Panel on Welfare Services and Panel on Health Services

Joint Subcommittee on Long-term Care Policy

Proposed continuation of work of the Joint Subcommittee

Purpose

This paper seeks members' views on the need for the Joint Subcommittee on Long-term Care Policy ("the Joint Subcommittee") to continue its work beyond its 12-month period of work and, for such continuation of work, seek the endorsement of House Committee ("HC") for the Joint Subcommittee to be put on the waiting list for re-activation.

Background

2. The Joint Subcommittee was jointly appointed by the Panel on Welfare Services ("WS Panel") and Panel on Health Services ("HS Panel") in November 2016 to study the long-term care policy and services (including home-based, community based and residential care services for the elderly, people with disabilities and the chronically ill), discuss the policy concerned with the Administration and make timely recommendations.

Progress of work of Joint Subcommittee

3. The Joint Subcommittee has identified the following 18 subjects for discussion –

- (a) review of Integrated Home Care Services;
- (b) Pilot Scheme on Residential Care Service Voucher for the Elderly;

- (c) support for persons suffering from dementia and their family members;
- (d) dental care for the elderly and people with disabilities;
- (e) community support services for mentally ill and ex-mentally ill persons;
- (f) service quality of private residential care homes;
- (g) policy on subsidizing chronic patients for purchasing expensive drugs;
- (h) Pilot Scheme on Community Care Service Voucher for the Elderly;
- (i) Elderly Services Programme Plan;
- (j) severe shortage of community care services;
- (k) support for carers;
- (l) ageing of persons with intellectual disabilities or other types of disabilities;
- (m) hospice care services;
- (n) treatment and care services for rare disease patients;
- (o) care services for mentally incapacitated persons;
- (p) planning standards for long-term care services;
- (q) euthanasia; and
- (r) dental services for people with disabilities, the elderly and chronic patients.

4. The Joint Subcommittee has, since 16 December 2016, held eight¹ meetings with the Administration and received views from deputations at seven of these meetings. The Joint Subcommittee has studied the first seven subjects (i.e. (a) to (g)) listed in paragraph 3 above.

Need for continuation of work

5. The Joint Subcommittee has yet to study the 11 subjects listed in items (h) to (r) of paragraph 3 above which are important issues to be addressed by the long-term care policy. In its study of these subjects, the Joint Subcommittee will, apart from meeting with the Administration, receive views from relevant non-governmental organizations, concern groups and the general public on each of the 11 subjects. It is envisaged that if the Joint Subcommittee decides to continue its work to complete its study on the remaining subjects, at least 12 meetings will be required,² 11 for the study of the 11 subjects and another one for wrapping up the Joint Subcommittee's study and deliberation of its observations and recommendations.

6. Rule 26(c) of the House Rules provides that if a subcommittee appointed by Panel(s) considers it necessary to work beyond 12 months of its commencement, it should, after obtaining the endorsement of the relevant Panel(s), report to HC and give justifications for an extension of the 12-month period. The Joint Subcommittee has agreed, at its meeting on 27 June 2017, that it should complete its study of all the 11 subjects mentioned above before drawing up recommendations on the long-term care policy and services. For doing so, the Joint Subcommittee has proposed to continue its work beyond the 12-month period for another eleven and a half months until 30 November 2018. The proposal was submitted to the WS Panel and HS Panel for consideration through circulation of papers. As four members had signified disapproval by the deadline for return on 3 July 2017, the Chairmen of the two Panels agreed that members should meet (the two Panels to hold separate meetings or a joint meeting) to consider the proposal. Details of the meeting(s) had yet to be drawn up.

7. At its meeting on 7 July 2017, HC has considered the proposed arrangements for extension of period of work of subcommittees on policy issues in the Sixth Legislative Council. HC has agreed, inter alia, that apart from the five subcommittees³ which have been given permission by

² Twelve monthly meetings will need to be held in October to December 2017, January to July and October to November 2018.

³ The five subcommittees are: (a) Subcommittee on Matters Relating to Railways, (b) Joint Subcommittee to Monitor the Implementation of the West Kowloon Cultural District Project, (c) Subcommittee on Retirement Protection, (d) Subcommittee on Children's Rights, and (e) Subcommittee on Rights of Ethnic Minorities.

HC for their continuation of work and the subcommittee⁴ which will be given such permission if it proposes to do so, a subcommittee on policy issues currently in operation (e.g. the Joint Subcommittee) will vacate its slot upon completion of its 12-month period of work for activation of a subcommittee on the waiting list. If a subcommittee considers it necessary for it to work beyond the 12-month period, upon obtaining HC's endorsement, it will be put on the waiting list for re-activation.

8. In view of the HC's decision that the Joint Subcommittee should cease its work upon completion of the 12-month period which will end in December 2017, it is envisaged that two of the 11 outstanding subjects will be studied by the Joint Subcommittee at its meetings in October and November 2017 and the last Joint Subcommittee meeting in December 2017 will be used for wrapping up its study and deliberation of its observations and recommendations. If members consider it necessary to work beyond the 12-month period for studying the remaining nine subjects, the Joint Subcommittee will need to seek endorsement of the two Panels and HC for the Joint Subcommittee to be put on the waiting list for re-activation.

Advice sought

9. Members are invited to indicate whether they support the proposed continuation of work beyond the 12-month period and, for such continuation of work, the proposal to seek HC's endorsement for the Joint Subcommittee to be put on the waiting list for re-activation. Subject to members' views, the WS Panel and the HS Panel will be invited to approve the proposal before its submission to HC for consideration.
