

CLASSIFICATION OF ORDINANCES

Classification of Ordinances

The 600-odd Ordinances on our statute books can be classified on the basis of whether they contain express provisions binding on or applicable to the “Government” or the “Crown”/“State”. The four categories are -

- (a) 17 Ordinances that expressly bind the “Government” (but are silent on the binding effect on the “State” organs in Hong Kong);
- (b) 36 Ordinances that are applicable to the “Government” in whole or in part;
- (c) 53 Ordinances that are expressed to bind, or apply to, the “Crown”; and
- (d) the other Ordinances which are silent as regards their binding effect or applicability to the HKSARG or the “State” organs in Hong Kong.

2. A list of the Ordinances in the first three categories is at Appendix. It should be noted that the number of Ordinances given for each category is not definitive and may need to be adjusted.
