Additional provision for social security recipients

Purpose

This paper provides background information and gives an account of the discussions of the Council and its committees on the Administration's one-off relief measures to provide recipients of Comprehensive Social Security Assistance ("CSSA") and Social Security Allowance ("SSA") with extra payments.

Background

2007-2008 financial year

2. The Financial Secretary ("FS") proposed in the 2007-2008 Budget Speech delivered on 28 February 2007 the provision of one additional month of standard payment rates for CSSA recipients and one additional month of allowance for SSA (comprising Old Age Allowance ("OAA") and Disability Allowance ("DA")) recipients. The additional payments were disbursed in May 2007.

2008-2009 financial year

3. To share the fruits of the economic prosperity, FS announced in the 2008-2009 Budget the proposal to provide social security recipients with one additional month of CSSA standard payment rates and one additional month of DA. FS also proposed to provide each OAA recipient with a one-off grant of $3,000. The additional payments were effected in June 2008.

4. To ease the impact of rising prices on CSSA households, the Administration also proposed adjusting the CSSA standard payment rates in accordance with the existing mechanism ahead of the normal annual adjustment cycle in 2008-2009.<sup>1</sup> Following the approval of the Finance Committee ("FC"), the CSSA standard payment rates were increased by 4.4% with effect from 1 August 2008.

5. During the Question and Answer Session at the Legislative Council ("LegCo") on 16 July 2008, the Chief Executive announced a package of relief measures, including the provision of one additional month of the standard payment rates for CSSA recipients, one additional month of allowance for DA recipients, and two additional months of allowance for OAA recipients. The additional payments were effected in September 2008.

2009-2010 to 2012-2013 financial years

6. On 26 May 2009, FS announced a package of additional relief measures which included, among other things, the provision of one additional month of the standard payment rates for CSSA recipients and one additional month of allowance for SSA (comprising OAA and DA) recipients. According to the Administration, this one-off measure was proposed in consideration of the profound impact of the financial turmoil on different walks of life including the grass roots. The additional payments were effected in September 2009.

7. Such an additional provision for social security recipients was also proposed in the Budgets for the following three financial years (i.e. 2010-2011 to 2012-2013). The additional payments were effected in July of the financial years concerned.

2013-2014 and 2014-2015 financial years

8. FS had proposed in the 2013-2014 and 2014-2015 Budgets the aforesaid additional provision for recipients of CSSA, OAA and DA as well as the provision of one additional month of allowance for the recipients of Old Age Living Allowance ("OALA") which was introduced under the SSA Scheme in April 2013. In addition, the extra payments for OAA recipients proposed in 2014-2015 Budget would be further extended to the recipients of the Guangdong Scheme which was launched in October 2013.<sup>2</sup> The additional payments were effected in July 2013 and August 2014 respectively.

<sup>1</sup> The standard payment rates of Comprehensive Social Security Assistance ("CSSA") are adjusted annually in February taking into account the movement of the Social Security Assistance Index of Prices ("SSAIP") in the past 12 months (i.e. from 1 November of a year to 31 October of the following year). SSAIP is compiled by the Census and Statistics Department ("C&SD") to measure inflation according to the expenditure pattern of CSSA households. The weighting system of SSAIP is updated every five years based on the findings of the Household Expenditure Survey ("HES") on CSSA Households conducted by C&SD. According to the Administration, C&SD announced the weighting system of the 2014-2015-based SSAIP in November 2016 after completion of the latest round of HES in 2014-2015.

2015-2016 financial year

9. FS proposed in the 2015-2016 Budget the provision of an extra allowance for CSSA recipients, which was equal to two months of the standard payment rates of CSSA, and an extra allowance to the recipients of OAA (including the Guangdong Scheme), OALA and DA, which was equal to two months of the respective allowances. The additional payments were effected in July 2015.

2016-2017 and 2017-2018 financial years

10. In the 2016-2017 Budget, FS proposed to provide an extra allowance for social security recipients, which was equal to one month of the standard payment rates of CSSA, OAA, OALA or DA. Such an additional provision for social security recipients was also proposed in the 2017-2018 Budget. Similar arrangements applied to the Low-income Working Family Allowance ("LIFA") and Work Incentive Transport Subsidy ("WITS").<sup>3</sup> The additional payments were effected in June of the financial years concerned.

2018-2019 financial year

11. FS has proposed in the 2018-2019 Budget the provision of an extra allowance to social security recipients, which is equal to two months of the standard payment rates of CSSA, OAA, OALA or DA. Similar arrangements will apply to LIFA and WITS recipients.

Deliberations by Members

12. While expressing support for additional relief measures for the disadvantaged, some Members were concerned about the long-term effectiveness of the proposed one-off measures to assist recipients of CSSA and SSA. Pointing out that the Administration had provided the one-off relief measures consecutively in the past years, these Members were of the view that the Administration should address the crux of the problem and consider adjusting upwards the standard payment rates of CSSA and SSA rates if the current payment levels were proven to be inadequate for the recipients even at times of economic downturn. Some other Members had time and again raised concern that the Administration had not conducted any review of the CSSA Scheme in connection with the social changes and economic growth since 1996. These Members called on the Administration to conduct a study on the needs of the disadvantaged groups and on whether the existing level of CSSA payment was adequate to meet their needs. At its meeting on 13 April 2015, the Panel on Welfare Services passed a motion urging the Administration to initiate a comprehensive review of the CSSA Scheme in the 2015-2016 financial year.

13. The Administration advised that the proposed additional payment was a one-off relief measure. The decision to provide additional one-off payments in the past years was based on individual circumstances on each occasion. This did not mean that the Administration considered the existing CSSA and SSA payment rates inadequate. The standard payment rates of CSSA and SSA rates would continue to be reviewed annually in accordance with the established adjustment mechanism mentioned in paragraph 4 above. The Administration would seek the FC's approval to adjust the payment rates ahead of the annual adjustment cycle if movements of Social Security Assistance Index of Prices and other economic indicators pointed to persistently high inflation. In addition, the cumulative increase in CSSA standard rates in the last few years was more than 30%. When comparing the average monthly CSSA payments with the average monthly expenditure of non-CSSA households in the lowest 25% expenditure group, the former was higher in all household sizes. Against this background, the Administration had no plan at this stage to review the CSSA standard rates.

14. Pointing out that half of the CSSA recipients living in private rental housing were paying rents which exceeded the maximum rent allowance ("MRA") under the CSSA Scheme, some Members called on the Administration to review and increase the level of rent allowance. Some other Members suggested that the Administration should consider setting different levels of rent allowance according to the districts where the CSSA recipients were living.

15. The Administration advised that it would take into account the movement of the Consumer Price Index (A) rent index for private housing in adjusting the rental allowance every year in accordance with the established mechanism. As at end-September 2017, MRA could cover the actual rent paid by 46% of CSSA households living in private rental housing. The Administration stressed that any changes to the established mechanism required careful consideration of various implications such as stimulating an escalation in rental levels. In addition, housing needs of the needy groups should ultimately be addressed through the provision of public rental housing.

16. Some Members suggested that the Administration should consider providing CSSA recipients living in private rental housing with an extra month of rent allowance or non-accountable rent allowance. The Administration advised that the Community Care Fund ("CCF") would relaunch the programme "Subsidy for CSSA Recipients Living in Rented Private Housing" ("the Programme") to provide a one-off subsidy for CSSA households living in private rental housing and paying rent which exceeded MRA under the CSSA Scheme. The Administration would enhance the arrangements for the Programme so that the amount of subsidy would be set having regard to the actual rent paid by eligible CSSA households. The maximum level of subsidy under the above enhanced arrangements would also increase. The Programme would last for two years. The Administration would keep in view its implementation as the basis of a possible model for regularizing the Programme in future.

17. Some Members raised concern that the one-off relief measure could not provide immediate and direct assistance for the low-income group and the unemployed. These Members considered that the Administration should provide concrete assistance, such as unemployment subsidy, for the unemployed.

18. According to the Administration, the Labour Department had launched a series of measures to strengthen employment assistance and support. CSSA was not the only source of assistance available for those in need. Where there were proven needs, other forms of assistance, such as emergency relief, temporary cash grants from charitable trust funds and assistance in kind were available. The Social Welfare Department staff would, having regard to individual circumstances, render appropriate assistance to those in need.

19. Some Members considered that the Administration should have a radical change to its concept about one-off measures. They held the view that the introduction of one-off measures was an attempt of the Administration to avoid increasing social security assistance and other types of financial assistance. As there were still many needy people not covered by the assistance schemes launched by the Administration or CCF, the Administration should face up to the problem and provide them with regular financial assistance.

20. The Administration advised that poverty statistics had shown that quite a number of families were living below the poverty line although their family members were working full-time. The Administration considered that priority should be accorded to assisting low-income working families living below the poverty line.
