

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL
PANEL ON PLANNING, LANDS AND WORKS

Work of the Urban Renewal Authority

At the Panel meeting on 26 June 2007, Members requested the Administration and the URA to provide the following information concerning the work of the Urban Renewal Authority (URA) –

- (a) the financial results/status (profit/loss) of the individual completed/on-going projects launched by the URA;
- (b) the Government, Institution or Community facilities and the gross floor areas of these facilities for each project;
- (c) the plot ratio for each project;
- (d) explanation on whether non-profitable projects were launched by the Hong Kong Housing Society;
- (e) explanation on why the URA would not acquire affected properties before planning was completed;
- (f) the land premium waived under each project; and
- (g) the timetable for reviewing the Urban Renewal Strategy (URS).

2. The URA's response on items (a) to (e) of paragraph 1 above is set out at Annex A.

3. In order to support URA's urban renewal work, the Government has made a capital injection of $10 billion to the URA. Besides, the Government has agreed that all urban renewal sites for new projects set out in the five-year Corporate Plans (CP) and annual Business Plans (BP) of the URA¹, approved by the Financial Secretary (FS) from time to time, may in principle be granted to the URA at nominal premium, subject to satisfying FS of the need therefor.

4. Regarding item (f) of paragraph 1 above concerning the estimated amount of land premium waived for URA's redevelopment projects, the table at Annex B shows the rough estimations of land premium forgone in respect of projects of which land has been granted to the URA. The estimates were in general made at the time of inclusion of these projects under the relevant CP and BP. The estimated land premium forgone for individual projects is derived by assessing the difference between the land value before and after redevelopment based on a series of assumptions (see Annex B). The information only serves to present a broad brush indication of the difference in land value of these sites at the relevant point in time. We emphasize that these are simply ballpark indications based on broad brush assessments. The land value may vary according to the changing market condition. We would like to point out that land premium is not payable by the URA. In compensating for affected owners/tenants of its projects, the URA follows the decision of the Finance Committee of the Legislative Council made in March 2001 in respect of ex-gratia compensation payable to owners/tenants affected by land resumption.

5. As regards item (g) of paragraph 1 above concerning the review of the URS, we are alive to the community's increasing interest, aspirations and concerns about urban renewal. We are currently discussing with the URA regarding the timing for commencing the review. We welcome Members' views and suggestions and would keep the Panel updated on further developments on the subject.

Urban Renewal Authority

Responses to Questions raised by Legislative Council Panel on Planning, Lands & Works on 26 June 2007

(a) The financial results/status (profit/loss) of the individual completed/on-going projects launched by the Urban Renewal Authority

From its inception up to 31 July 2007, the Urban Renewal Authority (URA) has commenced 24 projects out of which nine have reached the construction stage. Of these nine, none have yet been completed although the first is scheduled for completion before the end of this year. A further eight have been commenced by the Hong Kong Housing Society (HKHS), our strategic partner, and acquisition and clearance for seven of them has yet to be completed. A table giving the status and details of each of these 32 projects is at Appendix A which has been updated for Members' reference.

The URA discloses its overall results in its annual report and accounts which are tabled before the Legislative Council each year. The relevant information relating to URA's financial position is contained in our Annual Reports and Audited Accounts which are tabled in the Legislative Council every year. Information relating to our position as at 31 March 2007 will be given in our Annual Report and Audited Accounts for 2006/07 which is planned to be tabled in the Legislative Council in October 2007. The Authority's overall results can therefore be examined by studying its annual reports in order to appraise its financial performance in any year. However, like its predecessor, the Land Development Corporation, the Authority considers it inappropriate to disclose financial information about individual projects because this is commercially sensitive for both the Authority and the joint venture developers and other commercial partners with which it works on individual projects. Nevertheless, Members may wish to note the overall picture of the profits/losses of the URA since its formation in May 2001 which are summarized in the table below -

Profit / (Loss) After Taxation
$'000

As at 1 May 2001	(2,160,610)
2001/02 (11 months)	(558,329)
2002/03	(226,570)
2003/04	(80,443)
2004/05	3,002,087
2005/06	1,576,611
2006/07	758,711

Total :	2,311,457

The improvement in URA's financial position in recent years is attributable to both URA's prudent financial management and the cycles of the property market. In particular, certain projects were acquired during 2003 when Hong Kong was suffering from SARS and were subsequently tendered for redevelopment during the 2005 peak in the property market. All profits earned on projects by URA are retained and then applied to finance further urban renewal projects and its 4Rs (i.e. Redevelopment, Rehabilitation, pReservation and Revitalization) efforts to improve the quality of the housing and built environments in dilapidated urban areas. The URA will need to draw on all of its available financial resources to fund the projects to which it is committed. Indeed, we expect to have to raise additional funds from the financial market once the Kwun Tong Town Centre project is fully under way.

(b) The Government, Institution or Community facilities and the gross floor areas of these facilities for each project

Please see the relevant figures in the table at Appendix B.

(c) The plot ratio for each project

Please see the relevant figures in the table at Appendix B.

(d) Explanation on whether non-profitable projects were launched by the HKHS

The eight projects launched by the HKHS were mutually agreed in the context of the "Memorandum of Understanding on Strategic and Long Term Co-operation in the Implementation of Projects for Urban Renewal and Connected Purposes” signed between the URA and the HKHS in December 2002.

(e) Explanation on why the URA would not acquire affected properties before planning was completed

The URA acquires land under the Urban Renewal Authority Ordinance (URAO) for the purpose of undertaking development, and such development should be new development which has been properly planned. For instance, the URA can only be certain that it will be able to implement development schemes under the URAO if and when its proposed plans have been properly approved by the Town Planning Board and, thereafter, Chief Executive in Council. Until such approvals have been obtained, there are always the risks that the URA’s plans may have to be amended to include or exclude properties or, indeed, may not be approved at all.

Also, the URAO obliges the URA to exercise due care and diligence in the handling of its finances. Given the potential risks described above, it would not be financially prudent for the URA to acquire properties in advance of completion of the relevant statutory planning procedures and approvals.

9.	K31	Larch Street/Fir Street, Tai Kok Tsui	12,000,000

Note:

The land premium was in general estimated at the time of inclusion of these projects under the relevant Corporate Plan and Business Plan of the URA. The land value may vary according to the changing market condition. These figures are only ballpark indications based on a series of assumptions, such as the relevant lease conditions are unrestricted; sites are assumed cleared of structures; maximum gross floor areas permissible under the Buildings Ordinance are achievable; and the value and costs of the Government, Institution and Community facilities have not been taken into account.
