Hon Doreen KONG's motion on “Developing a personal data protection regime framework to address the challenges in the age of artificial intelligence”

Wording of the Motion

That in the face of the opportunities and challenges that artificial intelligence (‘AI’) technology may bring to the economy, politics and society, Hong Kong needs to develop a personal data protection regime framework that suits its own social development status, while having regard to the greatest common ground internationally and global leadership; in this connection, this Council urges the SAR Government to improve the personal data protection regime framework and implement the ‘people-centred’ and ‘AI-for-good’ concepts of governance, so as to address the challenges in the age of AI.
