Subject Mui Wo Ferry services.

Cutting the frequency of ferry services and increasing the time of travel by adding more stops will only drive people to use other transport options, myself included, or move out of South Lantau completely, at a time when the Government is supposedly finding ways to develop the island.

Ferries are like the road system, they are part of Hong Kong's infrastructure. How many millions of dollars has been spent on building the new road over Lantau Island? Around HK$200 million I would guess, if not more. If that amount was put into an interest bearing account, there would be enough surplus to subsidise the Mui Wo ferry route for 100 years or so...
