

Enforcement of arbitral awards between Hong Kong and Macau

As the Administration informed the Bills Committee dealing with enforcement of arbitral awards between Hong Kong and the Mainland, questions relating to the establishment of mutual legal assistance with Macau would be followed up after the reunification of Macau. The Administration is now considering which aspects of such mutual legal assistance should be given priority. It is likely that the enforcement of arbitral awards will be accorded priority. However, at this stage we do not consider that any useful purpose would be served by including this topic on the agenda for the Panel meeting in June.

Department of Justice
May 2000