to 286D in the Ordinance. Clauses 139, 140 and 141 make minor textual amendments to rules 54, 55 and 56.
65. Clause 124 adds a new rule 20A to require a person giving notice or sending document in accordance with the Winding-up Rules, or Part V or X of the Ordinance, to provide contact details. Clause 121 amends rule 3 to provide that the forms in the Appendix may be used with any necessary variations so that it complies with the new rule 20A.
66. Clauses 126, 127, 128, 129, 130 and 131 update rules 28, 35, 39, 40 and 41, as well as the cross-heading before rule 39, in view of the introduction of affidavits of concurrence under section 190 of the Ordinance. 67. Clause 136 amends rule 45—
- (a) so that the court, in exercising the power to make appointments under that rule, has to conform to the requirements relating to the composition of the committee of inspection in the amended section 206 of the Ordinance (clause 42); and
  - (b) to clarify the meaning of liquidator in relation to paragraphs (4A), (5), (6) and (7) of that rule.
68. Clause 137 adds a new rule 51A to make provisions concerning the evidence in support of an application under the new section 286A of the Ordinance.
69. Clause 144 adds new rules 58A and 58B—
- (a) The new rule 58A requires an application under the new section 286B of the Ordinance to specify the

70. Clauses 148, 149 and 150 contain amendments relating to the settlement of the list of contributories of a company—
- (a) Clause 148 adds a new rule 67A for ease of reference in that rule and rules 68 to 73.
  - (b) Clause 149 substitutes rules 68, 69, 70 and 71 mainly to dispense with the requirement for the liquidator to appoint a time and place for the settlement of the list of contributories. Instead, after the notice of provisional list of contributories has been sent, there is a period for objection by persons proposed to be included in the list to be settled, after which the liquidator will settle the list of contributories.
  - (c) Clause 150 amends rule 72 consequentially.
71. Clause 151 amends rule 74 to correct the reference to the section in the Ordinance under which the court may make calls on contributories.

Parts 7 and 8—Transitional and saving provisions and consequential and related amendments

85. Part 7 contains transitional and saving provisions and Part 8 makes consequential and related amendments to other Ordinances.

OTHER MAJOR PROPOSALS FOR INCREASING PROTECTION OF CREDITORS

- (a) introducing additional safeguards in the section 228A procedure of CWUMPO (paragraph 6(d) of the main paper) – These additional safeguards include (i) requiring that the company’s meeting must have been summoned before the commencement of the winding-up; (ii) requiring that a provisional liquidator must have been appointed before the commencement of the winding-up; and (iii) restricting the powers of the provisional liquidator such that, with a few exceptions, he may exercise powers conferred on a liquidator only if he has obtained the sanction of the court;

- (b) enhancing the requirements relating to the first creditors’ meeting upon the commencement of a creditors’ voluntary winding-up and restricting the powers of the members-appointed liquidator and the directors before the holding of the first creditors’ meeting and the appointment of a liquidator respectively (paragraph 6(e) of the main paper) – at present, the company is required to summon the first creditors’ meeting for the same day as the members’ meeting or the next following day. However, CWUMPO does not provide for the minimum period of notice required for summoning the first creditors’ meeting. The present position is unsatisfactory as creditors may not have sufficient time to prepare for the first creditors’ meeting. Therefore, we propose to remove the existing requirement of holding the first creditors’ meeting on the same day as, or the next following day after, the day of the company’s meeting; to prescribe a minimum notice period of seven days for summoning the first creditors’ meeting; and to provide that the first creditors’ meeting is to be held within fourteen days after the holding of the members’ meeting. At the same time, in order to safeguard against potential abuse of powers by the members-appointed liquidator or the directors of the company before the holding of the first creditors’ meeting and the appointment of a liquidator respectively, we propose to restrict their powers. For example, a liquidator is required to obtain the sanction of the court before exercising any powers of a liquidator except the following – (i) take into custody all property to which the company is entitled; (ii) dispose of perishable goods and other goods that are likely to diminish in value if not immediately disposed of; or (iii) do all things necessary for the protection of the company’s assets;

- (c) improving the existing provisions under section 267 of CWUMPO on invalidating floating charges created before the winding-up by extending the claw-back period in relation to floating charges created in favour of “persons who are connected with the company” from 12 months to two years before commencement of winding-up (paragraph 7 of the main paper);
- (d) expanding the list of persons (to also include e.g. the spouse of a director of the debtor-company) in relation to whom more stringent requirements will be imposed under the relevant provisions on voidable transactions (paragraph 7 of the main paper); and
- (e) enhancing the procedural requirements relating to the conversion of a members’ voluntary winding-up to a creditors’ voluntary winding-up in cases where the liquidator is of the opinion that the company will not be able to pay its debts in full. The improvements include, for example, specifying a time limit (i.e. 28 days) that the creditors’ meeting must be held after the liquidator has formed that opinion; and requiring the liquidator to prepare a statement of the position of the company’s affairs containing the particulars of the company’s assets and liabilities for consideration by the creditors’ meeting (paragraph 7 of the main paper).

OTHER MAJOR PROPOSALS FOR
STREAMLINING THE WINDING-UP PROCESS

- (a) Prescribing the maximum and minimum numbers of members of the COIs (paragraph 8(d)(iii) of the main paper) – at present, there is no provision in CWUMPO which sets a maximum number of members of a COI in a court winding-up, while in a creditors' voluntary winding-up, the creditors may appoint a COI of not more than five members (and if a COI is appointed by the creditors, the company may appoint up to five persons to act as COI members). There is no provision for a minimum number of COI members, but it is provided that notwithstanding a vacancy in the COI, the remaining members, if not less than two, may continue to act. The Bill amends the relevant provisions to set the maximum number of members of a COI at seven so as to avoid the situation where an unreasonably large COI may stifle its decision making process. The minimum number of members of a COI is set at three to minimize the chance of a deadlock;
- (b) Introducing other provisions to streamline the proceedings of COIs and enhance clarity of the relevant provisions (paragraph 9 of the main paper) by -
  - (i) providing that it is not necessary to fill a vacancy in a COI if the total number of the continuing members does not fall below the prescribed minimum number and the liquidator and a majority of the continuing members agree that, having regard to the position in the winding-up, it is unnecessary for the vacancy to be filled;
  - (ii) stipulating that a body corporate may be a member of a COI;
  - (iii) providing that a member of a COI would be capable of being represented by another person duly authorized by a letter of authority or by a general power of attorney;
  - (iv) removing the mandatory requirement that the COI must meet at least once a month, and providing for flexibility that the liquidator may summon a meeting of the COI as and when necessary;

- (v) requiring that the liquidator shall summon a first meeting of the COI to be held within six weeks from the date of his appointment or the appointment of the COI (whichever is the later);
  - (vi) requiring that the liquidator must give five days' written notice of the date, time and place of a COI meeting to every member of the COI;
  - (vii) providing that the liquidator must, after the first meeting of the COI, summon a meeting of the COI to be held within 21 days if such a meeting is requested in writing by a COI member or his representative;
  - (viii) providing that the liquidator must, after the first meeting of the COI, hold a meeting of the COI on a date specified by the COI if the COI has resolved that a meeting is to be so held; and
  - (ix) providing expressly that a member of the COI is entitled to reasonable travelling expenses incurred directly by the COI member or his representative for travelling within Hong Kong to attend COI meetings or on COI business;
- (c) providing for a prescribed form of statutory demand for use by a creditor to demand payment of a debt from the debtor-company before petitioning to the court for the winding up of the company so as to avoid disputes over the validity or effect of a demand (paragraph 9 of the main paper); and
- (d) setting out the existing powers of the liquidator in sections 199(1) and (2) of CWUMPO for different types of winding-up in new Schedule 25 of CWUMPO to improve clarity (paragraph 9 of the main paper).

OTHER MAJOR PROPOSALS FOR FURTHER ENHANCING THE INTEGRITY OF THE WINDING-UP PROCESS

- (a) expanding the list of persons disqualified for appointment as a provisional liquidator or liquidator (paragraph 10(d) of the main paper) – Apart from undischarged bankrupts and bodies corporate, the list would be expanded to cover also (i) persons having a conflict of interest including creditors, debtors, directors/former directors, company secretaries/former company secretaries, receivers or managers of the property of the company being wound up, or auditors of the company; (ii) persons against whom a disqualification order<sup>1</sup> has been made by the court and remaining in effect; and (iii) persons with mental incapacity. The Bill proposes that a person under sub-paragraph (i) or (ii) may be appointed as a provisional liquidator or liquidator with the leave of the court;
- (b) introducing a new requirement for disclosure by a prospective provisional liquidator and a prospective liquidator (paragraph 10(e) of the main paper) – A person must make a disclosure statement on the specified relationships (if any) between him or his immediate family members, etc. and the company to the appointing parties before he is to be formally nominated for appointment or appointed as provisional liquidator or liquidator of the company. The specified relationships include –
  - (i) the prospective provisional liquidator or prospective liquidator is, or at any time within two years before making the statement was –
    - (A) a member of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary;
    - (B) a creditor or debtor of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary;
    - (C) a director or company secretary of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary;
    - (D) an employee of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary;

<sup>1</sup> The court may make various orders under the CWUMPO and the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Chapter 571) as defined under section 168R(5) of CWUMPO to disqualify a person for a specified period from acting as a director, provisional liquidator or liquidator of a company, a receiver or manager of a company's property, or in any way, whether directly or indirectly, being concerned or taking part in the promotion, formation or management of a company.

- (E) an auditor of the company;
  - (F) a receiver or manager of the property of the company;
  - (G) a provisional liquidator or liquidator of the company;
  - (H) a legal advisor of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary; or
  - (I) a financial advisor of the company, its holding company or its subsidiary; and
- (ii) An immediate family member of the prospective provisional liquidator or prospective liquidator is, or at any time within two years before making the statement was, a person mentioned in sub-paragraph (i)(C), (E), (F) or (G);

A prospective provisional liquidator and a prospective liquidator who fails to include any of the specified relationships in the statement will be liable to a fine. It would be a defence if he can prove that he had made reasonable enquiries, and after making these enquiries, he had no reasonable grounds for believing that there existed such specified relationship with respect to his nomination or appointment as provisional liquidator or liquidator;

- (c) providing for procedures for the removal of a liquidator in a creditors' voluntary winding-up (in addition to the procedures for removal of a liquidator in a court winding-up or a members' voluntary winding-up, which are currently stipulated); and providing for procedures for the resignation of liquidators in a voluntary winding-up (paragraph 10(f) of the main paper);
- (d) improving the private examination procedure (i.e. where the court may summon the persons concerned to attend before it and be examined on oath) under section 221 of CWUMPO (paragraph 10(g) of the main paper) by—
  - (i) providing expressly that the person being examined may at the person's own expense employ a solicitor with or without counsel;
  - (ii) providing that the evidence in support of the application for a private examination order in the form of a report to the court is confidential;
  - (iii) requiring the application to state in particular what orders are to be sought;
  - (iv) specifying that, for invoking a private examination procedure, the provisional liquidator or liquidator is the eligible party who can make an application to the court, and in case of a court winding-up, the OR is an eligible party as well;

- (v) providing that the court has the power to require a person to submit an affidavit to give information concerning the promotion, formation, trade, dealings, affairs or property of the company;
  - (vi) confirming the case law position by providing expressly that self-incrimination is not an excuse for not complying with a requirement imposed for the procedure;
  - (vii) providing for the inclusion in the notice and the order for examination of a warning statement that on conviction for perjury during the examination, a person will be liable to a fine and imprisonment; and
  - (viii) providing for the application of the section (as new sections 286B and 286C) to both a court winding-up and a voluntary winding-up; and
- (e) improving the public examination procedure (i.e. where the court may direct the persons concerned to attend before it and be publicly examined) under section 222 of CWUMPO (paragraph 10(g) of the main paper) by -
- (i) widening the scope of application of the procedure by removing the requirement that the OR or the liquidator must have alleged that “fraud” has been committed before the procedure can be initiated;
  - (ii) apart from past or present officers of the company, adding further categories of person (i.e. past or present liquidators, receivers or managers of the property of the company or any person who is or has been concerned, or is or has taken part, in the promotion, formation or management of the company) that may be ordered to attend before the court for a public examination; and
  - (iii) confirming the case law position by providing expressly that self-incrimination is not an excuse for not complying with a requirement imposed for the procedure; and
  - (iv) introducing technical amendments which are the same as those set out in paragraphs (d)(i), (ii) and (vii) above.

OTHER TECHNICAL AMENDMENTS

(paragraph 11 of the main paper)

The other technical proposals are –

- (a) clarifying the relevant existing provision by specifying that –
  - (i) in a creditors' voluntary winding-up, the COI (or in its absence, the creditors' meeting) is the authority for deciding that an audit of the account of a liquidator will not be required; and
  - (ii) in a members' voluntary winding-up, the relevant authority is the members' meeting;
- (b) providing that where a director or the company secretary (or any other relevant person as requested by the provisional liquidator or liquidator) is required under CWUMPO to submit a statement of affairs after the commencement of a court winding-up, the provisional liquidator or liquidator (as the case may be) may require any person mentioned in section 190(2)(a)-(d) of CWUMPO to submit an affidavit of concurrence in relation to a statement of affairs; and providing that these persons are entitled to be paid the costs and expenses incurred for the purpose;
- (c) shortening the period required for a liquidator to publish a notice of his appointment in the Gazette and deliver the notice to the Registrar of Companies for registration from 21 days to 15 days after the date of his appointment;
- (d) consequential to the proposal to expand the list of persons disqualified for appointment as a provisional liquidator or liquidator (paragraph 10(d) of the main paper and paragraph (a) of Annex D), providing corresponding technical amendments to widen the scope for application for vacation of office and for release by a liquidator in a winding-up;
- (e) empowering the provisional liquidator (in addition to OR) to apply to the court under section 227B(1) of CWUMPO for an order to dispense with first meetings of creditors and contributories and to appoint a liquidator and a COI in a winding-up subject to a regulating order;
- (f) extending the time limit in which a company is required to give notice of a resolution for voluntary winding-up in the Gazette from 14 days to 15 days to take into account the weekly schedule of making the gazettal arrangement;

- (g) streamlining the procedure for the settlement of a list of contributories<sup>1</sup> by the liquidator in a court winding-up by replacing the existing requirement on the liquidator to appoint a time and place for the purpose of settling the list and dealing with objections with a simpler procedure through which the liquidator may deal with these matters through written communications;
- (h) clarifying that the “relevant date” under section 227E(3) of CWUMPO in a winding-up by the court with a regulating order should be the date of the winding-up order;
- (i) repealing section 228(1)(c) of CWUMPO as it is superfluous;
- (j) harmonizing the meaning of “proper books of account” under section 274(2) of CWUMPO with that of “accounting records” under the new Companies Ordinance (Chapter 622);
- (k) removing inconsistent references to “breach of duty” and “breach of trust” by replacing both references with “breach of duty or breach of trust” in section 276 of CWUMPO; and
- (l) making a general provision to require a sender to include his contact information in the notice or document to be sent to a recipient which requires a reply (e.g. notice of creditors' meeting) under the CWUMPO provisions to facilitate the recipient in contacting the sender.

ECONOMIC, FINANCIAL AND CIVIL SERVICE IMPLICATIONS

Economic Implications

The proposal will help enhance Hong Kong's business environment, thereby strengthening our position as an international financial and business centre. In particular, the proposal will increase the protection of creditors, streamline the winding-up process and further enhance the integrity of the winding-up process.

Financial and Civil Service Implications

2. The proposal will not introduce any change to the existing fee levels and structures of the Judiciary and insolvency-related services rendered by the Official Receiver's Office (ORO) and hence it does not have any revenue implications.

3. The OR will be given additional regulatory powers under the proposal. ORO should be able to absorb the workload arising from the exercise of such new powers by its existing staffing resources. Additional resources, if required, would be sought in accordance with the established mechanism.

4. As regards the implications on the Judiciary, under the established funding arrangements agreed between the Government and the Judiciary, the Government should provide the Judiciary with the necessary manpower and financial resources relating to this proposal should such needs arise in future.
