Dear Ms CHAN,

Follow Up to Meeting on 18 October 2017

Revised Number of Vacancies in the 2015 Hong Kong International Airport Workforce Survey

I am writing in response to the letter dated 19 October 2017 from the Chairman of the Subcommittee to Follow Up Issues Relating to the Three-runway System at the Hong Kong International Airport (“HKIA”), requesting the Airport Authority Hong Kong (“AAHK”) to provide the revised number of vacancies by job category in the 2015 HKIA Workforce Survey (“2015 Survey”).

As explained in LC Paper No. CB(4)42/17-18(01), in the light of information received from the 2017 HKIA Workforce Survey and upon inquiries made by AAHK, it was confirmed that there was a reporting error in the 2015 Survey. Among the vacancies reported by the participating companies, 1,040 of them did not contain information about their job category. For this reason, they were erroneously omitted from the total count of vacancies. With the inclusion of these 1,040 vacancies, the total number of vacancies in the 2015 Survey should be 4,959, and the revised number and percentage of vacancies by job category, as reported by the participating companies in the 2015 Survey, are as follows :

Job Category	Number of Vacancies	Percentage of Total
Skilled	1,826	37%
Manual/ Low-skilled	1,579	32%
Professional	408	8%
Managerial and above	106	2%
No breakdown	1,040	21%
Total =	4,959	100%

Thank you for your attention.

Yours sincerely,

(Wilson FUNG Wing-yip)
Executive Director, Corporate Development
Airport Authority Hong Kong
