At present, small and medium sized enterprises in Hong Kong consist of about five to ten employees only. Whenever containers arrive at the depot, the boss, supervisor, clerk and engineer of the company often have to help with the loading and unloading of cargoes. Likewise, they will do the same whenever the staff responsible for loading and unloading goods in the depot are absent from work. Should the Amendment Bill be enacted, the team spirit they perform in the above circumstances will be regarded as a breach of the law.
