To Hon. Tanya Chan
Chair of the Environmental Affairs Panel

I was excited to read of Hong Kong's proposed legislation to ban trade in pre-Convention ivory, and I urge you to take every possible measure to end this commerce before all elephants have been sacrificed for the wealth of a few. This emergency is of concern to people around the world.

I pray the damage to their culture and family relationships is not already irreversible. Please do not allow any dilution of the ban, or provide any economic incentive to poachers.

Your action at this time will impact many generations to come. Thank you, thank you.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Elliott
