What more we can do on our children’s future—on legislative perspectives

Children mean future, regardless of where the century, nation or civilisation you are. Even minor changes to the youth policies would result in major changes of the society, our future generations and even the destiny of our nation and the world history; therefore, no reckless decision is appreciated.

A specialist panel on children policies is urged for commission as a major crisis is present while devastating consequence to our nation are imminent. The occurrence of the biggest “student killers” since the baby boomer is, in no sense, independent cases of personal distress; it is continuous—and systematic—homicide resulted from severe youth crises: unnecessary crammed module and assessments,

Involuntary extracurricular activities, instructed propaganda modules, unjustified parenting, and even bullied without justice. Not only do these crises affect the development and health of the victims, but also cause huge civil unrests that destroy our lives, development, even the whole nation and the world.

We will appreciate if the proposed panel would not only focus on ordinary children policies, but also the future prospect of post 2047 institutions, as it is when the present day children government Hong Kong and our nation; any syllabus they were taught, any unrest they experience, and any policy you enforced, will help shape their blueprint of the future of Hong Kong.

In addition to the prospectus,

We are also looking forward to filing a P and P case on the recent scandal of PLK training camp, as many students there are expected to be victims of criminatory tortures. A P and P investigation is also recommended for serial suicide cases. The effective territory of Hong Kong jurisdiction has no room of tolerance for this dignity-infringing incident.

Whichever the party you belong to, whether direct or indirect elections you're from, whenever the year of birth you were, wherever the childhood and campus life you spent, however stressful and joyful childhood you experienced ----

It is NOW the time to think about what more we can do for our children, the future generation under the lion
