Dear Sirs,

Like many other concerned HK residents I am appalled that our territory is considered by many to be the global transit hub for ivory.

We are therefore currently complicit in fueling the trade and therefore the slaughter of thousands of elephants each and every year.

How can we allow this when we have an entire government department AFCD who propagate the highest standards for animal welfare and have laws protecting animal welfare in our territory.

Time has come to take the hard decision and to ban the ivory trade immediately in our home.

We must also impose hard jail sentences for offenders and to educate our school children that we hold the high moral ground.

Let us lead the world on this matter.

Kind regards,

Mr Glyndwr Rhys Treasure
