The Applied Research Fund

INTRODUCTION

This information paper provides an update on the financial position of the Applied Research Fund (ARF) for the period 1 June to 31 August 2017¹.

BACKGROUND

2. The ARF is a government venture capital fund of $750 million set up in 1993 to provide funding support to technology ventures and research and development projects that have commercial potential. The ARC, a company wholly owned by the Government, was formed specifically to control and administer the ARF. The investments of the ARC fall into two categories: those processed by the then Industry Department before the engagement of venture capital firms in November 1998 and those managed by fund managers thereafter.

3. In 2003, the Administration reviewed the ARF in the context of the development of a strategic framework for innovation and technology² and briefed Members on the result of the review³ in January 2005. The Panel agreed to the winding down of the ARF as proposed. Since then, we have been giving an update to Members on the operation of the ARF on a quarterly basis.

¹ At the Panel meeting on 11 December 2000, the Administration undertook to provide quarterly written reports on the progress of the ARF. This is the 66th quarterly report.
