COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

MAINLAND AND HONG KONG
CLOSER ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP ARRANGEMENT
(CEPA)
SIGNING OF LEGAL TEXT ON FURTHER TRADE
LIBERALIZATION AND ANNOUNCEMENT OF RULES OF ORIGIN

INTRODUCTION

This note informs members of the Legislative Council Commerce and Industry Panel that the HKSAR Government signed the legal text (Annex) on further trade liberalization under CEPA with the Central People's Government (CPG) on 27 October 2004 in Hong Kong. The Government has also announced the agreed rules of origin for Hong Kong-made products included in this phase of liberalization.

BACKGROUND

2. Pursuant to Article 3 of CEPA, the Mainland and Hong Kong entered into consultations regarding further trade liberalization between the two places in May 2004. The two sides agreed to, and announced, a package of further liberalization measures (commonly referred to as "CEPA II") on 27 August in Beijing. Details were reported to this Panel vide CB(1)2500/03-04(01). Since then, the two sides have undertaken intensive discussions on the legal text of CEPA II, and on the rules of origin (ROOs) for the additional 713 products that will be allowed to be imported into the Mainland tariff free. The two sides signed the CEPA II legal text on 27 October in Hong Kong, and announced the agreed ROOs immediately afterwards.

DETAILS

(A) Signing of the Legal text of CEPA II

3. The legal text of CEPA II gives expression to the package of liberalization measures announced in August, and takes the form of a supplementary agreement to the main text and annexes of CEPA I. It contains the following three annexes : (a) the list of additional products that are entitled to zero tariff; (b) the ROOs for these products; and (c) further liberalization measures in services. The language of the legal text is in conformance with that of CEPA I and WTO format.

(B) Agreed Rules of Origin

4. For the 713 Mainland product codes covered in CEPA II, Hong Kong's existing process-based origin rules for 528 of them (74%) have been accepted as the CEPA ROOs. These items include textiles and clothing, food and beverages, pharmaceutical products as well as some plastic and metal products. "Change in tariff heading" is adopted as the CEPA ROO for 80 products (11%) whereas a 30% value-added requirement is adopted for 50 products (7%). Both sides agreed on the ROOs for the remaining 55 product codes (8%) (including fish and aquaculture products) taking into account the characteristics of the products concerned.

(C) Implementation Date of Zero Tariff for Products Planned to be Manufactured in Hong Kong

5. Both sides agreed under CEPA I that zero tariff would only be applied from 1 January of the following year upon confirmation by both sides that the planned products have come into production. That means a manufacturer would only be able to enjoy zero tariff in 2006 if production of the planned products commences in 2005. Under CEPA II, the two sides agreed to shorten the time gap so that manufacturers will enjoy zero tariff upon confirmation by both sides that the planned products have come into production. This flexibility allows manufacturers to enjoy the benefits of CEPA early and encourages them to speed up implementation of their new investment plans.

FURTHER LIBERALIZATION

6. CEPA is an open and developing platform. We will continue to engage the Mainland authorities on further liberalization of trade in goods and services in the Mainland market.

IMPLICATIONS OF IMPLEMENTATION

7. As reported in August, CEPA II will offer further business opportunities in the Mainland for Hong Kong-made products and service suppliers. It will enhance the attractiveness of Hong Kong to overseas investors. The zero tariff preference has the potential to attract to Hong Kong manufacturing of brand name products, or manufacturing processes with high-value added content or substantial intellectual property input. The WTO-plus liberalization measures for services trade will give companies in Hong Kong a head start over their competitors from other economies. It is up to the businessmen from Hong Kong and elsewhere in the world to decide whether and how they would like to leverage on the opportunities arising from CEPA II. This will in turn determine the scale of business activities induced and direct and indirect economic benefits for Hong Kong. The Government has announced that it would conduct an assessment of the economic impact of CEPA, including that on local employment, 9 to 12 months following CEPA's implementation since the beginning of this year. Preparatory work has gone underway.

CONSULTATION

8. The Government has been in close touch with the trades concerned on the strategy for CEPA II, not least that pertaining to ROOs. Their views and requests have been taken into account in drawing up Hong Kong's wish list in the consultations with the Mainland. The Government will stay in close and constant dialogue with the stakeholders in the implementation of the further liberalization measures and in talks with the Mainland on the next phases of CEPA.

9. The Government will continue to keep the Panel informed of the major developments of CEPA.

After the applicant has put the proposed goods into production, the Hong Kong Trade and Industry Department shall conduct verification jointly with the Hong Kong Customs and Excise Department and inform the Ministry of Commerce. The Mainland shall, after confirmation by both sides, release the relevant imports on zero tariff basis in line with "CEPA" upon presentation of the certificates of origin issued by the Hong Kong issuing authorities.
