Dear Sir/Madame

I support the HK governments ivory ban because it is cruel to just takeaway the tusks and leave that poor mammal just at that spot, hello?

Do you even care about the mammals, well by the look of it no. These mammals can save other african animals from their predator (e.g.)- A wild elephant saved a baby buffalo from a lion, How?

There tusks of-course! How do you think a mammal is supposed survive from a lion without sharp tusks, do you suppose an elephant to kill a lion with blunt tusks, that would be impossible for an elephant.
