Dear Mr. Ng,

Professional Accountants (Amendment) Bill 2016

I intend to introduce a member's bill, namely the "Professional Accountants (Amendment) Bill 2016" into the Legislative Council. The bill will tighten up the usage of the term "Certified Public Accountant" in order to enable the general public to ascertain more easily whether a person or a company is a practice unit which is qualified to provide professional accounting service under the Professional Accountants Ordinance.

I am writing to consult the Panel on Financial Affairs on this legislative proposal and the draft bill. I would be grateful if the Panel could arrange a timeslot to discuss this proposal.

The following documents are enclosed for your perusal:

- (a) The draft bill; and
- (b) Background information on the Bill.

Yours sincerely,

Kenneth Leung

Background Brief on the Professional Accountants (Amendment) Bill 2016

INTRODUCTION

1. This paper sets out the background of the Hon Kenneth Leung's proposal to amend the Professional Accountants Ordinance (Cap. 50) (the "PAO"), which will be introduced as a Member's Bill into the Legislative Council, namely the "Professional Accountants (Amendment) Bill 2016" ("the proposed Bill").

PROPOSAL

2. The proposed Bill amends the PAO –
 - (i) to prohibit any company, not being a corporate practice registered with the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the "Institute") under the PAO to use in conjunction with its name with any written words, abbreviation of words, description, initials, or characters intended to cause, or which may reasonably cause any person to believe that it is a practice unit;
 - (ii) to prohibit any individual not being a certified public accountant holding a practicing certificate or not being a practice unit the firm name of which is registered with the Institute under section 28A of the PAO to use in conjunction with his name any written words, abbreviation of words, description, initials, or characters intended to cause, or which may reasonably cause, any person to believe that the person using the same is a certified public accountant holding a practising certificate or being a practice unit the firm name of which is registered with the Institute under the PAO.

JUSTIFICATION

3. The Hon Kenneth Leung introduced the Professional Accountants (Amendment) Bill 2013 to prohibit any company which is not a corporate practice from using the terms “certified public accountant”, “CPA” or “會計師” in its name if the intention is to cause, or which may reasonably cause any person to believe that it is a practice unit under the PAO. The Bill passed on 30 October 2013 and came into force on 24 January 2014.
4. Under section 42(1)(ha) of the PAO, it is an offence for a company not being a corporate practice, to use the descriptions “certified public accountant (practising)” or “public accountant”, the initials “CPA (practising)”, “PA” or the characters “執業會計師”, “註冊核數師”, “核數師” or “審計師”, in its name in connection with its business. Furthermore, it is an offence for a company not being a corporate practice, to use the descriptions “certified public accountant”, the initials “CPA” or the characters “會計師” with the intention of causing, or in a way which may reasonably cause a person to believe that it is a practice unit.
5. The current section 42(1)(ha) does not prohibit a company which is not a corporate practice, from using any written words, abbreviation of words, description, initials, or characters which may reasonably cause a person to believe that it is a practice unit, as long as its name does not use in conjunction with the descriptions, initials or characters stated in section 42(1)(ha) of the PAO.
6. Company searches have revealed that there are companies registered with the Companies Registry which are currently using terms such as “Professional Accounting Services”, “Professional Accounting and Secretary”, “Professional Accounting and Secretarial Services”, and “Professional Accounting and Taxation” which may cause confusion and lead the public to believe that such companies are practice unit qualified to provide professional auditing service under the PAO.
7. In a reply to a written question raised by the Hon Kenneth Leung on 16 December 2015, the Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury stated the Police were concerned about crimes arising from money lending activities, in particular, those with the involvement of financial intermediaries. Between August to October 2015, the Police received 235 reported cases from the public concerning alleged illegal activities by financial intermediaries. Out of these cases, 61 cases classified as criminal cases.

8. The Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury has observed that there were cases under which financial intermediaries operating under the name of an “accounting firm”, a “law firm” or a “consultancy firm” claimed to be able to provide professional services including debt restructuring, stress test analyses, accounting advice, improvement in credit records for individuals.
9. It is in the public interest to enable the general public to identify easily whether a person or a company is a practice unit which is qualified to provide professional auditing service under the PAO. It is also important to prohibit unqualified company and individual to provide accounting and auditing services, as this practice may damage the reputation and integrity of the accountancy profession in Hong Kong.
