discuss the development of an integrated complex with hotels and retail space in Northwest New Territories, which would address the mismatch between the increase in retail volume and lack of retail space in Hong Kong.

At the Panel meeting on 15 October 2015, Dr Hon Helena WONG suggested that the Administration should brief the Panel on its plans to relocate the existing wholesale markets, including the Cheung Sha Wan Temporary Wholesale Poultry Market and the Yau Ma Tei Fruit Market, so as to release these urban land sites for better uses. He suggested that the Panel should follow up with the Administration on the long-term use of the site given that there was demand for more community facilities in the district.

In view of the special requirements for the replacement site and the constraints imposed by live poultry wholesale activities, identifying a suitable replacement site would need to take into account a host of different factors. It would also be necessary to conduct detailed technical assessments to ascertain the suitability and feasibility of establishing a live poultry wholesale market at any potential replacement site identified. In planning and designing any new wholesale poultry market, consultation with relevant stakeholders will need to be conducted at different stages. The relocation of*

For the Yau Ma Tei Fruit Market, the Administration is still examining the way forward for the market. For the wholesale fresh fish market in Yuen Long, which is a privately-run business operating at the site on short-term tenancy, a Legislative Council case conference was held in July 2015 to discuss the relocation of the market and the long-term use and development of the site, in response to the concerns of the Yuen Long District Council ("YLDC"). The meeting concluded that the reprovisioning request made by YLDC members should be referred to the Panel on Food Safety and Environmental Hygiene for follow-up.

According to the existing mechanism, topical reviews of specific standards and guidelines in the HKPSG are conducted by individual B/Ds as and when necessary, taking into account the concerned B/Ds' latest relevant policies and development requirements. The Administration does not consider it necessary or practicable to conduct a review of the whole HKPSG. If revision of existing standards and guidelines or formulation of new standards and guidelines is considered necessary, it could be taken forward at the request of relevant B/Ds in accordance with the established mechanism. If Panel members have any question about specific areas of the planning standards and guidelines, the Development Bureau and the Planning Department stand ready to coordinate with the relevant B/Ds to provide specific responses as appropriate.*
