Hello Legco Team,

I think killing elepahnts just for the ivory is not right , 1st because all the elephants are becoming extinct, in 5 years at this rate there will be no more and 2nd when i walk down the streets and see ivory being sold, no one buys it, so it just pointless if its not selling , yes theres one or 2 big preices that go for a lot of money, but all the other ones just go to waste. So in Conclusion I am against

Please stop
