Dear the Honourable Tanya Chan,

It has been brought to my attention that LegCo is due to discuss giving compensation to the ivory traders (the same traders who have had over 25 years to shift their stock, as I understand it). I would not usually write, but I felt compelled to do so as I cannot understand why such a matter is even up for debate.

I find this a ludicrous and unbelievable discussion topic on so many levels. To compensate for sheer incompetence, greed, cruelty and inhumanity should have no place in a developed society such as Hong Kong, let alone anywhere else on the planet.

I strongly oppose compensating the ivory traders, and fully support the ivory ban. To not do so would be a crime against humanity and our planet.

I thank you for your attention, and trust that LegCo will make the right, honourable decision.

Sincerely,
Jamie Coates
