Panel on Commerce and Industry

Follow-up to meeting on 18 July 2006

Copyright register

At the captioned meeting, the Administration was requested to review the operation of section 121 of the Copyright Ordinance and the efficacy of the administrative measures, say in three years' time, and report any findings to the Panel.

2. For members' information, the Administration has advised that the timing of the review would need to be further determined in the light of developments, especially whether the divided views amongst copyright owners could be narrowed down. While the Administration would surely report to the Panel if such a review is conducted, it is too early to determine at this stage when the review would be conducted. It is possible that the review may not be conducted in the next few years.
