Panel on Financial Affairs

Meeting on 4 May 2020

Updated background brief on Financial Services Development Council

Purpose

This paper provides background information on the Financial Services Development Council ("FSDC") and summarizes the major views and concerns expressed by members on related matters during discussions at meetings of the Panel on Financial Affairs ("FA Panel") since 2013.

Background

Establishment of the Financial Services Development Council

2. The financial services industry is an important pillar of the Hong Kong economy, contributing to nearly one-fifth of the Gross Domestic Product and providing over 260 000 jobs which account for nearly 7% of the working population. It is also a major client of professional services and drives growth in other consumer industries. The Chief Executive ("CE") set up a preparatory task force ("PTF") in June 2012 to study the establishment of FSDC to identify areas for further development of the financial services industry in Hong Kong, and to offer views and suggestions to the Government on related areas. PTF submitted its report to the Government in December 2012 with recommendations on the mission, objectives, terms of reference, governance structure and modus operandi of FSDC. Having studied local and overseas experience, PTF recommended that FSDC should adopt a corporate structure and be constituted as a company limited by guarantee under the Companies Ordinance (Cap. 622)

("CO").<sup>1</sup> However, having regard to the concerns of the general public and Members of the Legislative Council ("LegCo") at the time about the status and role of FSDC, FSDC was established in January 2013 as a high-level, cross-sectoral government advisory body under the auspices of the Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau ("FSTB") to engage the financial services industry and formulate proposals to map out the strategic direction for the development of Hong Kong as an international financial centre. The objectives and terms of reference of FSDC are set out in Appendix I.

3. The Chairman<sup>2</sup> and members of FSDC's council are appointed by CE for a two-year term. The members of FSDC's council are drawn from the financial services industry and related sectors, and the Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury ("SFST") is an ex-official member. FSDC's work is underpinned by six committees namely, Policy Research Committee, Mainland Opportunities Committee, New Business Committee, Market Development Committee, Human Capital Committee, and Corporate Governance Committee.

Incorporation of the Financial Services Development Council

4. To enable FSDC to better fulfill its role as an advisor to the Government and a development body for the financial services sector in Hong Kong, the Government put forward a proposal in November 2017 to incorporate FSDC as a non-profit-making company limited by guarantee.<sup>3</sup> The Government considered that as an independent body, the incorporated FSDC would be able to recruit its own staff with professional knowledge and market experience, project an independent and distinct image when carrying out its role and functions, and would have more flexibility in recovering costs of its events to complement government funding to support its operation.

<sup>3</sup> Since its establishment, the operation of FSDC is supported by a Secretariat under the purview of the Financial Services Branch of the Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau ("FSTB"). The FSDC Secretariat comprises staff seconded from the Hong Kong Monetary Authority, Securities and Futures Commission and Hong Kong Trade Development Council, and government employees deployed from FSTB. The research work of FSDC has been taken up by FSDC members on a pro bono or part-time basis.

5. The name and functions of FSDC would remain unchanged after its incorporation. FSDC would continue to conduct strategic studies on further development of the financial services industry, provide advice to the Government, foster market development and nurture talent. The incorporated FSDC would be composed of a Board of Directors and a non-executive chairman, all to be appointed by CE or under her delegated authority. All directorships, except that of the Executive Director, would be non-remunerable. The membership of the Board of Directors of FSDC would continue to be drawn from the financial services industry and related sectors with SFST continue to serve as an ex-officio member of the Board. The operation of the incorporated FSDC would be supported by its own executive team headed by the Executive Director.

6. According to the Government, apart from meeting the statutory requirements of Hong Kong companies under CO, the incorporated FSDC would adopt additional accountability and transparency measures in accordance with the prevailing Government guidelines on the management and control of funding for subvented organizations, which include submission of annual work plans, budgets, annual reports and audited annual financial statements to the Government. The relevant control measures would be stipulated in the Memorandum of Administrative Arrangements as agreed between the Government and the incorporated FSDC. The incorporated FSDC would continue to provide annual briefings on its work to FA Panel to enable LegCo and the public to continue to monitor the performance of FSDC.

7. The funding of the incorporated FSDC would come entirely from the Government in the form of subvention. The annual operating expenditure of the incorporated FSDC was estimated at $32 million during the initial years, including $16.6 million for staff cost. In addition, there would be a one-off cost of about $11 million for setting up the new FSDC office.

8. With LegCo's approval for the subvention to FSDC which has been included in the 2018-2019 Estimates of Expenditure, FSDC was incorporated as a company limited by guarantee with effect from September 2018.<sup>4</sup>

<sup>4</sup> On 11 July 2018, CE appointed Mr Laurence LI Lu-jen as the Chairman of FSDC from 11 July 2018 to 16 January 2019, and for a term of two years as the Chairman of the Board of Directors upon the incorporation of FSDC as a company limited by guarantee. On 17 June 2019, FSDC appointed Mr Christopher HUI Ching-yu for a term of three years as the Executive Director and a new Board Director of FSDC.

The Work of the Financial Services Development Council

9. FSDC has published 41 research reports since its establishment in 2013. The reports cover a variety of topics. The list of the reports and their hyperlinks are provided in Appendix II.

10. Besides engaging in research, FSDC has been actively promoting the financial services industry of Hong Kong through sponsoring and participating in a range of marketing campaigns in collaboration with other stakeholders as well as working on the development of human capital in the industry through organizing events and talks like the Career Day and Practitioner Speakers Series for university students. In October 2016, FSDC officially launched the FSDC Career Website to provide university students and members of the public with information on the career options in the financial services industry.

Major views and concerns expressed by Members

11. Members raised concerns about the establishment of FSDC at the FA Panel meeting on 28 January 2013 during the briefing on the 2013 Policy Address on initiatives relating to financial services. FA Panel received briefings on the work of FSDC at the meetings on 4 February 2013, 6 January 2014, 13 April 2015, 4 January 2016, 3 January 2017 and 1 April 2019, and was consulted on the proposed incorporation of FSDC at the meeting on 6 November 2017. The major views and concerns expressed by members at the above meetings are summarized in the ensuing paragraphs.

Incorporation of the Financial Services Development Council as a company limited by guarantee

12. At the FA Panel meeting on 6 November 2017, some members expressed concern over the proposal of incorporating FSDC. They were of the view that the current institutional arrangement of FSDC with contribution from its members and support underpinned by professional secretariat staff from FSTB, the Hong Kong Monetary Authority and the Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC"), had indeed provided more flexibility in the operation and enabled FSDC to perform its functions effectively. In particular, these members were concerned that the incorporated FSDC would be asked to undertake hidden tasks and might be able to circumvent the monitoring of LegCo and the public. They called on the Administration to provide details of the institutional arrangements of the incorporated FSDC including its accountability, transparency and financial control measures; and to confirm whether such measures would be stated in the Article of Association of the incorporated FSDC.<sup>5</sup>

13. The Government responded that in line with current arrangements, representatives from the incorporated FSDC would continue to attend annual briefings on its work at meetings of FA Panel. The incorporated FSDC would be required to submit its annual work plan and financial statements for scrutiny by the Government. The accountability and transparency measures would follow prevailing guidelines on the management and control of Government funding for subvented organizations. Besides, annual reports which provided information on the work and financial status of the incorporated FSDC would be published and available to the public. The operation of the incorporated FSDC would be transparent, and the Article of Association would clearly state its duties and missions.

14. At the FA Panel meeting on 1 April 2019, members enquired about the division of work between FSDC and training institutions (e.g. the Hong Kong Institute of Bankers, the Vocational Training Council, etc.) regarding human capital development in the financial services industry, and asked if measures were in place to avoid overlapping of efforts among the various parties.

15. FSDC responded that to avoid possible overlapping of work on human capital development, FSDC had been collaborating with local tertiary institutions as far as possible. FSDC's talks and seminars would cover latest job roles, in addition to the traditional ones, in order to provide audience with a different perspective of career choices in the financial services industry.

Resources and corporate governance of the Financial Services Development Council

16. At the FA Panel meetings on 6 November 2017 and 1 April 2019, some members expressed concern about adequacy of financial resources for the incorporated FSDC to compete in the market for recruiting staff and to support its various functions, and how FSDC could seek additional funding

<sup>5</sup> Upon the request of the Panel on Financial Affairs ("FA Panel") at the meeting on 6 November 2017, the Administration has provided supplementary information on the institutional arrangements of the incorporated FSDC, including accountability, transparency and financial control measures (LC Paper no. CB(1)311/17-18(02), hyperlinked in Appendix III).

from the Government if necessary. They also sought details on the proposed funding arrangement for the incorporated FSDC.

17. The Government advised that the incorporated FSDC would have a headcount of around 13, including a remunerable position of an Executive Director. The incorporated FSDC could review its staffing arrangement and resources in light of its operational experience after incorporation, and consider seeking additional funding from the Government if necessary. The one-off set-up funding and the annual subvention for the incorporated FSDC would be included in the Government's Budget for 2018-2019 and subsequent years respectively.<sup>6</sup>

18. Given that members of the FSDC council and its committees were coming from the financial service industry and the incorporated FSDC could accept sponsorship when organizing commercial events, members enquired if FSDC had put in place a mechanism for declaration of interests by FSDC members to avoid possible conflicts of interest and to maintain credibility of FSDC.

19. The Government and FSDC responded that FSDC members were appointed from different sectors of the financial services industry having regard to their background, experience and expertise. Working groups were formed comprising members and subject experts from different backgrounds based on the topics under study. FSDC members were required to declare if they had potential conflict of interest on the research topics, and such declarations would be recorded in the meeting notes. Moreover, as a public organization, FSDC was covered under the Prevention of Bribery Ordinance (Cap. 201), and this would remain unchanged for the incorporated FSDC.

Research work of the Financial Services Development Council

Studies on assistance for small and medium-sized enterprises

20. During the briefings of FSDC's work at the FA Panel meetings, some members highlighted the need for FSDC to conduct in-depth study and propose measures to facilitate the development of the small and medium-sized enterprises ("SMEs") in the financial services industry, including SME securities firms, and to enable the industry to seize the opportunities arising from the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area ("Bay Area").

<sup>6</sup> The annual funding for the incorporated FSDC will be included in the estimate of expenditure of the Financial Services Branch of FSTB.

21. The Government and FSDC stressed that the role of FSDC was to advise on measures to enhance Hong Kong's business-friendly environment and capture new market opportunities for further development of the entire financial services sector taking a macro perspective rather than focusing on promoting the interests of particular groups of industry players like SMEs. FSDC had been engaging the industry through a bottom-up approach and taking into account the suggestions of various stakeholders. FSDC's Board of Directors and its various committees also included representatives from the securities industry. FSDC would continue to conduct research and formulate proposals to promote the further development of Hong Kong's financial services industry including the development of securities industry in the Bay Area, and to study measures to enhance human capital development.

Studies on green finance

22. With a view to facilitating the development of green finance in Hong Kong, some members urged FSDC to expedite study on subjects including exploring the feasibility of developing Hong Kong as a regional carbon trading platform, providing tax incentives to venture capital enterprises engaged in green finance business, awarding "Green Label" to green projects and formulating measures to encourage investors to invest in green projects. Some members also sought information on the criteria for determining a green bond.

23. FSDC explained that green finance could refer to capital raising and financial investments flowing into any projects identified with green characteristics. There were potentials in developing green finance in Hong Kong. Though green finance was a relatively new subject area, following the outcome of international climate negotiations in Paris in December 2015, governments round the world were proactively taking steps to develop green finance. The Central Government had put great emphasis on the subject, and had established a working group on green finance under the People's Bank of China. Moreover, with the promulgation of the Principles for Responsible Investment by the United Nations, more and more enterprises were incorporating green elements such as environmental, social and corporate governance issues into their investment projects.

24. As regards the criteria for determining a green bond, FSDC responded that rating agencies had developed the labelling/certification process to facilitate identification of "green characteristics" of bond products. A few local companies had issued green bonds in London given that the relevant labelling/certification market for green bonds in the United Kingdom was relatively more mature. The Government advised that it was working together with the Hong Kong Quality Assurance Agency in developing a Green Labelling Scheme for the implementation of green finance in Hong Kong.

Studies on development of financial technology

25. Some members suggested that FSDC should study the development of financial technology ("Fintech") in Hong Kong and formulate measures to facilitate SME securities firms in adopting Fintech in their business including providing financial support to these firms in developing Fintech.

26. The Government pointed out that the Financial Secretary had included in past Budgets a number of measures to facilitate the development of Fintech in Hong Kong, including the provision of financial support to Fintech start-ups and financial institutions. SFC had already set up a coordination office to liaise with the securities industry with a view to identifying innovative financial products and services that could be introduced in Hong Kong.

Studies on insurance business

27. To foster the development of insurance industry in Hong Kong, some members suggested that besides conducting research on the development of life insurance business, FSDC should consider carrying out research on the development of general insurance business in Hong Kong.

28. At the FA Panel meeting on 1 April 2019, some members sought FSDC's views on measures to attract companies in the fields of marine insurance, ship finance and dispute resolution services to establish in Hong Kong with a view to enhancing the development of high value-added maritime services in Hong Kong. Pointing out that Hong Kong insurers could set up service centres for processing claims and providing other services to policyholders in the Bay Area, members also enquired whether FSDC would conduct research on opportunities for Hong Kong arising from the development of the Bay Area including measures to expand the channels for the sale of Hong Kong's insurance products in the Bay Area.

29. FSDC pointed out that it had put forward recommendations to the Government on enhancing the development of the maritime insurance industry including negotiation with the China Insurance Regulatory Commission for a preferential "Special Administrative Region" status to Hong Kong registered insurers under the China Risk Oriented Solvency System for writing risks in the Mainland. The Government was also exploring the feasibility of providing tax exemption to insurance companies engaging in maritime insurance business. FSDC would continue to work with relevant regulators and Government bureaux/departments to review latest developments in the maritime insurance sector and explore development of high value-added maritime services in Hong Kong.

Studies on investor protection issues

30. While noting that the main objective of FSDC was to promote the development of Hong Kong's financial services industry, some members opined that it was equally important to ensure proper regulation of its financial activities and strengthen investor protection. These members suggested that FSDC should conduct research on market regulation and strengthening investor protection.

31. FSDC advised that Hong Kong's regulatory regime was sound and all listed entities in Hong Kong were required to comply with the Listing Rules and other relevant regulatory requirements. As regards investor protection, the Investor Education Centre was responsible for investor education in Hong Kong, while FSDC recognized the need in delivering a clear message to Hong Kong investors in investing overseas (including the Mainland) that they should be aware of the risks involved and seek to understand the relevant regulatory regimes including the regulations concerned and the investor protection measures available.

Timeframe for implementation of proposals put forth by the Financial Services Development Council

32. Members expressed concern on several occasions about the timeframe for taking forward the recommendations of FSDC, and enquired about the progress of the Government and the regulators in taking forward the various recommendations. Some members stressed the importance to implement FSDC's proposals in a timely manner as circumstances in the global and local financial markets were changing rapidly, and called on the Government to work out plans in this regard.

33. The Government advised that it would take time to examine the feasibility of FSDC's recommendations and consult a wide catchment of stakeholders on FSDC's proposals, some of which require amendments to legislation, such as proposals relating to the existing taxation and regulatory regimes in Hong Kong. Moreover, while some of FSDC's proposals could be pursued when the necessary legislative amendments were in place, others would hinge on the relevant policies and pace of financial market liberalization in the Mainland. Hence, it was necessary for the Government to observe the developments in related issues in considering the plans and timing for implementing these proposals.<sup>7</sup> FSDC added that it would closely monitor the progress in taking forward the various recommendations and inform the public of the latest development through FSDC's annual reports.

Council questions

34. LegCo Members raised questions relating to the establishment and work of FSDC at the Council meetings of 8 May 2013, 15 October 2014 and 25 March 2015. Issues covered in the questions include the specific targets of FSDC on the development of the banking industry, the measures to avoid duplication of efforts and fragmentation of responsibilities in FSDC and the financial regulatory authorities, FSDC's consultation work with the professional bodies relating to the financial services industry, arrangements for declaration of interests by members of FSDC, policy development proposals of FSDC on the Mainland/Hong Kong Closer Economic Partnership Arrangement, and FSDC's recommendations to address the manpower demand of the financial services industry. The questions and the Government's responses are provided in hyperlinks in Appendix III.

Latest development

35. The Government and FSDC will brief FA Panel at the meeting on 16 April 2020 on the work progress of FSDC during 2019.

Relevant papers

36. A list of relevant papers is in Appendix III.
