Legislative Council Panel on Welfare Services

Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses

Purpose

This paper briefs Members on the launch of Phase Two of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses (Special Sites Scheme) by the Government and to report the latest position of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme.

Background

2. The Government launched the Special Sites Scheme (Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme) in September 2013. Non-governmental organisation (NGO) applicants have to provide or increase on their own sites, through expansion, redevelopment or new development, those welfare facilities considered by the Government as being in acute demand, in particular to increase elderly and rehabilitation service places. We regularly reported to the Panel on Welfare Services on the progress of implementing the Special Sites Scheme since it was launched.

3. The 2018 Policy Address promulgated that the Government would implement a new phase of the Special Sites Scheme, under which targeted assistance is provided for participating NGOs during the planning or development process. Through applications for expansion, redevelopment or new development on the sites owned by the participating organisations, the scheme aims at increasing the provision of much-needed welfare facilities, in particular additional places of elderly, rehabilitation and child care services.

Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme

4. The features and flexibility of Phase One are maintained under Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme. Flexible funding arrangements under the Lotteries Fund (LF) will be provided, including those for welfare-related ancillary facilities, technical feasibility studies, decanting costs<sup>1</sup>, as well as capital works of self-financing projects, etc. The Government will also provide appropriate assistance to NGO applicants during the planning or development process. At the same time, having regard to the experience gained under Phase One, the Government has proposed various enhanced features for Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme.

The “Shopping List” of welfare facilities under Phase Two

5. On the types of social welfare services, considering that there is an acute demand for different social welfare services in the society, we have enhanced the types of welfare services on the list of facilities under Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme, including elderly services, rehabilitation services and child care services which are in great demand now and in the foreseeable future. Apart from including a total of five new facilities on elderly services and rehabilitation services, three types of child care services are also covered. The new services include Care and Attention Home providing Continuum of Care (C&A Home/CoC) cum Day Care Unit for the Elderly (DCU), Nursing Home (NH) cum DCU, Hostel for Severely Physically Handicapped Persons (HSPH), Supported Hostel (SHOS) for Mentally and Physically Handicapped Persons, On-site Pre-school Rehabilitation Services (OPRS) Office, Child Care Centre (CCC), Residential Child Care Centre (RCCC) and Small Group Home (SGH). The enhanced “Shopping List” with a total number of 18 types of services<sup>2</sup>, includes five types of elderly services, 10 types of rehabilitation services and three types of child care services, as set out as follows –

* New services included in the “Shopping List” under Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme.

6. NGOs participating in the Special Sites Scheme will have to provide a net increase in the provision of one or more than one service on a site under its ownership. To give NGOs greater flexibility to meet their other requirements, they may co-locate welfare facilities other than the 18 types of services mentioned above and/or non-welfare facilities on the same site provided that such uses and arrangement are permitted under the applicable regulations and procedures, and in compliance with the land lease governing the lot concerned.

Types of welfare-related ancillary facilities

7. With a view to enhancing development potential of sites, as in Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme, NGO applicants may co-locate welfare facilities other than those on the “Shopping List”, ancillary facilities and/or non-welfare facilities on the same site provided that such uses and arrangements are permitted under the applicable regulations and procedures, and in compliance with land lease governing the lot concerned. With a view to improving on the diversity of welfare-related ancillary facilities to better meet the multifarious needs of service users (particularly the vulnerable groups etc.), after consolidating the experience gained from the implementation of Phase One, we have increased the types of welfare-related ancillary facilities for inclusion in project proposals. Some examples are –

- (a) Medical (including both Chinese and western medical clinics) for welfare service users within the same site;
- (b) Dental facilities for welfare service users within the same site, as well as the service users of those welfare facilities on the Government’s “Shopping List” operated by any NGOs, and vulnerable groups (such as elderly persons on the Comprehensive Social Security Assistance or the Old Age Living Allowance, and persons with disabilities);
- (c) Training facilities for carers of the elderly, persons with disabilities and children with special needs, etc;
- (d) Acupuncture or massage service centre for welfare service users within the same site;
- (e) Service for assessment of children with special education needs;
- (f) Showroom and/or shop for innovative and gerontechnology products relating to the ageing society and needs of persons with disabilities;
- (g) Shop or kiosk selling daily necessities or caring products for the elderly and persons with disabilities; and
- (h) Café/canteen, involving the provision of vocational training and employment opportunities for persons with disabilities or the elderly, or for provision of meal services for service users, staff or visitors of the subject welfare premises.

Development of non-profit elderly apartments

8. Besides, to encourage NGO applicants under the Special Sites Scheme to optimise the development potential of their sites, and at the same time provide reasonable and affordable accommodation for elderly persons who are living in sub-standard housing or living in/applying for public rental housing, on the condition that the provision of those urgently needed welfare facilities in a Special Sites Scheme project will remain as the core components of the project and that the delivery of the project will not be unduly delayed, the Government supports in principle the relevant NGO applicants to develop non-profit elderly apartments on the same application site at nominal premium and nil administrative fee, subject to the formulation of an appropriate implementation and monitoring mechanism. These elderly persons are expected to have the means to live independently. The non-profit elderly apartments will be run on a self-financing basis by NGO applicants under the Special Sites Scheme, and the capital and recurrent costs incurred will be borne by the NGO applicants concerned.

Enhanced support on decanting cost

9. Separately, with regard to the expenses on rent and rates involved in decanting arrangement, with a view to providing further assistance to NGO applicants in need, if the relevant NGOs intend to rent premises as temporary reprovisioning, and can demonstrate to the Social Welfare Department (SWD) that alternatives for decanting (e.g. making use of vacant premises of NGO applicants/affiliate NGOs, implementing the redevelopment/expansion project by phases, or making use of earlier completed projects for decanting purposes for other project proposals, etc.) are not feasible, the SWD may, as a last resort, consider exercising its discretion to approve the use of the LF to meet the rent and rates for the temporary reprovisioning for a specified short period of time under the Special Sites Scheme.

Implementation arrangement

10. The enhanced features/arrangements of Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme are in principle applicable to project proposals under Phase

One. For those project proposals under Phase One which have received funding approval to proceed with the technical feasibility studies (TFSs) or are at the implementation stage, NGO applicants generally cannot revise their project proposals according to the enhanced features/arrangements under Phase Two so as not to cause undue delay to their progress.

11. In April 2019, the Government has launched Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme inviting applications from NGOs. A briefing session was conducted for interested NGOs on 6 May 2019 for introducing details of Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme. The closing date of application is 30 August 2019.

Latest progress of implementation of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme

12. By the closing of application for Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme on 18 November 2013, preliminary proposals submitted by 43 NGOs involving 63 projects had been received. The projects are at different stages of development. As at end of March 2019, five projects under the Special Sites Scheme had been completed and commenced service in phases. One other project had entered the construction stage and was expected to be completed by phases commencing 2019-20. These six projects provide various welfare services, including about 260 additional elderly service places (including about 100 subvented places) and about 1 020 additional rehabilitation service places. Details of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme and the above six projects are set out at Annex 1 and Annex 2 respectively. After review, 13 project proposals, which are not able to proceed further due to various reasons (e.g. site constraints), have been removed from the Special Sites Scheme, and the relevant NGOs were informed on 29 March 2019. As for the remaining projects, they are at different planning stages and are expected to be completed in phases after 2019-20, subject to their technical feasibility. Based on an updated rough estimation, if all the projects (i.e. excluding the 13 projects which were removed) under Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme could be implemented smoothly, a range of welfare facilities will be provided, including about 9 000 additional elderly service places and about 8 000 additional rehabilitation service places (please see Annex 3 for details).

13. NGO applicants under the Special Sites Scheme are required to conduct the TFSs<sup>3</sup> before submitting funding applications to the LF to meet the construction costs of their projects. As at end of March 2019, LF grants had been approved for 15 projects<sup>4</sup> to proceed with the TFSs, whereas one other project had proceeded with the TFS through other funding. The TFS in one of these projects had been completed, and the relevant NGO had been provided with funding under the LF to engage consultancy services<sup>5</sup> for the project. Details of the 16 aforementioned projects are set out at Annex 4. Five of these projects are expected to apply for funding under the LF in 2019-20 to engage consultants to carry out such work as detailed design, conduct of tender exercise and contract administration for construction.

14. As for the other projects under the Special Sites Scheme, the SWD will consider supporting the respective NGO applicants to proceed with the TFSs in or after 2019-20 having regard to the actual status of the individual projects. The projects are at different stages of development. The implementation of the projects depends on various factors, including the location and surrounding environment of the sites concerned, communal facilities and transport facilities, requirements prescribed in the land lease conditions and restrictions stipulated in the outline zoning plans on use and development intensity, feedback received from local consultations, distribution of existing services as well as the demand for and supply of the proposed services, etc. Depending on the time taken to complete the necessary development and planning procedures (e.g. outline zoning plan amendment, planning permission, lease modification, etc.), it may take several years or longer to implement these projects. While Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme has been launched, the Government will continue to press ahead the progress of Phase One in parallel.

<sup>3</sup> The TFSs must be carried out by the consultants employed by NGO applicants, and should generally include: definition of the scope of the welfare project, topographical survey, site investigation, assessment of the need for an environmental impact assessment/risk assessment at the detailed design stage, site constraints, cost estimate, preliminary schematic design, works programme, assessment of site accessibility, availability of utility services, etc.

<sup>4</sup> Excluding the six projects which had entered the construction stage or been completed as mentioned in paragraph 12 above.

<sup>5</sup> The consultancy services include detailed design, conduct of tender exercise and contract administration for construction, etc.

15. The Government obtained the approval of the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council in February 2014 for the transfer of additional funds of $10 billion to the LF to provide sufficient resources to implement the feasible projects under the Special Sites Scheme and other projects within the remit of the LF. We will, with reference to the preliminary proposals of applications to be received under Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme, estimate the planning and construction costs to be involved, and review the financial position of the LF for consideration of whether there is a need for another transfer of additional funds. Besides, to ensure that there would be sufficient manpower within the Government to support the implementation of Phase One and Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme, the SWD has secured additional resources for the creation of certain additional posts on top of its original establishment responsible for project planning<sup>6</sup>. We will also seek new resources to meet the additional recurrent expenditure arising from the new welfare services as a result of the expansion, new development and redevelopment.

16. The Labour and Welfare Bureau/the SWD will continue to coordinate the implementation of Phase One and Phase Two of the Special Sites Scheme, arrange information exchange sessions and adopt other suitable means to strengthen communication with NGO applicants, such as visiting NGO applicants and conducting on-site inspections and discussions on their respective projects, to assist NGO applicants to take forward different projects.

17. The implementation of the Special Sites Scheme will not affect the implementation of other welfare facilities projects that are being or will be implemented by the SWD. As at end of March 2019, the SWD is implementing or planning to implement 73 development projects<sup>7</sup>. Of these projects, 45 involve the provision of new contract residential care homes for the elderly and day care centres/units for the elderly, 42 for the provision of rehabilitation services for persons with disabilities, and 15 for the setting up of child care services. These projects will help argument the provision of welfare services outside the Special Sites Scheme.

<sup>6</sup> Since the launch of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme in September 2013, there are 16 additional posts in the SWD for handling project planning work under and outside the Special Sites Scheme. These posts include one Chief Executive Officer, four Senior Executive Officers, two Executive Officers I, two Quantity Surveyors, three Building Services Engineers, one Technical Officer (Architectural Design), one Building Services Inspector, one Clerical Officer and one Assistant Clerical Officer.

18. As the geographical distribution of the additional service places under the Special Sites Scheme mainly hinges on the distribution of the sites owned by NGO applicants, individual districts may thus have no or less additional service places under the Special Sites Scheme. The SWD will pay particular attention to the distribution of the service places under the Special Sites Scheme when it searches for sites/premises for the setting up of welfare facilities outside the Special Sites Scheme.

the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses (Special Sites Scheme)

The Government launched the Special Sites Scheme in September 2013. Non-governmental organisation (NGO) applicants have to provide or increase on their own sites, through expansion, redevelopment or new development, those welfare facilities considered by the Government as being in acute demand, in particular to increase elderly and rehabilitation service places. NGOs may apply for the Lotteries Fund<sup>1</sup> (LF) to fund the technical feasibility studies (TFSs) for these projects, and to pay for the construction and fitting-out costs. The features of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme are at Appendix 1. Since the launch of Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme, the Labour and Welfare Bureau (LWB) and the Social Welfare Department (SWD) have conducted seven information exchange sessions with NGO applicants and the Hong Kong Council of Social Service. In the light of NGO applicants' feedback on the implementation of the Special Sites Scheme at these information exchange sessions, the LWB and the SWD have made further clarifications on and refinements to some arrangements under Phase One of the Special Sites Scheme, the details of which are set out at Appendix 2.

<sup>1</sup> NGO applicants may also seek other funding sources (such as the Hong Kong Jockey Club Charities Trust) to cover all or part of the costs of the projects.

Major features of Phase One of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses

The major features of Phase One of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses (Special Sites Scheme) are as follows<sup>1</sup> –

(a) Types of social welfare services

Elderly services

1. Care and attention home providing continuum of care
2. Nursing home
3. Day care centre for the elderly

Rehabilitation services

4. Care and attention home for severely disabled persons
5. Hostel for moderately mentally handicapped persons
6. Hostel for severely mentally handicapped persons
7. Long stay care home
8. Integrated vocational rehabilitation services centre
9. Day activity centre
10. Special child care centre
11. Early education and training centre

Non-governmental organisations (NGOs) participating in the Special Sites Scheme will have to provide a net increase in the provision of one or more than one service on a site under its ownership. To give NGOs greater flexibility to meet their other requirements, they may co-locate welfare facilities other than the 11 types of services mentioned above and/or non-welfare facilities on the same site provided that such uses and arrangement are permitted under the applicable regulations and procedures, and in compliance with the land lease governing the lot concerned.

<sup>1</sup> Such features do not apply to other welfare projects already processed or to be processed by the Social Welfare Department outside the Special Sites Scheme.

(b) Form of development

The form of development may include expansion, redevelopment, new development and a combination of one or more of the above categories. NGOs are also allowed to use a small portion of the gross floor area (GFA) for welfare-related ancillary facilities and the cost will be borne by the Lotteries Fund (LF). Unless with discretionary approval by the Government, existing buildings should not be demolished if they are less than 25 years old.

(c) Track record of NGOs

NGOs should satisfy the Social Welfare Department (SWD) that they are bona-fide non-profit making organisations which have direct experience in running related welfare services with a good record of corporate governance, and should demonstrate capability and/or experience in taking charge of similar development/redevelopment projects.

(d) Waiving of the open bidding requirement

At present, the SWD requires an NGO (even if it owns a piece of land) to compete with other NGOs for securing extra GFA for operating any new type of subvented service on its own land. Take for example an NGO which has redeveloped its building from one providing 100 subvented residential care places for the elderly into a building providing 300 subvented residential care places for the elderly plus 100 subvented residential care places for persons with disabilities. The 100 subvented places for persons with disabilities would need to be subject to open bidding with other NGOs because it is considered a new type of subvented service on the site. On the other hand, the 300 residential care places for the elderly, despite the increase in provision, will continue to be run by the NGO concerned without the need for open bidding as the additional places are considered expansion of service. For a new subvented welfare service to be provided under the Special Sites Scheme, the SWD may exercise its discretion to waive the open bidding requirement on the condition that the NGO participating in the Special Sites Scheme, upon securing funding either from the LF or other sources to support the capital cost of its project under the Special Sites Scheme, will generally be required to abstain once from bidding elsewhere for the same type of subvented service.

(e) Technical feasibility study (TFS)

According to the existing practice, the LF will only support the cost of a TFS in proportion to the net operating floor area (NOFA) proposed for the welfare portion. Under the Special Sites Scheme, the SWD may consider exercising its discretion to fund the full cost of the TFS for the project by the LF if the welfare portion constitutes no less than 50% of the NOFA of the project.

(f) Decanting cost

An NGO participating in the Special Sites Scheme may need to relocate the existing welfare services to other premises pending the development or redevelopment of the site. The SWD may consider exercising its discretion to approve the use of the LF to pay for the decanting costs involved.

(g) Self-financing services

Under the prevailing practice of using the LF to support the capital costs of self-financing projects, the following rules are normally observed for capital construction projects –

- (i) the NGO must have at least three years of good track record in welfare services and is required to undertake to operate the project for at least five years; and
- (ii) regarding self-financing services, the NGO is required to commit not less than 10% of the total capital cost recognised by the LF on the self-financing portion as contribution to the LF, or top up an amount of not less than 10% of the total capital cost recognised by the LF on the self-financing portion for the above-standard facilities of the project.

For projects under the Special Sites Scheme, the SWD may consider exercising its discretion to waive –

- (i) the three-year track record required of an NGO provided that –
    - the NGO concerned must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the SWD its ability to run and sustain the proposed welfare facility, such as financial capability and engagement of a service delivery team with relevant experience in operating the proposed welfare facility; and
    - the NGO concerned must undertake to operate the proposed welfare facility for at least eight years; and
  - (ii) the 10% contribution from an NGO if the self-financing portion is to provide for a welfare facility meeting prevailing needs as supported by the SWD, such as a self-financing residential care home for the elderly. However, for any non-welfare portion of a project under the Special Sites Scheme, an NGO will still need to pay for the capital cost (and full land premium, if required) of that portion. If the setting up of any such non-welfare facilities (such as churches and hospital facilities) is supported by the relevant bureaux, the NGO will need to make arrangements in terms of resources to meet the costs involved, including payment for land premium.
- (h) One-stop assistance on development matters

Projects under the Special Sites Scheme will still be subject to the applicable statutory regimes for development, including the Town Planning Ordinance and the Buildings Ordinance, etc. as well as the land lease conditions governing the lots concerned. As NGOs may need advice on optimising the development potential of their sites and assistance in their applications for lease modification (where required), planning applications and submission of building plans etc., the Policy and Project Co-ordination Unit (PPCU) of the Chief Secretary for Administration's Office provided consultation and coordination services for NGOs under the Special Sites Scheme from the launch of the Scheme until end of 2017. After the disbandment of the PPCU following an internal reorganisation of the Government in end of 2017, the Labour and Welfare Bureau/SWD will continue to provide the services in this respect.

Clarifications on and refinements to some arrangements under Phase One of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses

Since the launch of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses (Special Sites Scheme), the Labour and Welfare Bureau and the Social Welfare Department (SWD) have conducted seven information exchange sessions with non-governmental organisation (NGO) applicants and the Hong Kong Council of Social Service, and made the following clarifications and refinements -

- (a) As some NGO applicants do not have in-house technical or professional manpower support in terms of architectural service/estate management, they may apply for funding under the Lotteries Fund (LF) to engage Authorised Persons (APs) or consultants to assist them in preparing funding applications for the conduct of technical feasibility studies. Each application will be considered by the SWD on a case-by-case basis;
- (b) NGO applicants may apply for funding under the LF to engage project management services to help them monitor the project delivery during the project implementation stage. Each application will be considered by the SWD on a case-by-case basis;
- (c) NGO applicants may apply to the SWD for providing ancillary facilities in their projects. If the gross floor area (GFA) of ancillary facilities does not exceed 10% of the total GFA of the project concerned, the NGO applicant may apply for funding under the LF to cover the capital and fitting-out costs of such facilities. In general, suitable staff training facilities may be considered as ancillary facilities;
- (d) NGO applicants may apply for funding under the LF to meet the costs of furniture and equipment (F&E) items in respect of the self-financing welfare facilities on the list of facilities set out by the Government. Each application will be considered by the SWD on a case-by-case basis;

- (e) On safety considerations, welfare facilities are generally placed not more than 24 metres above ground. To better utilise land resources, the SWD will consider, in consultation with the Fire Services Department, permitting the proposed elderly centres (excluding day care centres for the elderly) and early education and training centres under the Special Sites Scheme to be placed at a level slightly exceeding 24 metres above the ground level, on a project-by-project basis;
- (f) On the condition that the elderly and rehabilitation service places to be provided as originally proposed will not be affected, NGO applicants may, based on the service demand in the district, consider including subsidised or self-financing child care centres in their projects, so as to cope with the community's demand for child care services and to help unleash women labour force;
- (g) Unless with discretionary approval by the Government, the projects generally should not involve demolition of buildings less than 25 years old. The SWD will nevertheless consider exercising its discretion to relax this requirement having regard to the merits of individual projects;
- (h) NGO applicants will apply for LF grants in phases to meet the cost of consultancy service and that of capital works according to the actual progress of their projects, instead of seeking the two grants above in one go. This allows more accurate estimation of the capital cost and related funding amount sought, speeds up progress of the projects, reduces some administrative procedures involved under the original arrangement, and enhances the management of the LF; and
- (i) Having regard to the views of the welfare sector and the actual service needs, the SWD has obtained the approval of the Property Vetting Committee for the revised schedules of accommodation (SoAs) for residential care home for the elderly, nursing home, hostel for moderately mentally handicapped persons and special child care centre. The revised SoAs enable service users to enjoy more spacious areas and enhanced services, and are applicable to projects outside the Special Sites Scheme as well.

Details of the revised proposals received under Phase One of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses

Under Phase One of the Special Scheme on Privately Owned Sites for Welfare Uses (Special Sites Scheme), 63 preliminary proposals submitted by 43 non-governmental organisations (NGOs) had been received, including 42 redevelopment projects, 9 expansion projects and 12 new development projects. 13 projects were removed from the Special Sites Scheme owing to reasons such as site constraints, etc. in March 2019. For the remaining 50 proposed projects, the updated details based on the revised proposals (if any) submitted by NGOs on or before 31 March 2019 are as follows-
