Dear panel, I am a year 5 student that has strong opinions, even if most of them are wrong. Please do not judge us harshly because of our beliefs.

I fully support your judgment of ivory trade very seriously, and if you do ban ivory trade, you should make the law VERY clear so criminals will not find loopholes in the law. You should also consider banning ALL wildlife trade so we will not be the generation that causes worldwide elephant extinction. I think that you should visit schools and ask for the children's opinion because research shows that most children are smarter than adults.

Happily, Alyssa Chan
