- (c) where the person is a partnership that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the central management and control of the partnership is exercised in Hong Kong in that year of assessment; or
- (d) where the person is a trustee of a trust estate, the central management and control of the trust estate is exercised in Hong Kong in that year of assessment.

(3) In relation to any year of assessment, a person is a non-resident person if he is not a resident person in relation to that year of assessment.

(4) A person is to be regarded as having a direct beneficial interest in another person if –

(a) where the other person is a corporation that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the person holds any of the issued share capital (however described) of the corporation;

(b) where the other person is a partnership that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the person, as a partner in the partnership, is entitled to any of the profits of the partnership; or

(c) where the other person is a trustee of a trust estate, the person –

(i) benefits under the trust estate; or

~~(ii) not being a trustee of the trust estate or, where the trustee is a corporation, a director of the trustee, is able or might reasonably be expected to be able to control the activities of the trust estate or the application of its corpus or income,~~

~~otherwise than through another person (“interposed person”):~~

- (ii) not being a trustee of the trust estate or, where the trustee is a corporation, a director of the trustee, is able or might reasonably be expected to be able to control the activities of the trust estate or the application of its corpus or income,
- otherwise than through another person.

(5) A person (“the first person”) is to be regarded as having an indirect beneficial interest in another person (“the second person”) if –

- (a) where the second person is a corporation that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the first person is interested in any of the issued share capital (however described) of the corporation;
- (b) where the second person is a partnership that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the first person is entitled to any of the profits of the partnership; or
- (c) where the second person is a trustee of a trust estate, the first person –
- (i) benefits under the trust estate; or

- (ii) not being a trustee of the trust estate or, where the trustee is a corporation, a director of the trustee, is able or might reasonably be expected to be able to control the activities of the trust estate or the application of its corpus or income, through another person (“interposed person”) or through a series of 2 or more interposed persons who is or are related to the first person and the second person in the manner described in subsections (6) and (7).

- (6) Where there is one interposed person –
 - (a) the first person has a direct beneficial interest in the interposed person; and
 - (b) the interposed person has a direct beneficial interest in the second person.
- (7) Where there is a series of 2 or more interposed persons –
 - (a) the first person has a direct beneficial interest in the first interposed person in the series;
 - (b) each interposed person (other than the last interposed person) in the series has a direct beneficial interest in the next interposed person in the series; and
 - (c) the last interposed person in the series has a direct beneficial interest in the second person.

(8) A reference to an entitlement to the profits of a partnership is, in the case where the partners in a partnership are not entitled to its profits but are only entitled to a distribution of its assets upon its dissolution, to be construed as a reference to an entitlement to a distribution of the assets of the partnership upon its dissolution.

(9) A reference to the issued share capital of a corporation does not include a reference to the shares comprised in the issued share capital that do not entitle their holders to receive dividends, whether in cash or in kind, and a distribution of the corporation's assets upon its dissolution other than a return of capital.

20AD. Loss from transactions referred to in section 20AC(1) not available for set off

Notwithstanding anything in this Part, any loss sustained by a non-resident person from a transaction referred to in section 20AC(1) in a year of assessment in which he has not at any time carried on any trade, profession or business in Hong Kong involving any transaction other than a transaction referred to in that section is not available for set off against any of his assessable profits for any subsequent year of assessment.

20AE. Assessable profits of non-resident persons regarded as assessable profits of resident persons

~~—— (1) — Where, at any time in the year of assessment in which the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005 (—— of 2005) commences or in any subsequent year of assessment, a resident person has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in a non-resident person to the extent set out in subsection (2) and the non-resident person is exempt from tax under section 20AC, the assessable profits of the non-resident person that would have been chargeable to tax under this Part but for that section for the period during which the resident person has such a beneficial interest in the non-resident person are to be regarded as the assessable profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong of the resident person for that year of assessment from a trade, profession or business carried on by the resident person in Hong Kong.~~

(1) Where, in the year of assessment following the year of assessment in which the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005 (of 2005) commences or in any subsequent year of assessment –

(a) a resident person has, during any period of time, a beneficial interest, whether direct or indirect or both, in a non-resident person to the extent set out in subsection (2); and

(b) the non-resident person is exempt from tax under section 20AC,

the assessable profits of the non-resident person for that period of time that would have been chargeable to tax under this Part but for that section are to be regarded as the assessable profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong of the resident person for that year of assessment from a trade, profession or business carried on by the resident person in Hong Kong.

(2) The extent of a resident person's beneficial interest in a non-resident person referred to in subsection (1) is that the resident person, either alone or jointly with any of his associates (whether a resident person or not) -

(a) where the non-resident person is a corporation that is not a trustee of a trust estate, holds or is interested in not less than 30% of the issued share capital (however described) of the corporation;

- (b) where the non-resident person is a partnership that is not a trustee of a trust estate, is entitled to not less than 30% of the profits of the partnership; or
- (c) where the non-resident person is a trustee of a trust estate, is interested in not less than 30% in value of the trust estate.

~~—— (3) — Where, at any time in the year of assessment in which the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005 (—— of 2005) commences or in any subsequent year of assessment, a resident person has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in a non-resident person who is exempt from tax under section 20AC and the non-resident person is an associate of the resident person, the assessable profits of the non-resident person that would have been chargeable to tax under this Part but for that section for the period during which the resident person has such a beneficial interest in the non-resident person are to be regarded as the assessable profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong of the resident person for that year of assessment from a trade, profession or business carried on by the resident person in Hong Kong.~~

(3) Where, in the year of assessment following the year of assessment in which the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore

Funds) Ordinance 2005 (of 2005) commences or in any subsequent year of assessment –

- (a) a resident person has, during any period of time, a beneficial interest, whether direct or indirect or both, in a non-resident person who is exempt from tax under section 20AC; and
- (b) the non-resident person is an associate of the resident person,

the assessable profits of the non-resident person for that period of time that would have been chargeable to tax under this Part but for that section are to be regarded as the assessable profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong of the resident person for that year of assessment from a trade, profession or business carried on by the resident person in Hong Kong.

(4) Subsections (1) and (3) apply in relation to a resident person irrespective of whether the person has received, or will receive, directly or indirectly, from the non-resident person concerned any money or other property representing the profits of the non-resident person for the relevant year of assessment.

(5) A resident person who has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in a trustee of a trust estate by reason of the fact that he is able or might reasonably be expected to be able to control the activities of the trust estate or the application of its corpus or income is, for the purposes of this section, to be regarded as being interested in 100% in value of the trust estate.

(6) The extent of a resident person's beneficial interest in a non-resident person is to be determined in accordance with the provisions in Part 2 of Schedule 15.

(7) The amount regarded as the assessable profits of a resident person for a year of assessment under subsection (1) or (3) is to be ascertained in accordance with the provisions in Schedule 15.

(8) Subsection (1) or (3) does not apply in relation to a resident person who has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in a non-resident person if the Commissioner is satisfied that beneficial interests in the non-resident person are bona fide widely held.

(9) Where a resident person is liable to tax under subsection (1) or (3) in respect of the profits of a non-resident person by reason of his having an indirect beneficial interest in the non-resident person through an interposed person or through a series of 2 or more interposed persons, if the interposed person or any of the interposed persons is a resident person who is also liable to tax under that subsection in respect of the same profits, the first-mentioned resident person is discharged from his liability to tax under that subsection in respect of those profits.

~~(11) Notwithstanding anything in subsection (1) or (3), a resident person who is chargeable to tax in respect of any sum regarded under that subsection as his assessable profits for the year of assessment in which the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005 (— of 2005) commences is, in relation to those profits, only liable to pay tax in respect of the part of those profits arising on or after the commencement of that Ordinance for that year of assessment.”.~~

3. Section added

The following is added –

“70AB. Revision of assessment due to commencement of section 2 of Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005

(1) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Ordinance, if, upon application by a person in respect of a year of assessment (“the relevant year”) that expires before the date of commencement of section 2 of the Revenue (Profits Tax Exemption for Offshore Funds) Ordinance 2005 (of 2005) made within 12 months after that date, or within 6 years after the end of the relevant year, whichever is the later, it is established to the satisfaction of an assessor that the tax charged for the relevant year exceeds the amount that the person would have had to pay had that section been in force, the assessor shall revise the assessment for the relevant year.

(2) Where an assessor refuses to revise an assessment in accordance with an application made under this section, he shall give notice of the refusal in writing to the person who made the application and the person thereupon has the same rights of objection and appeal under this Part as if the notice of refusal were a notice of assessment.”.

4. Schedule 15 added

The following is added -

“SCHEDULE 15 [ss. 20AB & 20AE]

PROVISIONS FOR ASCERTAINING AMOUNT OF ASSESSABLE PROFITS OF RESIDENT PERSON UNDER SECTION 20AE OF THIS ORDINANCE

PART 1

1. The amount regarded as the assessable profits of a resident person for a year of assessment is the total sum arrived at by adding up the assessable profits of the non-resident person that would have been chargeable to tax under Part IV of this Ordinance but for section 20AC of this Ordinance (“exempt profits”) for each day in the period in that year of assessment during which the resident person has a direct or indirect beneficial interest in the non-resident person.

2. For the purposes of section 1, the exempt profits of a non-resident person for a particular day in a year of assessment are to be ascertained in accordance with the following formula –

$$A = \frac{B \times C}{D}$$

where: A means the exempt profits of the non-resident person for a particular day in a year of assessment;

B means the extent of the resident person's beneficial interest in the non-resident person on the particular day, expressed as a percentage determined in accordance with Part 2;

C means the exempt profits of the non-resident person for the accounting period of the non-resident person in which the particular day falls;

D means the total number of days in the accounting period of the non-resident person in which the particular day falls.

PART 2

1. Where a resident person has a direct beneficial interest in a non-resident person, the extent of the beneficial interest of the resident person in the non-resident person is –

- (a) where the non-resident person is a corporation that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the percentage of the issued share capital (however described) of the corporation held by the resident person;
- (b) where the non-resident person is a partnership that is not a trustee of a trust estate, the percentage of the profits of the partnership to which the resident person is entitled; or
- (c) where the non-resident person is a trustee of a trust estate, the percentage in value of the trust estate in which the resident person is interested.

2. Where a resident person has an indirect beneficial interest in a non-resident person, the extent of the beneficial interest of the resident person in the non-resident person is –

- (a) where there is one interposed person, the percentage arrived at by multiplying the percentage representing the extent of the beneficial interest of the resident person in the interposed person by the percentage representing the extent of the beneficial interest of the interposed person in the non-resident person; or
- (b) where there is a series of 2 or more interposed persons, the percentage arrived at by multiplying the percentage representing the extent of the beneficial interest of the resident person in the first interposed person in the series by -

- (i) the percentage representing the extent of the beneficial interest of each interposed person (other than the last interposed person) in the series in the next interposed person in the series; and
- (ii) the percentage representing the extent of the beneficial interest of the last interposed person in the series in the non-resident person.

3. For the purposes of section 2 -

- (a) section 1 applies in determining the extent of the beneficial interest of a resident person in an interposed person as if references to a non-resident person in that section were references to an interposed person;
- (b) section 1 applies in determining the extent of the beneficial interest of an interposed person in a non-resident person as if references to a resident person in that section were references to an interposed person;

- (c) section 1 applies in determining the extent of the beneficial interest of an interposed person (first-mentioned interposed person) in another interposed person (second-mentioned interposed person) as if –
- (i) references to a resident person in that section were references to the first-mentioned interposed person; and
 - (ii) references to a non-resident person in that section were references to the second-mentioned interposed person.”.
