

I am writing to support the Accredited Register (AR) Scheme proposed by HKPS-DCP.

The service recipients of clinical psychologist services are vulnerable individuals. The proposed AR scheme has shown clear indication on the standards of the training and supervision that a qualified clinical psychologist should have. It is necessary for a qualified clinical psychologist to have a bachelor's degree in psychology (or any equivalent academic background), and clinical supervision offered on-site by clinical psychologist.

The lack of AR Scheme in the society endangers these people and put the public health at risk.

I therefore support the proposal by HKPS-DCP as it is a standard based approach and look forward to seeing the implementation of the system as soon as possible.

Best regards,
