Q1 What is the definition of “social capital” according to the World Bank and the Asian Development Bank? Please make a comparison with the definition adopted by the Community Investment and Inclusion Fund (CIIF).

A1 The definition of social capital adopted by the CIIF is based on the World Bank’s definition announced on its official website – social capital refers to the institutions, relationships, and norms that shape the quality and quantity of a society’s social interactions. Social capital includes social norms (individual attitudes and social values), networks, and institutions. The “strategies” deployed in social capital development include “cognitive”, “relational” and “structural” dimensions, incorporating psychological and sociological concepts of “role transformation”, “social trust” in horizontal “bridging” across heterogeneous groups and collaboration in vertical “linking” partnerships across sectors and power hierarchy. Social capital is more than the sum of the institutions or the talents of individuals that underpin a society – it agglomerates the people and the institutions together with a view to striving for the common good.

According to the result of our internet search, the Asian Development Bank does not elaborate much on the definition of social capital. Social capital includes networks, groups, mutual trust, mutual understanding, personal attitudes, social values and systems, which are basically similar to the World Bank’s definition.

Q2 Did the Assessment and Evaluation Sub-committee (AESC) established under the CIIF Committee issue guidelines to its members? If yes, please provide the assessment and evaluation guidelines. Have the guidelines been modified since 2002? If so, please provide the texts and indicate the modifications.

A2 The AESC (formerly known as the Assessment Sub-committee) held its first meeting on 20 September 2002 to discuss the proposed assessment procedures and criteria. The proposed guidelines were endorsed by the CIIF Committee on 24 September 2002. The relevant guidelines are at Appendix 1.

The CIIF Committee subsequently reviewed the operation of AESC at its meetings on 8 May 2009 and 29 June 2009, and recommended that the AESC should develop clearer and more concrete assessment criteria and procedures in order to process applications efficiently. Taking into account the lack of clear weighting in the vetting criteria and overall score in the original set of assessment criteria, the AESC revised the assessment criteria in April 2010 and the revisions were endorsed by the CIIF Committee in May 2010. The revised marking scheme is at Appendix 2.

Q3 In what format does the Promotion and Development Sub-committee (PDSC) submit proposals to the CIIF Committee? Please provide annual year reports or related documents for channelling these proposals since 2002.

A3 The PDSC under the CIIF Committee was established in April 2005. It is responsible for advising the CIIF Committee on the promotion, marketing and networking and promotion strategies as well as measures to enhance further development of social capital. The PDSC meets around twice a year and makes recommendations to the CIIF Committee for endorsement. PDSC papers and documents submitted to the CIIF Committee since April 2005 are at Appendix 3.

Q4 Please provide detailed information on the funding recommendations prepared by the CIIF Secretariat for submission to the AESC in 2002, 2003, 2009 and 2010.

A4 A total of eight AESC meetings were held in 2002, 2003, 2009 and 2010. Funding recommendations prepared by the CIIF Secretariat are at Appendix 4.

[Note: Two sub-committees, namely the Assessment Sub-committee and the Evaluation and Development of Social Capital Sub-Committee, were set up when the CIIF was first launched in 2002. At the CIIF Committee held on 18 April 2008, members decided to merge the above two sub-committees into the AESC to advise the CIIF Committee on the formulation of themes of application and vetting criteria, monitoring of project performance, assessment of project effectiveness and consolidation of successful factors etc.]

Q5 Please provide the research reports conducted by a consortium comprising academics as mentioned in paragraph 1.9 of the Audit Report.

A5 The research reports are at Appendix 5.

Q6 According to paragraph 2.6 (b) of the Audit Report, the CIIF Committee considered the 15th batch of applications at the meeting held in October 2009. Please provide the declaration records of the attendees and the list of 42 applicants for the 15th batch of applications.

A6 The declaration records of the attendees of the CIIF Committee meeting held on 15 October 2009 and the list of 42 applicants for the 15th batch of applications are at Appendix 6.

Q7 Please provide the 17 items of performance information as mentioned in paragraph 2.15 of the Audit Report and explain why only 9 data were published whereas the remaining 8 data were left out.

A7 As at 25 November 2010, the 17 items of performance information of the CIIF are listed as follows –

1. Number of approved projects in the 16 batches of applications: 213 (among the 213 projects, 119 are completed, 84 are still in progress and the remaining 10 were terminated early by mutual agreement between the CIIF and the project teams);

2. Amount of funding allocated to the 16 batches of applications: over $210 million;
3. Engaged over 560 000 participants;
4. Transformed 21 000 people from service recipients to providers of assistance;
5. Helped over 5 000 people re-enter the labour market with enhanced confidence and capabilities;
6. Supported over 14 500 families;
7. Formed over 450 mutual support networks;
8. Founded over 20 self-support groups;
9. Mobilised over 5 000 collaboration partners, including business sector, non-governmental organizations, schools, residents' organisations, hospitals, District Councils and government departments. Over one-fourth of the partners come from the business sector;
10. Geographical distribution of the projects: CIIF-funded projects cover all the 18 districts in Hong Kong, with 28 projects implemented in Tin Shui Wai, followed by 23 projects in Sham Shui Po (details at Appendix 7.1);
11. Project target groups: Major target groups include “family and children network”, “community capacity building”, “youth development”, “social integration (including ethnic minorities and new immigrants)”, “community health care network”, “cross generation integration” and “elderly support and empowerment” (details at Appendix 7.2);
12. Classification of project performance: Among the 213 approved projects, about 26% are well-performed flagship projects, 62% are able to meet the expected targets and the remaining 12% with unsatisfactory performance/rooms for improvement;

13. Quarterly reimbursement claims of CIIF projects: please see Appendix 7.3;
14. Total amount of funding released: over $120 million;
15. Submission records of performance reports: please see Appendix 7.4;
16. Submission records of annual audit reports: please see Appendix 7.5; and
17. Records of site visits and reasons for cancellation (if applicable): The Secretariat visited all the project teams as scheduled in the 2010 site visit plan, except for the postponement of one visit to December 2010 owing to staff changes. The Secretariat also conducted four additional visits this year in view of the actual needs (details Appendix 7.6).

We did not deliberately leave out items 10 to 17 of the performance information which were only not released to the public through various channels in the same way as items 1 to 9. In accordance with the recommendations of the Audit Commission, the Secretariat will upload all the 17 items of performance information onto the CIIF website and regularly update them for public information.

Q8 As mentioned in paragraph 3.5 of the Audit Report, the grantee needs to prepare quarterly project progress reports. How do they differ from the progress reports prepared for other funds or applications for the District Councils' funding?

A8 The CIIF has a clear objective and positioning. It provides seed money to facilitate and promote the development of social capital. It does not provide financial support for individuals or support various social welfare programmes. Thus, it is not appropriate to make a comparison between the CIIF and other funds or applications for the District Councils' funding.

Q9 Please provide the texts of the marking scheme used in the 16th batch of applications as mentioned in paragraph 3.10 of the Audit Report and compare it with the marking scheme used in previous batches of applications.

A9 The marking scheme used in processing applications before the 16th batch mainly include the following eight categories –

1. Organization's background and capability
2. Whether the application aligns with CIIF objectives and has the potential to develop social capital
3. Effectiveness and performance indicators
4. Implementation of innovative strategies and programmes
5. Technical feasibility
6. Financial viability and reasonableness of its budget plan
7. Sustainability
8. Risk factors

Each project has a designated rating from 0 to 5, with 5 being the highest –

- Proposals with an average rating of 3.0 or above will likely be accepted
- Proposals with an average rating between 2.5 and 2.9 may require further deliberation of the CIIF Committee
- Proposals with a rating below 2.5 are usually not recommended for acceptance

The AESC revised the marking scheme in April 2010 and the revisions were endorsed by the CIIF Committee in May 2010. The major amendments to the marking scheme are as follows –

The original eight categories have been expanded with five additional categories –

1. Accurate assessment and ability to fulfil community needs
2. Intervention model and networking strategies
3. Effective evaluation tools and methods
4. Support from key collaborators
5. Effective leadership

The 13 categories have been reorganised into 4 key categories with 11 assessment criteria. We then weigh the 4 key areas according to their importance –

1. Understanding of social capital building (10%)
2. Project effectiveness (70%)
3. Organisation's capability (15%)
4. Other factors including risk evaluation and problem-solving ability (5%)

Each category has a passing mark, with 100 being the full assessment mark –

- Proposals with a total score above 70 will likely be accepted
- Proposals with a score between 51 and 69 may require further deliberation of the CIIF Committee
- Proposals with a score below 50 are usually not recommended for acceptance

The Secretariat has made the above information available for public access through the CIIF's website when the new marking scheme has been put in place. It was also introduced in the briefings for the 16th batch and 17th batch of applications. The marking schemes used in the 16th batch of applications and previous batches of applications are at Appendices 1 and 2 respectively.

Q10 When appointing members from different sectors to the CIIF Committee, has the Administration considered their knowledge in social capital and whether brief introduction of social capital was given to the new members?

A10 When appointing members to the CIIF Committee, the Administration will carefully consider all relevant factors, including their knowledge and experience in social capital and whether they could facilitate the promotion and development of social capital, and determine the suitability of individuals to serve as members of the CIIF Committee.

When issuing appointment letters to the new members, we will attach a copy of the relevant Legislative Council Finance Committee paper which includes an introduction to social capital, background, objectives, models and assessment criteria, etc. of the CIIF when it was set up in 2002 for their information.

Q11 Has the CIIF Secretariat issued guidelines to the project grantees regarding the progress reports (see paragraph 4.12 of the Audit Report). If yes, please provide the relevant guidelines.

A11 According to the Conditions of Grant, the project grantees need to submit four quarterly progress reports every year. The CIIF Secretariat will issue the relevant guidelines by email around half a month before the submission deadline to remind the project grantees to submit reports on time and of other matters requiring attention. The guidelines are attached at Appendix 8.

Q12 Please provide the questionnaire for relevant bureaux/departments to fill in as mentioned in paragraph 4.5(c) of the Audit Report.

A12 The questionnaire is attached at Appendix 9. The CIIF Secretariat has already deleted the “no comment” checkbox from the answer section based on the recommendation of the Audit Commission. The revised questionnaire has immediately been used in processing the 17th batch of applications which commenced in August this year. The revised questionnaire is at Appendix 10.

Q13 What is the long-lasting effect of the one-off activities as mentioned in Paragraph 5.16 of the Audit Report? Apart from the six projects examined by the Audit Commission, has the CIIF Secretariat rejected other applications for one-off activities? What were the reasons for rejection? Please provide a list including the name of the applicant, the title of the project and the amount of the applied one-off activities for all rejected and accepted applications.

A13 CIIF funding is paid quarterly to grantees on a reimbursement basis. We have stated in the CIIF application form that “one-off large-scale events, which are not in line with the rationale of social capital building and without continuous impact, will generally not be supported (such as banquets, carnivals and tours). If the one-off event is regarded as crucial in the project, please elaborate on its cost-effectiveness and how it can help build social capital. Please also provide the budgeted expenses and income of the one-off event.”.

In considering whether to reimburse expenditure on individual activities, we will mainly consider whether the nature of the activities is in line with the project objectives and how the activities would facilitate social capital development. When applying for reimbursements, grantees are required to provide justifications regarding the nature of the activities, attendance records, effectiveness and expenditure of the activities.

The assessment records of all applications for reimbursement for one-off activities conducted by the CIIF Secretariat since July 2007 are at Appendix 11.

Paper CIIF-AS 01/02

CIIF Applications: Assessment Procedures and Criteria

This paper seeks Members' comments on the proposed procedures and criteria to be adopted for assessing applications under the CIIF. Views expressed by Members in previous Committee meetings have been incorporated as appropriate.

1. Key Principles

- ✓ The Fund is a seed fund for developing social capital - it should neither duplicate nor replace existing government subventions or other funding;
- ✓ Projects to be supported should be community-initiated with a clear objective to develop social capital - funding is not directed at supporting long term, or supplementing existing services or one-off consumption projects; and
- ✓ To sustain operation beyond the funding period.

2. Assessment Approach

- 2.1 The innovative nature, merit and intent of this new Fund comes with increased risk exposure. For these reasons the Fund has been identified as one of the new study areas for ICAC and SWD. It is also likely that it will be scrutinized by the Audit Commission.
- 2.2 The risk areas to be addressed by the CIIF Committee include the following:
 - ✓ The expected outcomes are new and may be difficult to specify, achieve, or monitor as well as measure;
 - ✓ The track record of applicants will vary (including the risk of project failure, late or non-delivery that tends to be high even amongst other more established Funds); and
 - ✓ The assessment criteria and process are new and untested (increasing the degree of difficulty in reaching a consensus and consistency in the assessment process).

2.3 The following principles will be adhered to when designing the assessment procedures:

- ✓ Make the administrative process simple so as to facilitate the involvement of smaller and less well-established groups;
- ✓ Make the decision making process fair and accountable to minimize the risk of abuse or misuse and hence address the requirements of monitoring offices such as the ICAC and the Audit Commission.
- ✓ Make the assessment process and assessment outcomes transparent so as to gain public confidence in the effectiveness of the Fund to achieve its primary purposes.

2.4 Judging from the experience of other Funds , the vetting and assessment processes can be extremely cumbersome and time-consuming for both the Secretariat and the Committee to manage. The Secretariat has considered various “tested” approaches, and estimated the following resource requirements:

- ✓ A minimum of 10 hours for the processing of a simple and straightforward application, and around 20 hours for applications requiring substantial clarification and consultation with other government departments, to the stage of making an initial recommendation to the Sub-committee.
- ✓ Apart from the committee deliberation time, each Sub-Committee member will need a minimum of 1 to 2 hours to read through and consider each application.

The Secretariat is proposing a vetting and assessment approach that takes on board the positive elements but simplifies the tight assessment system applied to assessing technical tenders against standard specifications.

Vetting and Assessment Procedures

3.1 The flow of decision making process will involve three integrated layers, i.e. from the Secretariat, to the Sub-committee and finally to the CIIF Committee. Each onward layer should take an increasingly broader perspective. The assessment focus of each layer will be:

- a) the Secretariat: the Secretariat should do the initial, detailed and technical vetting;

- b) the Assessment Sub-committee: the Sub-committee will take account of the recommendations of the Secretariat, assess the merits of projects along major assessment criteria (such as those outlined in section 4) and consolidate a set of funding recommendations to the CIIF Committee;
- c) the CIIF Committee: the CIIF Committee will assess the major risk-benefit potentials of the projects in finalizing the decision.

3.2 The flow-chart in Annex A shows the following assessment procedures:

- a) receipt, processing, initial analysis and vetting by the Secretariat,
- b) assessment and recommendation by the Assessment Sub-Committee,
- c) decision making by the CIIF Committee, and
- d) the post-assessment tasks including the notification of approval and confirmation of acceptance by the Secretariat.

3.3 Vetting by the CIIF Secretariat:

3.3.1 Incoming project proposals will firstly be assessed on the existence of some “qualifying” or “disqualifying” factors, such as applications by individuals, applicants without credible registration status, affiliation or sponsorship from bona fide groups that can assume legal liability, or those that clearly duplicate other Government subventions

3.3.2 Proposals meeting the qualifying criteria (outlined in 3.3.1) will be analyzed against a checklist of key components. Ratings will be given under respective criteria or areas.

3.3.3 A summary for each individual project will be prepared (see Annex B) after the Secretariat’s initial vetting, including seeking clarification from the applicants and comments from relevant Government departments. A set of consolidated initial recommendations will be grouped and put to the Assessment Sub-committee as follows:

- (a) The “recommend to accept” cluster for projects that clearly meet the criteria of the Fund (with an initial recommended funding amount);
- (b) The “recommend to reject” cluster for projects that are clearly outside of the scope of the Fund; including those with disqualifying factors; and

- (c) The “marginal” group of projects with sufficient merits to warrant further consideration by the Sub-committee.

3.4 Assessment by the Assessment Sub-committee:

Considering the impracticality of the Sub-committee assessing every project in detail, and based on the principle of “management by exception”, it is proposed that the Sub-committee should focus on reviewing the initial vetting undertaken by the Secretariat.

This phase will involve:

- (a) The set of initial assessment summaries with recommendations with a declaration of interest form, will be circulated to the Assessment Sub-Committee;
- (b) Sub-committee members will be requested to provide written comments on the Secretariat’s initial recommendations on each proposal, together with a signed declaration of interest form for each batch of applications;
- (c) Meeting with applicant groups if necessary;
- (d) Reviewing, confirming or giving reasons to suggest changes to the Secretariat’s initial vetting results from “recommend to accept” or “recommend to reject” to “marginal” for further consideration by the Sub-committee (as every suggested variation will in effect place the project into the “marginal” group); and
- (e) When the Sub-Committee meets, it should focus on reaching a decision on the “marginal” group; and then consolidate recommendations to the CIIF Committee for endorsement. The recommendations will be sorted into three categories:

- Approve (with a suggested amount of grant),
- Reject, and
- Deferral, including invitation to “revise and re-submit.”

3.5 Decision by the CIIF Committee: decision by the CIIF Committee is final.

- (a) The consolidated recommendations from the Sub-committee CIIF Committee, will be circulated to the CIIF Committee for formal decision;
- (b) A declaration of interest form will accompany each batch of applications for CIIF Committee members to declare their interest;
- (c) Written confirmation of the declaration of interest and key issues for consideration at the Committee will be invited prior to the Committee meeting; and
- (d) CIIF Committee members will then either confirm or revise the recommendations of the Sub-committee to approve (the level of grant), reject, or defer consideration, including an invitation to “revise and re-submit”.

3.6 Post assessment and approval:

- (a) The CIIF Secretariat will manage the subsequent notification, payment control and progress monitoring tasks.
- (b) The Evaluation and Development of Social Capital Committee will undertake the on-going monitoring of the overall performance of the Fund.

4. Assessment criteria

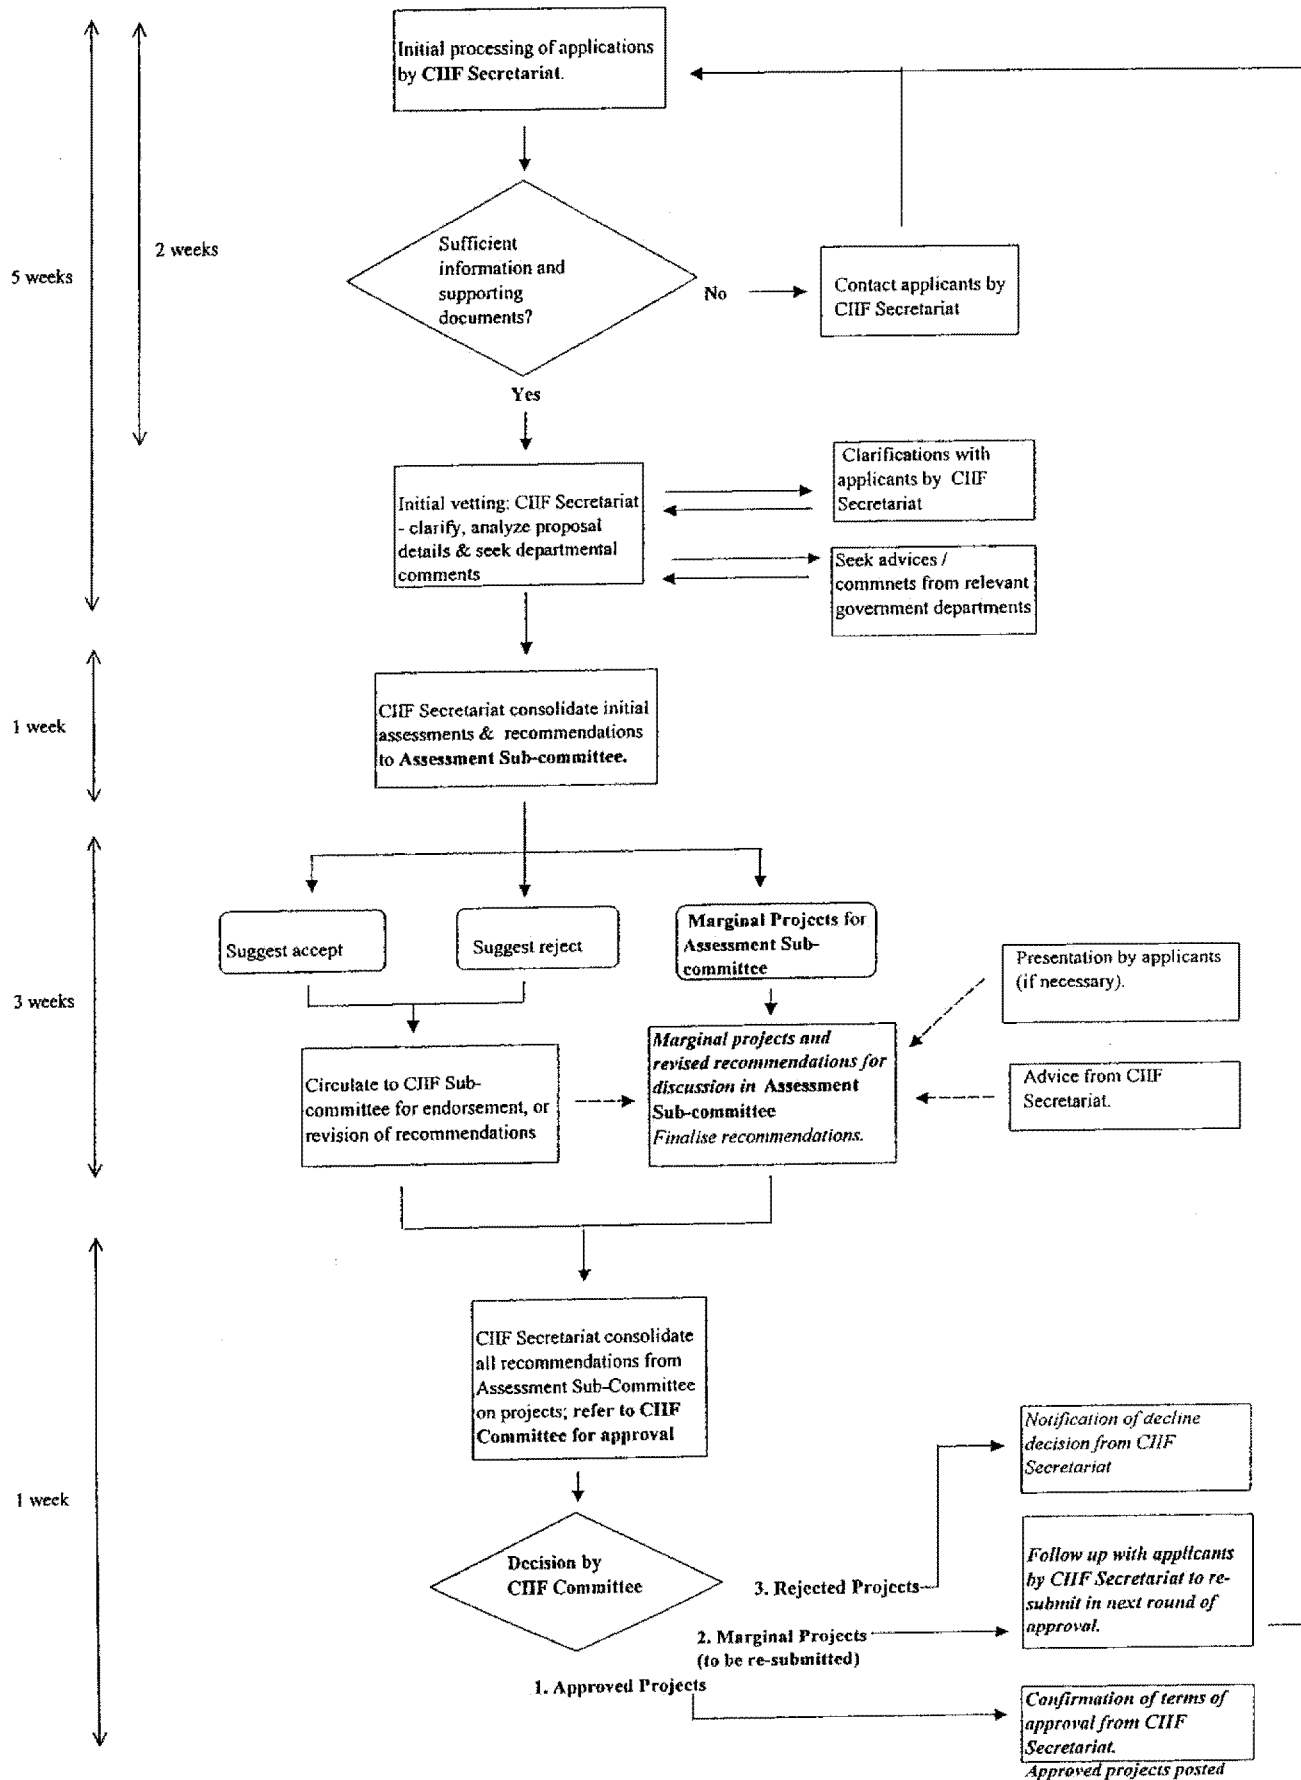

The following areas will form the basis of the Secretariat’s vetting, analysis and initial recommendations to the Assessment Sub-Committee.

The proposed projects will be assessed according to the following dimensions once it has passed the “qualifying” or “disqualifying” factors.

- Applicants’ background and capability (balancing track record with ability to innovate)
- Technical feasibility of the proposed project (whether the proposal demonstrates clear linkages between their strategies, proposed action in addressing the needs identified, and achieving the planned outcome, i.e. intervention logic. This is different from financial viability of the project).
- Potential social capital outcomes (e.g. sustainability, inclusion, driving energy within the community)
- Other planned outcomes
- Financial viability (cost effectiveness, sustainability)
- Possible negative factors; and
- Other considerations

Summary of Project Proposal and Recommendation from CIIF Secretariat

(A) Details of Application

HWFB Reference No.: 11-1

Name of Applicant(s): 耆康會懷熙荃灣社區老人服務中心 SAGE Chan Tseng Hsi
Tsuen Wan Multi-service Centre for the Elderly

Name of Collaborating Groups: 本計劃沒有與共其他單位合辦,但有部份內容將與青衣區的青少年中心合作 (This project does not have a co-organiser. But some parts of the program will be organised jointly with other [non-specified] youth centres in Kwai Tsing).

Name of Project Proposal: 耆情天地 A special space: service for the elderly

Total Amount Requested from CIIF: $1,408,917.00 (3 years: Feb. 2003 – Feb. 2006)

(B) Summary of the Proposal :

■ Key objectives:

- 1) To arouse the older people's awareness on personal health (both physical and psychological health)
- 2) To provide care and support for older people so as to increase their self esteem and to encourage them to think positively
- 3) To increase and establish social networks for the older people who live alone or who are in need
- 4) To increase linkages between youth, women and the old
- 5) To enhance the older people's IT knowledge e.g. obtain information through the internet, get access to government web sites and make payment through internet

■ Main outputs

- 1) To increase support network for older people
- 2) To increase mutual care and trust, increase mutual assistance and reciprocity
- 3) To develop positive values – to provide care and support for older people so as to increase their self esteem and to encourage them to think positively
- 4) The ultimate aims: social solidarity, social inclusion, self-help and mutual-help and positive values will be achieved through the project.

■ Target group(s)

- 1) Older people (60 years old or above) in Kwai Tsing District or older people with the following features:
 - a) those who live alone or whose family is not able to take care of them
 - b) those who are without any social network
 - c) those who have health problems
 - d) those who have financial problems
 - e) those who are in very poor living conditions
 - f) those who have no knowledge about the resources in the society
- 2) volunteers who want to serve the older people e.g. volunteers from the youth centre
- 3) people in the community

■ Location

Kwai Tsing District

■ Unique feature

Establish the first Cyber Café for older people in Hong Kong. The Cyber Café will be operated with the assistance from youngsters.

(C) Summary of Proposed Outcome (Including Performance Targets, Indicators, Degree of Application/Development/Promotion of Social Capital, etc.) :

1) Operational Plan:

- a) To provide Integrated Supporting Service (綜合支援服務) with the assistance from 2 social workers from the centre, volunteers and companions who will accompany older people when they go to clinic (陪診員):
 - i) To provide maintenance service or transport service - improve the living conditions of 25-30 older people each month.
 - ii) To provide companionship service when the older people go to clinic.
 - iii) To provide psychological support and referral service (轉介服務)
- b) Health Centre for the Old. The aim is to increase the older people's awareness on health and to increase positive values.
 - i) Seminars on health – conducted by nurses or professionals once a month.
 - ii) Health Inspection – conducted by the outreaching team under Department of Health and some volunteers once a month
 - iii) Health Corner and Health Information Sections – 2 sections each daily with the assistance from 2 social workers and volunteers
- c) Cyber Café for the Old (耆網吧). A technician and some volunteers will be in charge of the daily operation of the Cyber Café while the financial matters will be handled by the applicant organisation. The opening hours is 6 hours a day and hence 1,584 people will be benefited from the café each day (6 hours X 12 Older people X 22 days). The service charge is $2.- per hour which includes a drink. Youngsters and women will prepare the tea reception.

- i) To provide computers for the older people to get access to internet
- ii) To conduct computer courses
- iii) To provide tea reception.

2) Performance indicators

- a) Number of volunteers participated in the project : 3960 volunteers
- b) Number of people visited the health centre: 63360 people
- c) Number of older people benefited from the project: 3960 elders
- d) Support network to older people who live alone or in need: around 500 elders
- e) Number of people using the computer facilities: 57024 people

3) Monitoring and evaluation

The evaluation of the program is mainly through:

- a) the actual number of participants of each program
- b) feedback from participants – both older people and the volunteers
- c) feedback from the working group
- d) feedback from the youth centers or volunteering organisations

4) Future of the project

The sustainability of the project depends very much on:

- a) the number of companions required by older people when they go to clinics
- b) the number of older people using the Cyber Café and the assistance from youth centres
- c) the number of people using the Health Centre
- d) the amount received from other funding for homecare improvements (改善家居服務得到其他基金支援)

5) Other outcome of the project:

- a) increase job opportunities – recruit women helpers in the community as companions when the older people go to clinics. These women will have an income in return. One technician and one program assistant will be recruited for this project.
- b) Increase linkages between the young and the old
- c) Increase the older peoples' awareness of personal health.

Remarks:

1) Five Staff is required for this project:

- a) a Senior Social Welfare Worker – paid by the applicant organization
- b) a Social Welfare Assistant – paid by the applicant organization
- c) an IT technician – paid by CIIF
- d) a program assistant – paid by CIIF
- e) a worker – paid by the applicant organization

Track Record & Capability					✓		The applicant is under the auspices of the Hong Kong Society for the Aged, which is a non-governmental organization established in 1977.
Technical Feasibility					✓		The project has very clear objective and the project will benefit the community.
Proposal Quality & Social Capital Outcomes					✓		Increase network between elderly and youth.
Financial Viability/ reasonableness of budget		✓					With the heavy staff cost and recurrent expenses, it is unlikely that the project can be sustainable on a self-financing basis. Besides, setting up of a new centre is the highest-cost option.
Other Planned Outcome					✓		Create job opportunities for women and youth.
Additional Factors / Other Comments / sustainability	✓
Other Negative Factors					✓		Potential overlaps with other subvented services.

SWD : The proposed project is not supported.

- 1) The SAGE is currently receiving welfare subvention to operate two multi-service centres for the elderly, including the Applicant which already operates two support teams for the elderly respectively in Tsuen Wan and Kwai Tsing Districts providing similar volunteer support and networking services as proposed in the Applicant's application.
- 2) In addition, there are 6 social centres for the elderly operated by other NGOs in Tsing Yi which also provide more or less the same services as proposed.
- 3) The two multi-service centres for the elderly operated by the SAGE in Kwai Tsing Districts and the existing 6 social centres for the elderly operated by other NGOs in Tsing Yi have already installed one to two personal computers with Internet access in each of them with a grant from the Lotteries Fund by end of 2001. In this connection, elders can easily gain access to computers and learn Information Technology in these elderly service units.
- 4) There are four Integrated Children & Youth Services Centres and one Children & Youth Centre in Tsing Yi with good computer facilities, the Applicant can network with them to provide services to elders with a goal to promote cross-generational collaboration, instead of setting up a new internet bar for the elders.
- 5) The proposal to set up a new centre is the highest-cost option. The proposed services are/can be provided by existing service units in the district through networking and collaboration among elderly services units, youth services units, medical/health services units provided by HA/DH at a minimal cost.
- 6) With the heavy staff cost and recurrent expenses, it is unlikely that the project can be sustainable on a self-financing basis. 65% of the budget ($913,392 in $1,408,917) is recurrent in nature for the employment of staff and rental of accommodation. These can be dispensed with if the project is launched by existing (subvented) staff at existing accommodation through collaboration with other services units.

Overall Recommendations:	<input type="checkbox"/> Recommend to approve	Although there are potentials to develop cross-generational networks and linking, the proposed option is too costly and with many components overlapping with existing subvented services. Hence marginal – to reject.
	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Marginal – issues for further consideration

VIII. Overall Rating	Some elements with good potential to establish cross-generational linking between younger and older people through the establishment of the cyber-café for elders. But this positive consideration is outweighed by the extent of duplication with existing services already subvented by SWD. The results could be achieved without necessarily establishing such a high cost independent service.				✓

Summary of Project Proposal and Recommendation from CIIF Secretariat

(A) Details of Application

HWFB Reference No.: 17-1

Name of Applicant(s): 香港青暉社屬會青暉婦女會(Ching Fai Women Association federated with the Hong Kong Ching Fai Association)

Name of Collaborating Groups: 深水埗婦女聯合會 (Sham Shui Po Women's Organisations Federation) and 香港青年義工團(Hong Kong Youth Volunteer Association),

Name of Project Proposal: 愛家教室(Family Education - Love and Caring at Home)

Total Amount Requested from CIIF: $1,045,500.00 (3 years: May 2003 – May 2006)

(B) Summary of the Proposal :

■ Key objectives

The key objective of the project are:

- a) to emphasis the value of family and to put effort on the education of children (重視家庭價值，盡力子女教育)
- b) to provide after school care service (assist the parents who have to work during day time (雙職父母) and to take care of their children)
- c) to conduct training workshops for parents on the communication skills with their children
- d) to train the unemployed women as family tutors (to take care of the children and to assist them in finishing the homework)
- e) to develop networks for parents so that they can share their experience and to support each other

■ Main outputs

- a) the project aims at achieving social participation, self-help and mutual-help through developing mutual care and trust among the family members and between different families
- b) to build up support networks in different families and between the counselors in the centre and the parents
- c) to promote positive values such as to emphasis the value of family and to put an

- effort on the education of children (重視家庭價值，盡力子女教育)
- d) to increase the quality of the next generation

■ Target group(s)

Women, working parents and families, involving young people and other women as volunteers

■ Location

All districts in HK (the centre is at Sham Shui Po)

■ Unique feature

- a) collaboration from 2 welfare organisations in the district: the project is co-organised with the Hong Kong Youth Volunteer Association which has agreed to provide some youth graduated from tertiary institutions as volunteers and tutors. Besides, the Sham Shui Po Women's Organisations Federation agrees to provide women members as volunteers

(C) Summary of Proposed Outcome (Including Performance Targets, Indicators, Degree of Application/Development/Promotion of Social Capital, etc.) :

1) Operational Plan:

- a) to provide after school care service
 - to take care of the children and to assist them in finishing all the homework,
 - to provide lessons on self discipline, moral education and to develop the analytical ability of the children
 - to conduct talent training courses on music and art
 - the applicant organization will charge a monthly fee of $650.- for those who only need assistance in finishing homework and $980.- for those who receive all the service including the charges for lunch
- b) Training workshops for parents in the evening and during weekends
 - provide two in one course (二合一課程) which teaches cookery, pottery and etc. in the first part of the lesson and then the skills on how to communicate with their children in the second part so that parents can apply the skills on daily life
- c) Family tutors training course
 - recruit the unemployed women as family tutors. The organization observed that some women has already received secondary education and they can be tutors instead of being a domestic helper
- d) Volunteering networks for parents
 - to build up networks among the parents, to conduct experience sharing sessions, to assist in the training workshops for parents

2) Performance indicators

Summary of Project Proposal and Recommendation from CIIF Secretariat

(A) Details of Application

HWFB Reference No.: 113-1

Name of Applicant(s): 城市睦福團契有限公司 Peacemaker Evangelistic Fellowship Ltd.

Name of Collaborating Groups: 基督教宣道會盈豐堂, 基石教會興田堂 (Local Churches)

Name of Project Proposal: 寶田鄰舍動力 -- 社區關懷網絡計劃 Community Care and Networking Programmes for Residents in "Po Tin Interim Housing", Tuen Mun.

Total Amount Requested from CIIF: $1,562,590.00 (for 3 years, starting 2 months after funding approval)

(B) Summary of the Proposal :

■ Key objectives

- (i) To build up and strengthen the relationships between residents/families living in Po Tin Interim Houses (bonding), encouraging and promoting mutual help, positive values and problem-solving skills;
- (ii) To build linkages or networks between residents of Po Tin Interim House and community groups in Po Tin (intra-community bridging), encouraging residents to participate more in community programmes and joint problems solving;
- (iii) To build networks among Po Tin residents with other sectors such as commercial organisations, government departments like housing and social welfare, religious groups and kindergartens (bridging and linking) so that they would be more responsive to the needs of the Po Tin residents.

■ Main outputs

- (i) Refurbish their local centre and establish it as a base for providing services and organizing activities;

- (ii) Volunteer Home visiting Scheme (linking) – visits to needy and poor families (e.g. for CSSA recipients, new residents dislocated from other areas and unemployed peoples) and matching with appropriate volunteers, with a view to promoting goodwill, mutual understanding and better communication. Besides, with the sponsorship from commercial organisations, visiting gifts like food, daily products would be provided to these families in need. It is targeted that a total of 704 regular home visits and 15 large-scale home visits would be made during the 3 years' project period.
- (iii) Adjustment and integration (linking) programme for new neighbours – this programme would be jointly organized by the applicant, social service unit, estate management office, Christian groups, kindergartens and commercial organisations. Activities under this programme would include welcoming gatherings, help talks for newcomers to understand District resource and related information, support for individual families and festival celebration programmes. The projected outputs are as follows:-
 - 6 welcome gatherings for newcomers
 - 90 support for individual families
 - 12 festival celebration programme
 - 8 times: setting up resource exhibition booth
- (iv) Women support networks (bonding and linking) – to provide support to women in Po Tin House who face various adjustment problems relating to employment, support network, schooling for their children etc as a result of their relocation and dislocation. Mutual-help groups and different training classes and courses will be set up. Some of the women would be become representatives/ambassadors of the area who would in turn stimulate more people to promote the welfare of women and neighbourhood. It is targeted that a total of 324 women sessions would be held.
- (v) Large scale community activities / festival celebration – there would be gatherings which would involve groups from various sectors and all residents of Po Tin Interim House. A total of 12 activities would be held over the 3 years period.
- (vi) Mutual help (linking) – Po Tin residents would be invited to participate a mutual help programme which aims to identify residents' special skills and perform a matching on people who need the assistance from others. Sense of belongings, self-respect, mutual care and trust will thus be improved and strengthened. The target groups are unemployed people and CSSA recipients who have skills to contribute. It is projected that a total of 288 sessions would be held over the project period.
- (vii) Cross-sector Networks (bridging) – activities like sharing sessions for different sector groups, training and gathering for volunteers from different organisations would be held so as to strengthen the networks, enhance the nature of their collaboration, and increase inclusion. The followings are the expected outputs:-

- discussion with members from different groups - 36 times
- training course - 12 sessions
- "precious moment" gathering - 36 times
- "The use of electronic promotion tools" - 26 times
- network sharing sessions - 3 times
- publications - 10,000 pieces

- Target group(s)
 - All residents in Po Tin Interim Housing Area (over 10,000 living 9 blocks each with 28 storeys)
- Location
 - Po Tin Interim Housing, Tuen Mun, N.T.
- Unique feature: a sense of transiency, dislocation and helplessness would be experienced by most of the residents who moved to the interim estate established since 1990/2000. Over 30% are singles and just under half living in 3-5 people units; mostly poor. The "interim" housing arrangement accentuates the sense of transiency making it even harder for the residents to build up neighbourliness, trust and mutual help, which this scheme seeks to address.

(C) Summary of Proposed Outcome (Including Performance Targets, Indicators, Degree of Application/Development/Promotion of Social Capital, etc.):

Quantity

- | | |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| 1. No. of residents who have linked up with community groups: | 4,850 times |
| 2. No. of residents visited by volunteers/ community groups: | 1,152 times |
| 3. No. of sessions that residents have attended | 324 sessions |
| 4. No. of community groups organized by/ for residents : | 4 |
| 5. Sharing sessions with cross sector groups: | 85 |

Quality

1. Positive values being promoted.
2. Improved mutual care trust, sense of belonging to the community

Immediate Effect

1. Residents within the networks can get help.

2. Residents gained in self-confidence.
3. Residents changed from "victim" to "blesser" roles and altruism promoted.

Project Name: _____ No.: _____

Project Period: _____ to _____

Section B Project Performance

1. Project Quantity

1.1 Overall Quantity

Please fill in the increased and cumulative numbers (not attendances) of participants for this quarter and ever since the Project was launched respectively. The numbers of project participants are divided into three categories, namely volunteers, direct participants and indirect participants, without multiple counting.

	Expected Quantity		Actual Quantity
	Quarterly Increased	Cumulative	Quarterly Increased	Cumulative
(i) No. of Volunteers
(ii) No. of Direct Participants (volunteers not included)
(iii) No. of Indirect Participants (Note: persons who do not directly participate in the Project, e.g. visitors to the exhibitions or onlookers of the opening ceremony of the Project)
Total

1.2 Individual Programme Quantity

Please provide a breakdown of the target groups and numbers of participants for this quarter and on a cumulative basis by individual programmes contained in the Conditions of Grant. Each programme may have more than one target group, and the number (not attendance) of each target group should be clearly stated.

Programme	Target Groups	No. of Volunteers				No. of Participants
